THE FORTIETH YEAR.

The Foreign Society has just entered upon its fortieth year, having been organized in Louisville, Kentucky, October 21, 1875. In the thirty-nine years that are past its growth has far exceeded all that its founders dared to anticipate. The blessing of God in fullest measure has rested upon it from the first. The fortieth year should be better in every respect than any that has preceded it. The workers most urgently needed should be sent to the field. The equipment most needed should be provided. The debt that has been accumulating for six years should be paid in full. The income should be increased to half a million dollars this year. Because of the war in Europe and the consequent financial depression in some parts of the country, some may not feel as well able to give as in other years. But if the sacrificial spirit takes possession of us we can do all that is herein suggested and much more. The nations of Europe are giving billions of dollars and sending millions of men to the front. What these nations are doing should challenge the churches to do their very best. The same heroism and devotion on our part will result in much greater things than we have yet achieved or even imagined. We shall honor and please our God by giving as we are able in this fortieth year to extend the boundaries of the Redeemer's Kingdom. Let us remind ourselves that this year cannot be made glorious without wise planning and earnest effort on the part of all the friends of the work. And let us assure our hearts with the words of John Eliot, "Prayer and pains, with faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, can accomplish anything."

W. S. DICKINSON

Is the only man who has been an officer of the Society since its organization. He served first as treasurer, and later as one of the vice-presidents. More than once, when the Society needed money, he went into bank and borrowed it on his own credit. Mr. Dickinson is an elder of the Central Christian Church of Cincinnati, and a liberal supporter of every department of the church's work.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

We receive from Christ as a king; many give to Christ as a beggar.

Not to be interested in the Missions of the world is not to be interested in the Savior of the world.—I. M. Boswell, Chattanooga, Tennessee.

The church at Redwood Falls, Minnesota, will make the Every-Member Canvass and a regular budget for Missions. This is a move in the right direction.

We are taking a great deal of joy and pride in being a Living-link (supporting Mrs. Ray Rice), and expect to keep it up and do more from year to year.—Charles E. Cobbey, Omaha, Nebraska.

Mr. Kawamura, of Fukushima, Japan, is happy to report seven baptisms during the month of August. Three of them were his own children, two daughters and a son. He has been doing some real evangelistic work in the prisons at Fukushima.

The large attendance at the early prayer-service at the Atlanta Convention and the manifest enjoyment of the period of intercession each day are hopeful signs. More and more we are coming to realize that apart from our Lord we can do nothing, and that his grace is sufficient for us.

Capt. James Bartleson died at Olmstead, Illinois, July 3, 1914. He was eighty years of age. He was a Life Member of the Foreign Society. He remembered the cause from year to year with generous offerings. He loved the gospel and was faithful to the church.

The Every-Member Canvass Conference conducted by Bert Wilson was pronounced one of the most profitable features of any convention in our history. Those who were present were informed and thrilled. It remains for us to do what the Conference outlined.

The presentation of the missionaries and their messages are always of supreme interest. The people want to see their representatives on the field and to hear of their labors and difficulties and triumphs. Like cold water to a thirsty soul is good news from a far country.

F. Ellsworth Day and H. E. Winter make a strong evangelistic team for the general field. They are both genuine and enthusiastic missionary men. Their aim is to exalt the Christ, to preach the full gospel, to edify the church, and to save the lost. They may be addressed at Highland, Kansas.

Mrs. C. R. Scoville's singing at Atlanta was one of the most enjoyable features of the Convention. She came from Pueblo, Colorado, for the express purpose of assisting with her marvelous gifts as an evangelistic singer. She was heard with increasing pleasure from the first song to the last.

W. A. Shullenberger, the splendid minister at Mexico, Missouri, says: "I assure you that the Mexico church is heart and soul with our Foreign work, and we trust that in times to come, after we have enlarged our home base, that we will be able to do something still better for our Foreign Society."

The Society never had a better program than it had at Atlanta. Every speaker was present. The addresses were carefully prepared and well delivered. The Brotherhood owes much to men who work on addresses for a year and then attend the Convention at their own charges. The Lord is not forgetful of such work of faith and labor of love.

If missionary literature is read and studied, passion will be developed. The law of the mind is this: first, we know; then we feel; then we act. If people do not know they will feel no concern and will make no contribution of any kind to the enterprise. The MISSIONARY INTELLIGENCER and the books published by the Society should be widely read.

The half-hour prayer service in the banquet hall of the Ansley Hotel each morning of the week was delightful and profitable. The time was devoted to a Scripture lesson, singing, and prayer: there were no speeches. The large hall was filled, and the people went away quietly and with radiant faces. They had caught a glimpse of the King in his beauty.

Beginning with the year, no day should open or close without prayer for the work by all in our fellowship. A million people on their knees before God twice a day will mean much for the furtherance of the gospel. Prayer is the glorious privilege of every believer. The shut-ins, the poor, the young and aged alike can help by their supplication and intercession.

Some have criticised Japan, thinking that she rushed into the war without due regard to the consequences, and without invitation from England, her ally, to do so. It has also been asserted that one of the motives was to "get even" with Germany. It is due the Japanese people, we believe, to say that it is stated upon high authority that England, her ally, did request Japan's aid.

The way young men enter the armies of Europe should constrain young men to give their lives to extend the boundaries of the Kingdom of God. In Germany the officers are paid small salaries; the soldiers receive three half-pence a day, and there are deductions from that pittance. The feeling is that every man should be ready to give his life for the fatherland without any thought of profit to himself.

F. E. Rowe, the church treasurer of the High Street Church, Akron, Ohio, has occupied that position for nearly ten and a half years, and during that time he has sent the Foreign Society $11,290. Few treasurers have served longer, and no treasurer has served more faithfully. We congratulate the church, no less than ourselves, upon his long and faithful service. L. N. D. Wells is the minister of this good church.

On Children's Day the Franklin Circle Church, Cleveland, Ohio, presented Henry J. Cowell with a silver loving-cup as a recognition of his valuable services as secretary and treasurer of the school for thirty-five years. It was an honor most worthily bestowed. The missionary and benevolent budget of this church is $3,500. Its local budget is $7,560. It is gradually increasing its missionary budget.

A great famine in Southern China threatens to exceed that of the world-war in loss of life. Two millions face starvation within twelve months, it is said. Unprecedented floods in two provinces in South China is the cause of the famine. Those who feel disposed to help relieve the awful suffering can send contributions to the Foreign Society and the amounts will be properly transmitted, and will be wisely and efficiently used.

Joseph D. Armistead, of Cynthiana, Kentucky, sending $15 toward the support of an orphan at Bolenge, Africa, says: "This is raised by two of our women who conduct a boarding house. They placed a little kettle on the table of the sitting room and labeled it, 'Our Missionary Fund—this money supports an orphan in Africa.' The guests of the place voluntarily drop coins into it, which amount to about enough, and fully enough this time, to support the orphan.

Referring to the great war in Europe, G. W. Knepper, Ann Arbor, Michigan, says: "'Surely the wrath of man shall praise Thee,' wrote the psalmist, and I believe it. This is a time for hope and not despair. God is purging the world. We shall see such social, political, and moral reforms within the next decade as will astonish the world. The sword is destroying itself. The next conquest will be a united Christendom conquering in love a heathen world. God is not dead, and the world moves toward the light."

Those who heard George Innes at Atlanta will not soon forget his message. He was a prosperous business man, and at the call of God gave up his business and, after a tour of the world that he might see things as they are, he joined himself to the Missionary Society of the United Presbyterians without any compensation. Not only so, but he maintains an office of his own and employs a staff of helpers in the office, and pays all charges. He has had a great experience, and the simple recital of that experience makes a most profound impression.

One of our good missionary pastors, speaking of the situation in his church, says: "You would be surprised to know the large number of people through this section who oppose Missions. I tell them they believe in Missions all right, but it is the cost of Missions that they don't believe in." The tap-root of the anti-missionary spirit, in an overwhelming majority of cases, is selfishness. It is an indisposition to let loose of dollars. Such people oppose Missions as they do local improvements, and a better paid ministry, and a better equipped Sunday-school. It is because they have not cultivated the fine art of the open hand.

This is a time when emphasis should be laid upon the necessity of maintaining the missionary work of the churches at its full strength. The war should not interfere. Some of our missionaries are in lands which are directly or indirectly governed by the warring nations. There is some danger that absorption in questions developed by the war will lead to forgetfulness of the great work which the churches have been conducting. That work has been built up through a long series of years. Schools and hospitals on the foreign field can no more be closed at such a time than similar institutions at home. Never before have non-Christian people been so ready to receive the gospel. A transformation of startling magnitude is taking place. God is summoning his church to mold the character of the coming life. It is unthinkable that our churches should fail to do their full duty in a time like the present.

H. J. COWELL, CLEVELAND, OHIO.

This splendid man is the missionary secretary of the Franklin Circle Church, Cleveland, Ohio.

He began sending money to the Foreign Society in 1882, when he sent $7.36 from the Sunday-school. The Sunday-school has grown in numbers and power and liberality. The school made its best record in 1910, when it sent $275. The school observed Children's Day every year since 1882, except one, and that was in 1886. The school has averaged $126 per year for thirty-two years, and the total offerings during these years amount to $4,022.39. Is there another school among us with as good a record?

In the eighties he received a certificate of Life Membership from the Foreign Society. He has certainly made a good member. At that time the honorable and lamented A. J. Marvin was the splendid superintendent. The certificate of Life Membership has hung in the Sunday-school room all these years. We now promote him to a Life Directorship, and send him a certificate accordingly. May he serve in this capacity even longer than as a Life Member!

After a long and honorable career, he says, "I think it a good plan after my experience to have some one besides the church treasurer to look after the missionary collection." That is to say, he believes in a special missionary treasurer. In this judgment we fully concur.

The following is the record of the church and Sunday-school since 1882. It will be observed the Sunday-school began to give to Missions eleven years before the Church:

Few churches with a more consistent record. It now supports the whole station at Nantungchow, China. Let us express the hope that more of our larger churches will come to support a station each, or take up some larger work. We are anxious to have such a missionary secretary in every church.

AN INTERESTING LETTER FROM AFRICA.

To-day H. C. Hobgood started on a two months' itineration. He expects to visit a large portion of the Lotumbe field. I expect he will cover between six and seven hundred miles. He goes well prepared for the trip, and we trust he will make the whole journey in safety. It was a trip similar to this which cost us R. Ray Eldred last year. Mr. Hobgood has gone in a larger canoe, and has some very valuable men with him. He will make part of the trip by river and part he will walk.

Last Sunday, July 12, there were twenty-four persons baptized here at Lotumbe. These had come on the long trip from Tumba. Part of them had walked two hundred miles. After they were baptized they walked the two hundred miles back. People who are willing to make such journeys, we feel, will make stalwart Christians. — Herbert Smith.

July 18, 1914.

FROM LOTUMBE.

On August 16, Herbert Smith wrote again, as follows:

"I do not know how this letter will reach you. I expect it will be much delayed. However, at this time I would like to write that we are quite safe and in good health. There has been some fighting about one hundred miles below Bolenge, on the opposite side of the river, but I think we all will be quite safe. At Lotumbe everything is as usual. The church is well attended, and I do not think the natives will become very excited by the disappearance of all form of civilized government. I hardly think there will be any uprising among the natives. They have no arms, and they are not a united people by any means.

"We are fairly well provided. We can do considerable gardening and so have plenty to eat. There is no need for any one to worry about us. We are all in the Lord's work and he will care for us.

"The school work and the evangelistic work will have to be cut down because we cannot get any money for the time being. But I believe the local church with prayers and faith will come through this better for the trial.

"We expect Mr. Hobgood back from his trip this week. I sent to him when we heard of the war. I hope he will come in health."

AN IDEAL METHOD.

The ideal method of forwarding missionary offerings is to send each month. The Foreign Society pays all its missionaries monthly. Sometimes it is compelled to borrow money to do this. The church at Mexico, Missouri, W. A. Shullenberger, minister, is an example of the better way. The church supports a missionary on the foreign field, as do many other churches. The following is this church's record for the past year:

October 2, 1913	$50 00
October 30, 1913	50 00
November 28, 1913	50 00
December 26, 1913	50 00
January 29, 1914	50 00
February 28, 1914	50 00
March 31, 1914	50 00

April 29, 1914	50 00
May 27, 1914	50 00
July 3, 1914	50 00
July 30, 1914	50 00
August 29, 1914	50 00
September 24, 1914	50 00

Total $650 00

The Euclid Avenue Church, Cleveland, Ohio, J. H. Goldner, minister, is another splendid example. We commend the method of these churches to all our churches, especially those that support a missionary on the foreign field or that have adopted the Budget Plan. The following is the Euclid Avenue Church's record for the past year:

February 9, 1914	$100 00
March 2, 1914	100 00
March 16, 1914	100 00
April 13, 1914	100 00
May 8, 1914	100 00
June 11, 1914	133 33
June 12, 1914	600 00
July 24, 1914	66 67
August 12, 1914	100 00
September 9, 1914	100 00

Total $1,500 00

There are other churches that have adopted this method. We refer to these as examples. It would be well if this was the general custom of the churches.

The Commission of the Foreign Society to the Mission Field.

LETTER No. 2.

Our commission has enjoyed a delightful day in Tokyo with a group of the missionaries while the good ship was being coaled for the journey to Hongkong. We had hoped to spend a couple of days in conference with the missionaries at Karuizawa, in the mountains, where they are taking a few weeks of rest and escape from the almost unbearable heat of Tokyo in August. Our ship, however, was taken over at Yokohama by the British admiralty for war transport purposes, and we proceed to-night direct to Hongkong, China, a British port. We will spend the month of November in Japan, just before sailing for America.

We were met at the dock in Yokohama last evening by Mr. McCoy, Mr. Erskine, Miss Clawson, Miss Johnson, and Miss Edith Parker, all of whom had come down from Karuizawa to greet us and spend the day in conference and fellowship with us.

The brief but delightful day spent with these enthusiastic workers gave us a very happy introduction to Japan.

The missionaries were very anxious that we should catch a certain train for Tokyo, twenty-five miles away, and we occupied just eighteen minutes in reaching it from the dock. During this brief time we had our luggage examined in the customs house and traveled seven blocks. It was between the customs house and the train that we got our first real taste of Japanese life. We made the distance by means of the famous jinrikishas, or two-wheeled carriages drawn by men. These little conveyances were invented by an American missionary years ago, and let no American boast that we had the first "Pull-man-car," for these are the original. There were eight of us all told, and we made a very interesting procession as we sailed along through the busy streets. The jinrikisha has wheels a trifle smaller than an ordinary buggy wheel, a neat little box with a seat for one, and two slender shafts between which the "ricksha" man runs. The wheels are rubber-tired, there are good springs, and the riding is very comfortable. A strange feeling of embarrassment comes over one at first because of the sensation of being pulled by a man instead of a horse. Muscular little fellows these human steeds are, with wonderful powers of endurance.

The shafts are dropped to the ground, one climbs in, the little man takes his place between the shafts, lifts them from the ground and makes off at top speed, dodging here and there for an opening as he makes his way rapidly through the crowded streets. At first one has very grave fears, especially if he is heavy, that an unexpected jolt may tip him over backwards, and suspend the "ricksha" man in the air between the shafts. All three members of the commission are rather above the average in avoirdupois, but Mr. Doan was the only one who came to grief. His runner was rather old and became winded before the journey was half completed, thus necessitating transfer to another ricksha. The ricksha men are garbed in tight-fitting garments akin to undershirt and knee drawers, and their feet are shod with heavy socks having felt bottoms. The sock is always divided so that there is a place for the large toe separate from the others. A straw or fiber hat is worn which has the appearance of an old-fashioned butterbowl inverted. These little men charge at the rate of about twenty cents an hour for their services.

The first impression of Tokyo is that you are in fairyland. Everything is decidedly different from anything else one has ever seen. In the first place, the people are very small, and then their clothing, appearance, houses, and customs in general are so very foreign to anything seen at home. While there is a sprinkling of American clothes among the men, the great majority of them wear the favorite kimona or some adaptation of it. All of the women that you see on the street wear the kimona and a large, colored sash high around the waist. One of the most striking things is the ceaseless but musical clatter of the wooden clogs on the pavement. The clog is kept up from one to two inches above the ground by little wooden strips on the under side. These clogs are usually held on the foot by slipping the toes under a small strap or cord, which is so divided that the great toe is separated from the rest. This enables them to hold the clog in the grip of the toes, which is made possible by the division in the sock also. This is the hot season (exceedingly hot here) and each man or woman carries a fan, which is in almost constant use. The dress of these people is very sensible and comfortable, and comports with the simple Japanese homes and the custom of sitting on the floor. We found the principal streets of Tokyo crowded with people at the evening time. The women and children are especially picturesque. Besides the modern electric lights which are much used in Tokyo, the little colored paper lanterns are in evidence everywhere on the streets. Even the policeman carries one in front of him, suspended from a little stick. He also carries a fan, and has a dagger in his belt. Tokyo has good electric street-car service, and it is here that the politeness and good nature of the people are most manifest. The conductor, instead of shouting, "Move up to the front!" says very gently, "It pains me to remind you, kind sir, but it would accommodate much if you could step slightly forward." When asking for the fare, he says, "Honorable sir, forgive me for taking your fare."

We stayed overnight at the Girls' School in Takinogawa, one of the Tokyo suburbs, and were the guests of Misses Clawson and Parker. Much of to-day has been spent in conference and talking of the work. The insight we have received will aid us much in our later visit to Tokyo. We had no time to visit any of our other places of work in Tokyo, save the educational center. Disciples may well be proud of the equipment and workers in this important work. It is vacation time, and the students are all away, but we got a good idea of the grounds and buildings. Mr. McCoy is just finishing the Bible College building, which stands very close to the old Governor Drake Building. This older structure will now be used entirely for the large Middle School, which is under the direction of our able Japanese, Dean Ishakawa. Mr. McCoy will continue in charge of the Bible College, which will have excellent equipment in the new building. The new department of Domestic Science and Music for the Girls' School is also being completed. Miss Parker will have charge of this. It stands just opposite the Margaret K. Long Girls' School building. Miss Clawson has had charge of the Girls' School from the beginning. It would be very difficult indeed to get more utility at the very moderate price of these buildings. The workers are most enthusiastic over the outlook for their work, and are completely absorbed in their plans for the future.

This afternoon we have visited the great temple of the Goddess of Mercy in the heart of Tokyo, perhaps the most frequented temple in all Japan. The temple is approached through a long temple street, crowded with little stores or bazaars on either side. This street is temple property, and a great income comes from the rentals. Another street near at hand is also owned by the temple, and is entirely taken up by licensed houses of prostitution. The approach to the temple proper is made beneath one of the famous Japanese wooden arches. On either side of the gateway are the huge wooden guardian demons erected to keep the evil spirits away from the temple. These seem also to be looked upon as objects of worship. Inside the gateway the path is lined on either side with tiny booths, where rice and other grains are sold to be fed to the doves, which are evident on all sides. It is supposed that much religious merit attaches itself to the feeding of the birds. The temple is anything but beautiful, and the colorings are disappointing. The whole structure is dirty and spotted everywhere with the droppings of the doves.

Inside the main part of the temple is the famous image of the Goddess of Mercy, which has been hidden from all eyes for two hundred years, it is said. We could see the sleek shaven priests sitting cross-legged on the floor in the interior, smoking their cigarettes.

Numbers of people came constantly to worship before the shrine of the goddess. Before this place and every auxiliary Buddha, of which the temple is filled, is a great wooden collection-box with wooden bars across the top. Into these boxes every visitor tosses a coin before beginning to worship. After this has been done, a low bow is made, while the hands are held in front of the face, palms together, and a prayer is muttered.

To the right of the main shrine is a peculiar idol which is one of the most worshiped in Japan. It is a wooden image of Buddha in a sitting posture. This image is supposed to have miraculous healing qualities, and different parts of the body have been so constantly rubbed by worshipers desiring aid that there is little left of them. One hand is completely gone, the eyes and all features of the face are worn away, and the knees and abdomen are likewise nearly gone.

While we were standing near, a group of people came up and worshiped the idol. It seemed that the group consisted of a mother and four children, one of them a babe in arms. The place where the eyes of the idol had formerly been were rubbed by the mother, and then her hand pressed over the eyes of her babe. Then each member of the family selected some part of the image's body which corresponded to some troublesome part of their own, and there was much rubbing and massaging. The pitiful superstition and depressing hopelessness of the whole scene cut one to the quick. No doubt this image, looked upon as the embodiment of healing, is in reality the dispenser of all sorts of eye and skin diseases.

Let us not console ourselves with the thought that Japan is a wonderfully civilized nation and scarcely needs Christianity. It is doubtful if there is any country in the world whose common people are more steeped in idolatry than those of Japan. The upper classes, especially the educated, are breaking away from their old idols, but the vast majority of these have taken no religion in the place of that given up.

STEPHEN J. COREY.

Tokyo, Japan, August 7, 1914.

Extracts from Personal Letter from Secretary Stephen J. Corey.

In a personal letter to the office of the Foreign Society, under date of August 12, when the commission to the Mission fields was "nearing Hongkong" on the Empress of Japan, of the Canadian-Pacific S. S. Line, Secretary Stephen J. Corey says:

"We have had a mighty fine voyage so far. The sea has been smooth and everything fine. We feel greatly disturbed over this terrible war. It has come on so suddenly that it seems to us most impossible. I do not think it will interfere with our journey as far as the Philippine Islands, China, and Japan are concerned. The British ships are being pulled off for aid in the naval service, but no doubt the American and Japanese lines will continue all right.

"We have had very little news, and are anxious to get to Manila, where things will not be censored. This ship becomes a transport for the English navy when we reach Hongkong, and the officers and men are all very anxious, not knowing where they will have to go. We hope to get a boat to Manila in a day or so, and will be glad to be on American soil. This ship canceled its calls at Nagasaki, Kobe, and Shanghai, and came on here direct.

"I am so anxious to hear how the war is affecting America and whether there is any serious financial panic or not. At Yokohama we saw a news item stating that there had been a panic on the New York exchange. I hope A. E. Cory was out of Russia before the war broke out.

"The nations of Europe will certainly be more willing to listen to Secretary Bryan and America about disarmament and a peace tribunal when this is over. If the hip-pockets of the nations had not been filled with loaded pistols they would not have rushed at each others' throats on such slight provocation. All the nations involved certainly stand to lose beyond estimate. It is horrible!

"We had a day in Yokohama and Tokyo, and enjoyed it much. McCoy, Erskine, Miss Clawson, Miss Parker, and Miss Johnson were down from Karuizawa to meet us. We saw the school property at Takinogawa and had a preparatory conference with the missionaries. The Domestic Science Department of the Girls' School and the new Bible College building are nearly complete. They are fine, a credit to any Mission. The contractors have used the very best of materials, and have done the work economically. The missionaries are very enthusiastic over the school outlook.

"I saw Ishakawa. He is elated over his Middle School graduates. Three of them made the entrance examinations for the Imperial University, collegiate department.

"Mr. Fred E. Hagin is suffering much with rheumatism, and Mrs. Madden is very poorly. Miss Armbruster is not well.

"I will be anxious to know about the Convention. Do hope the receipts are looking good."—STEPHEN J. COREY.

The Atlanta Convention.

The Foreign Society rendered its program on Monday, October 12. The devotional services were led by Leroy M. Anderson, of Macon, Ga.; J. T. Boone, of Jacksonville, Fla., and by H. O. Pritchard, of Eureka, Ill. S. P. Spiegel, of Alabama, and W. E. M. Hackleman, of Indianapolis, led the singing. Mrs. Charles Reign Scoville, of Chicago, Miss Fred Fillmore and Miss Ida Mae Hanna, of Cincinnati, helped much with special songs.

The following missionaries were present and spoke: Dr. C. C. Drummond, of India, who spoke of the medical work in that field; H. C. Saum, of India, who spoke on urgent opportunities in India; Leslie Wolfe, of Manila, who spoke on the outlook in the Philippines; W. R. Holder, of Monieka, who spoke on the work on the Congo. Addresses were delivered as follows: One on "The Will of God for the Church," by J. D. Armistead, of Cynthiana, Kentucky; one on "The Will of God for the Investment of Life on the Field," by A. W. Fortune, of Lexington, Kentucky; one on "The Will of God for the Minister as a Missionary Leader," by L. N. D. Wells, of Akron, Ohio, and one on "Why I Think Missions a Good Paying Business," by George Innes, of Philadelphia.

In the symposium on "Money and Foreign Missions," led by F. M. Rains, E. S. Jouett, of Louisville, spoke on "The Individual Living-link;" Dr. George E. Miller, of India, spoke on

"Money and the Hospital;" Oron E. Scott, of St. Louis, spoke on "Money and the Press;" R. E. Elmore, of Cincinnati, spoke on "Money and the Native Evangelists."

In the conference on the Every-Member Canvass, conducted by Bert Wilson, the following took part: John H. Booth, of Kansas City, spoke on "The Why of the Every-Member Canvass;" F. E. Smith, of Muncie, Indiana, on "The Preparation of the Church;" J. H. Goldner, of Cleveland, on "The Preparation of the Canvassers;" S. E. Fisher, of Champaign, Illinois, on "Making the Canvass;" J. A. Canby, of Uhrichsville, Ohio, on "Some Definite Results;" Bert Wilson, of Kansas City, on "The Literature for the Canvass;" George Innes, of Philadelphia, on "The Canvass of a Whole Communion;" George A. Campbell, of Hannibal, Missouri, on "The Spiritual Results of the Canvass."

The Period of Intercession came in the middle of the morning service. H. C. Garrison, of Danville, Kentucky, led the thought of the audience. E. A. Cole, of Pittsburgh, and H. P. Atkins, of Alabama, assisted.

The Society's program was of a very high character throughout. Every speaker made thorough preparation and had a message worthy of any assembly in Christendom. George Innes, a member of the United Presbyterian Church, came a long distance to assist the Society. His address will be remembered for a long time to come.

The European War and Missions.

It may be that the income of some supporters of the work will be reduced during the period of the war, but it is certain that the income of others will be very much increased. If we take the people as a whole, their ability to give has not been seriously impaired, nor is it likely to be. The public press states that the business of the country is almost normal again.

A Scriptural proverb says, "If the ax is dull, one must put forth more strength." If the conditions under which we live and labor are unfavorable, greater exertions must be made. This is the time to sound the heroic note. This is the time in which the spirit of self-sacrifice should be manifested. If there must be economy, it should not be allowed to affect our gifts to missions. The men and women at the front must be supported. It is impossible to recall them. The work must go forward. The schools and hospitals and orphanages and churches cannot be closed.

The Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions has sent a letter to all the ministers of that communion asking for an advance of sixty per cent in the contributions of the year. Only one has answered that conditions being what they are, the church he serves cannot give more than it has been giving. Many have said that they will raise twice as much this year as in any previous year. What the Presbyterians are doing, we can do.

When we think of how little we have been giving, it is scarcely believable that there should be any serious thought of retrenchment. As long as we are giving only one dollar on an average for all missionary purposes put together, it cannot be said that we are giving as the Lord has prospered us. The Apostle reminds us of the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ that, though he was rich, yet for our sakes he became poor, that we through his poverty might become rich. If we are filled with His spirit we shall do far more this year than we have ever done to make Him known where His name has never been heard. It is said of the churches of Macedonia that in much proof of affliction the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded into the riches of their liberality. The Apostle says that "according to their power I bear witness, yea, and beyond their power, they gave of their own accord." What the Christians of that day did should challenge us to do equally well in this day.

A Profitable Visit.

Bruce L. Kershner, writing from Manila under date of September 12, concerning the visit of the Commission to the mission fields, among other things, says:

"They have done for us things which we never could have done for ourselves. We have practically a rejuvenated mission because of their visit. Our educational problem is much simplified. We are badly in need of more men, and hope that we may have at least one before very long; but in the meanwhile, by concentrating on the most important points, must keep things going. I think we are baptizing more converts than ever before; our great problem is to develop and conserve the results of our work. Raising up an effective native leadership is our great task. On this point especially we appreciate the endorsement and counsel of the Commission.

"J. B. Daugherty is making a tremendous success of our press work. Our mission, Tagalog, paper has a circulation twice as large as that of any other Tagalog paper in the Islands. The Commission gave us some helpful counsel for our press. The hospital, too, and all other lines of the work were reviewed, and in such a helpful, sympathetic way that we feel greatly encouraged.

"The fellowship with the members of the Commission was a great pleasure to us. We cannot tell you how much good we have received from them, and wish we might have kept them with us indefinitely."

Report of Bolenge Evangelists.

A. F. HENSEY.

On Friday, June 19, the Bolenge evangelists returned for their Quarterly Conference. All had interesting reports of their experiences. Bongolo, of Injolo, told of a number of Catholic young men who were earnest inquirers. He also brought us good news of the veteran evangelist, Stephen Bonjolongo, well known to many at home. The latter had been very ill, and we had heard here of his death. But far away from any medical help the Christians of Injolo betook themselves to prayer in his behalf, and when all hope seemed vain, slowly life came back to Bonjolongo.

Bitumba had another hair's breadth escape to relate. It is commonly understood that hippopotami will not attack people unless wounded, but our teachers in Ubangi and Ngiri are attacked repeatedly by them when they have not been wounded. On this occasion the hippo upset the canoe, and our people had to sleep on a sand bank.

Lolomoi told of a visit he had made to the savage Bankuça, in the interior of the Ngiri. These untamed folk have never paid any tax to the government, and are wont to receive strangers with arrows and spears, but they gave kindly heed to the messengers of the Cross.

As a result of the three months' work, there were 192 baptisms, a large number of whom were from the Ibenza of the Ngiri River.

"1. That the convention adopt this Report as a whole.

"2. That the convention commend the action of the Foreign Christian Missionary Society in its appointment of the special Commission now in service on the field.

"3. That the convention recommend to the churches the Every-Member Canvass, the Living-link program of missionary offerings, and $500,000 as their goal for 1915.

"4. That the convention send greetings of good will and encouragement to our brethren of England and Australia and Canada who are coöperating with us in the task of world-wide evangelism.

THIRTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Foreign Christian Missionary Society.

REPORT FROM THE HOME BASE.

There has been a steady growth of the work of the Foreign Society for the past thirty-nine years. It has grown like an oak. Year by year its roots strike deeper into the confidence and affections of an appreciative brotherhood, and each succeeding year sees its limbs of influence reach out farther to bless the nations of the earth. God has shown the smile of His approval by blessing every advance step the Society has undertaken.

During the past six years the receipts have advanced each year. They have leaped from $274,324 to $464,149.16. There has also been a very considerable expansion on the fields during this period. The number of native workers has about doubled. Eighty-four new buildings have been provided, or about fourteen each year, or more than one each month. There has also been a considerable increase in the real estate held by the Society. This is fortunate, for real estate is advancing in value in all parts of the world.

FINANCIAL EXHIBIT.

The following is the financial exhibit for the year ending September 30, 1914:

	1913	1914	Gain
Number of contributing churches	3,122	3,187	65
Number of contributing Sunday-schools	4,051	4,122	71
Number of contributing C. E. Societies..	720	530	*190
Number of individual offerings	1,276	1,598	322
Amounts	$434,183 37	$464,149 16	$29,965 79

Comparing the receipts from different sources shows the following:

	1913	1914	Gain
Churches	$129,871 11	$141,604 87	$11,733 76
Sunday-schools	92,853 42	92,753 17	*100 25
Christian Endeavor Societies	9,045 26	7,302 32	*1,742 94
Individuals and Million Dollar Campaign Fund	101,376 42	102,551 92	1,175 50
Miscellaneous	43,181 84	66,927 36	23,745 52
Annuities	49,386 75	47,682 38	*1,704 37
Bequests	8,468 57	5,327 14	*3,141 43

*Loss.

Gain in Regular Receipts, $34,811.59; loss in Annuities, $1,704.37; loss in Bequests, $3,141.43. Churches reaching their apportionment, 962; Sunday-schools reaching their apportionment, 1,166.

It will be seen that there are some regrettable losses, but we are encouraged over the gains we are able to report.

THE CHURCH OFFERINGS.

The churches, as churches, gave $141,604.87, an increase of $11,733.76 over last year. There was also a gain of 65 contributing churches. It is not often we have the pleasure of reporting a gain both in the number of contributing churches and also in the amount given. The average offering for each church was $44.43, a gain of $2.78.

The number of churches reaching their apportionment is 962. Every church should plan to reach its apportionment each year. We planned, and worked, and prayed for $150,000 from the churches as churches. It will be seen that the offerings fell short $8,395.13. The failure should only nerve us to try the harder again. It must be kept constantly in mind that the churches are the chief dependence for the support of the work. More comes from them than from any other one source.

THE SUNDAY-SCHOOLS.

The Sunday-schools gave $92,753.17. The number of contributing schools is 4,122. The returns from the schools were not up to expectations. It was hoped they would give not less than $100,000. The number of schools reaching their apportionment was 1,166, and they constitute the Roll of Honor for the year. The schools should give more. They are growing in numbers, and many are growing in attendance. They can be brought to a larger interest in Foreign Missions.

THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETIES.

The Endeavorers gave $7,302.32, a loss of $1,742.94. There was also a loss of 190 contributing societies. This is a real disappointment to the officers of the Foreign Society, as it is to all the friends of Foreign Missions, and to the friends of the Endeavorers as well. Many of the societies have stood nobly by the Damoh Orphanage, one of the greatest institutions conducted by our people in all the world. Besides this orphanage, they have helped to support native evangelists, Bible women, and their important and much-needed workers on the field.

PERSONAL OFFERINGS.

The individual gifts are a splendid source of strength to the work. These gifts come next to the churches in the amounts. These offerings can and should be greatly increased. In the year they amounted to $102,551.92, a gain of $1,175.50. The number of friends giving in this way was 1,598, a gain of 322.

One friend gave $17,000, another gave $10,000, and still another gave $5,000.

NEW LIVING-LINKS.

The faithfulness of the churches to the Living-link method is a source of great encouragement to the missionaries and to our people generally. The Foreign Society has been the pioneer among our people in this propaganda. The churches are more and more pleased with this plan. The Living-link churches have helped to lift the whole standard of giving among all the churches. This plan makes a great appeal to the local church. The preachers have made valuable use of the Living-link in arousing a larger interest in the churches.

There have been 28 new Living-links enrolled during the year, as follows:

Sometimes the money has been raised to support a Living-link, and for some seemingly good reason has not been sent in, and we permit it to remain on the roll. But it is regarded fair and just to drop a church from the Living-link rank if it fails for two consecutive years. We are sure the churches will regard this as just to all concerned. Any church giving $600 or more is ranked as a Living-link.

THE ANNUITY PLAN.

The Annuity Plan of the Society continues to grow. The receipts to this fund during the past year amounted to $47,682.38, a loss of $1,704.37. The Annuity Plan is no new device. Annuities are older than Christianity. For more than 2,000 years this plan has been recognized by law and government. The plan has for centuries been held in the highest public esteem, and has the endorsement of experience, of wealth, and of affection.

Nearly 600 of our people have contributed over $500,000 on this plan to the work of the Foreign Society. Is it not strange that so few generous and prudent people avail themselves of the advantages of this plan? While the Annuity Plan has been a help and convenience to our people, it has at the same time been an untold blessing to the work and workers on the foreign field. One friend has sent a dozen gifts, and another ten, and a large number have sent more than once. We have never heard a word of complaint about this plan. It gives universal satisfaction.

The following is a statement of the fund for the past year

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The Executive Committee appointed at Toronto has served throughout the year. There has been one, and only one, change in the personnel. On the 20th of February Professor S. M. Jefferson, one of the Vice-Presidents, was called to his reward. Professor Jefferson served the Society as a member of the Executive Committee for more than a quarter of a century, first as Recording Secretary, and later as Vice-President. He seldom failed to be present at the regular or called meetings. He was never absent without a sufficient reason. He made it his business to keep informed as to the fields and their needs and as to the missionaries and their work. He had a high ideal as to the qualifications of the men and women that should be sent out. He insisted that only the best and the best-equipped should be employed. The Society has sustained a great loss in his death. David William Teachout, of Cleveland, was chosen to fill the vacant place on the Committee.

THE COMMISSION TO THE ORIENT.

After the Toronto Convention three men were appointed a Commission to visit the Philippines, China, and Japan, to study the work on the field. Stephen J. Corey, R. A. Doan, and W. C. Bower constitute the Commission. Stephen J. Corey has been an officer of the Society for nine years, and knows the missionaries and the work as seen from the Mission Rooms. R. A. Doan is a successful business man, the teacher of the largest Men's Bible Class in the world, an earnest Christian, and a missionary enthusiast. He goes at his own charges. Mrs. Doan and their son, Austin, are with him. Professor Bower has been a pastor for ten years, and is a teacher of missions. The College of the Bible generously released him on full salary for four months. The missionaries have been asking for such a body of men to visit the fields and to confer with them on the ground. These men will bring cheer and courage and hope to the missionaries, to the native workers, and to the churches. They will learn many things about the work, and their report and findings will be invaluable.

Mr. Doan and family propose to visit India and Palestine and Africa on their way home. The other members are planning to reach Cincinnati about Christmas.

MOVEMENTS OF THE MISSIONARIES.

The following have returned to the field after their furloughs: Miss Edna V. Eck and Herbert and Mrs. Smith, to Africa; Frank Garrett, to China; C. E. Benlehr and David O. and Mrs. Cunningham, to India; P. A. and Mrs. Davey, and Miss Mary Rioch, to Japan; Bruce L. and Mrs. Kershner, to the Philippines; James C. and Mrs. Ogden, to Tibet. The following have come home on furlough: W. R. Holder, from Africa; George B. and Mrs. Baird, Miss Alma Favors, W. R. and Mrs. Hunt, and Miss Emma A. Lyon, from China; Dr. C. C. and Mrs. Drummmond and H. C. and Mrs. Saum, from India; Mrs. F. E. Hagin, from Japan, and Leslie and Mrs. Wolfe, from the Philippines. W. R. Holder came home before his furlough was due on account of the condition of his eyes. Mrs. F. E. Hagin came to place one of her children in school. A. R. and Mrs. Bowman have gone from Nantungchow to Wuhu. D. E. and Mrs. Dannenberg have gone from Nanking to Chuchow. Miss Edna P. Dale will supply in the Girls' School in Nanking while Miss Lyon is on furlough. C. H. Plopper has gone from Nanking to Nantungchow. A. W. and Mrs. Place, of Japan, resigned on account of the serious illness of Mr. Place's father.

NEW MISSIONARIES.

The following have left for the field: Miss Irene Frances Banta, Miss Margaret E. Darst, E. P. Gish, Dr. G. L. and Mrs. Hagman, Miss Mina Van Cleave, C. H. Hamilton, to China; J. E. and Mrs. Moody, to India; and L. D. and Mrs. Oliphant, to Japan. Miss Van Cleave is now Mrs. Frank C. Buck, of Luchowfu. Dr. Hamilton goes to the University of Nanking to fill the chair of Philosophy. E. P. Gish goes to take charge of the evangelistic work in and around Nanking. Dr. Hagman goes to work in the C. C. Chapman Hospital in Nantungchow.

DR. W. E. MACKLIN.

Dr. Macklin entered China, January 29, 1886, and has been engaged in healing the sick, and in preaching the gospel, and in preparing literature ever since. Dr. Macklin is one of the ablest and most productive missionaries living. He has given himself absolutely to the Chinese, and he has his reward. He is honored and loved in all parts of the Republic. His Christly work for the poorest of the poor stirred the phlegmatic Chinese more than even his medical work. After twenty-eight years of service as a medical missionary he wishes to be a missionary at large, with freedom to go when and where he feels he can do most for the Kingdom. He and his associates in the mission believe that he will accomplish most if he is not confined to one locality and to one form of work. Dr. Macklin is an effective man on the platform and is in great demand as a speaker on religious, political, and social themes. His knowledge of Chinese history and literature and religions enables him to drive the great truths of the gospel home to the hearts and consciences of the people with great effect. Dr. Macklin wields a powerful pen: what he writes is read.

Dr. Macklin is now in Australasia, visiting the churches and speaking to them about the changes and progress in China. The warm-hearted brethren beneath the Southern Cross have given him a royal welcome. Mrs. Macklin needed a change of air and scenes. He and she will return refreshed, invigorated, and rejuvenated.

NANKING HOSPITAL.

Owing to the fact that a Medical School for East China has been established as a department of the University of Nanking, the China Mission unanimously recommended that the six other societies supporting the Medical School be permitted to buy an interest in our hospital. This means that the hospital will belong to the university, and that it will be greatly enlarged and that a much larger medical work will be done in Nanking than ever before. Furthermore, Dr. Macklin, who started the medical work in Nanking and who has had charge of it ever since, insisted that he was not able to do the work he did in other years, and that what was proposed by the mission was the wisest thing to do. The Executive Committee acted on the recommendation of the mission and sold an interest in the hospital to the other co-operating societies. The money received in payment is being used in Nanking to provide homes and other needed equipment.

The Society has reason for rejoicing over the establishment of the East China Medical School, for that means that hundreds of qualified physicians will be sent out to minister to their own people. Not only so, but a work will be done in Nanking that could not be done by Dr. Macklin or any other living man single-handed. The work the Society has done has made this larger work under better conditions possible.

Each society having a share in the Medical School of the University supplies one physician as a member of the Faculty, and contributes six hundred dollars towards the running expenses. Dr. James Butchart gave up his great work in Luchowfu to serve as the Society's representative on the teaching staff of the Medical School.

David William Teachout has given five thousand dollars to provide an Operating Pavilion.

DR. AND MRS. ROYAL J. DYE.

The way not being open for Dr. and Mrs. Dye to return to the Congo, it has been decided to send them to Aparri, Philippine Islands. Aparri greatly needs an evangelist, a physician, and a teacher. Dr. and Mrs. Dye can supply these needs. While in America Dr. Dye has rendered the Society most valuable service. He has helped in the Million Dollar Campaign and in the Men and Millions Movement. He has attended conventions and visited churches and colleges. There are few men living who have such power over audiences. Mrs. Dye wrote the book entitled, "Bolenge, a Story of Gospel Triumphs on the Congo," a book that has had a remarkable sale and that still sells every day. Mrs. Dye is a speaker of marvelous power. Her address at the Topeka Convention on the cablegram, "Lotumbe Impossible," made Lotumbe not only possible, but a glorious reality. If Mrs. Dye can stand the climate, the Executive Committee believes that Aparri will become as famous among our people as Bolenge.

LAND AND BUILDINGS.

The following amounts have been paid in the year: $1,540.97 on the Bible College in Bolenge; $627.46 for a boathouse; $592.86 on the home in Longa; $704.51 on the home in Lotumbe; $2,616.07 on the hospital and house in Monieka; $4,500 for a chapel in Luchowfu; $1,000 for an addition to the Girls' School building in Nanking; $10,000 for three homes in Nanking; $5,000 for Union Medical College, Nanking; $1,000 for home in Chuchow; $1,200 on Woman's Training School in Nanking; $500 for chapel on the island of Tsung Ming; $4,331.04 for chapel in Union, Cuba; $3,250 on school buildings in Damoh; $1,500 to complete payments on the press building in Jubulpore; $4,000 for bungalow in Mungeli; $10,000 for Girls' School building in Tokyo; $5,000 for lot in Osaka; $600 balance on hospital in Laoag; $7,900 on hospital in Manila; $3,225 for lot for Bible College in Manila; $593.10 balance on home in Vigan; $1,500 for buildings in Batang. Total, $71,181.01.

THE UNIVERSITY OF NANKING.

The enrollment for the first semester was 533; for the second semester, 470. This was because of the uncertainty of the political situation. A class of six was graduated and have received their degrees and diplomas from the Regents of the University of the State of New York. All six have entered mission work.

A very encouraging series of special meetings was conducted by the Faculty, resulting in the conversion of about seventy-five students, among whom were some of the strongest men in the institution. The students have been active in special work for the Government school students, and very friendly and hopeful relations have been established.

The East China Union Medical College, which was organized as a separate institution, has in the year become the Medical Department of the University under its Boards of Trustees and Managers. Seven societies are co-operating in this department. Eight physicians from the best medical schools in the United States are giving all their time to the department or are studying the language preparatory for work in it.

The first year of the Language School has been an unqualified success. Forty-eight students were in attendance. Some twenty Chinese teachers were employed.

The Teachers' Training and Normal Department has made substantial progress. A beginning in manual training has been made with good results. The troubles and losses due to the Second Revolution left Nanking desolate. Among those who suffered severely were the old Chinese classics teachers, men with little or no Western education, and consequently with limited possibilities under the new system of education. The Relief Committee agreed to make a grant of $500, that the university might take some into the Teachers' Training Department and give them a short course in Western learning and in methods of teaching. Nearly three hundred applied, and, upon examination, seventy-five were selected.

The afforestation and colonization work, under Professor Bailie, is developing very hopefully. The fighting in Purple Mountain and the consequent inability of his men to care for the trees there, especially to water them during the drought, as well as a fire started by the soldiers, injured many trees in parts of the reserve. The gentry and officials at Lai An Hsien, thirty miles north of Nanking, have granted nearly 10,000 acres of waste land to the Colonization Association, and Professor Bailie has been mapping it out and making arrangements to settle refugee families on it.

The revolt of certain leaders of the South against Yuan Shi Kai centered in Nanking. The city was thoroughly pillaged, and the large suburb outside the walls by the steamer landing was totally destroyed. Thousands of families and stores have had all their movable effects taken, and hundreds of women and girls suffered violence at the hands of the soldiers. Some 5,000 women and girls were given refuge and protection in the various school, hospital, and other mission compounds. The missionaries who remained through the siege and looting were of the very greatest service in protecting and comforting the distracted citizens. Their sympathetic and unselfish help has made a most favorable situation among all classes, and the university has a large place in their regard. Some seven hundred women and girls were given protection in the buildings of the university. As a slight token of their appreciation they have presented the university with a "Bien" or tablet.

The American Baptist Foreign Mission Society has entered the university. As that society has an institution of its own in Shanghai, in which part of the work done in Nanking is done, it has taken half a share only in the university. Four communions own and control the university, as follows: the Disciples of Christ, the Presbyterians, the Methodists, and Baptists. Seven communions maintain the Medical School.

TIBET.

The Revolution in China made it necessary for the missionaries to leave Batang. They did this on the advice of ministers and consuls and Chinese friends. In their absence the lumber and bricks which they had prepared for homes and for the chapel, school, and hospital have been carried away. Their homes were looted, and medicines and surgical instruments destroyed. The missionaries are back at their post, and have to begin work anew. The good work they did when they were there and the reputation they made will greatly aid them now.

ACTION OF THE BOARD OF MINISTERIAL RELIEF.

The Board of Ministerial Relief has asked the privilege of contributing to the support of retired and dependent missionaries of the Society. That Board is contributing as follows: $30 a month to M. D. and Mrs. Adams; $30 a month to Mrs. T. J. Arnold; $30 a month to E. S. and Dr. Nina Stevens, and $25 a month to Mrs. Emma R. Wharton. The payments began in November, 1913. Further amounts will be paid as soon as the receipts justify it. The money is paid through the Society and not directly. The Society wishes to keep in touch with its former missionaries as long as they live, and the missionaries wish to keep in touch with the Society. The Executive Committee recorded an expression of its gratitude to the Board of Ministerial Relief for its gracious action.

THE ELDRED CHILDREN.

At the Toronto Convention a considerable sum of money was raised and pledged for the support of the three Eldred boys. This money and the pledges were handed over to the Board of Ministerial Relief. At the time the boys were in the Wharton Memorial Home, in Hiram, Ohio. The Board of Ministerial Relief arranged to pay forty-five dollars a month for their maintenance. Soon after Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Morrison, of Springfield, Illinois, asked the privilege of taking these boys into their home and treating them as if they were their own. With the consent of all concerned the boys were taken to Springfield. Dr. and Mrs. Morrison receive nothing for their maintenance. It is a pleasure to them to supply the place of the parents who died on the field. The money given for these boys will be kept invested by the Board of Ministerial Relief till the boys need it, or until they are of age. It is believed that this is in harmony with the wishes of the donors.

THE JUDSON CENTENNIAL.

The General Missionary Convention of the American Baptists was formed May 21, 1814. The year before, Adoniram and Ann Judson landed in Rangoon, Burma, and began the work that has immortalized their names. On the 25th of June, in Tremont Temple, Boston, the Judson Centennial was celebrated. All the missionary societies on the continent were invited to participate in the celebration. The President of the Society represented the Society and conveyed its greetings and best wishes to our Baptist brethren.

REPORT OF BERT WILSON.

1. Immediately following the Toronto Convention, three weeks were spent in West Virginia raising money for a new launch for the work in Africa. This boat will run up the rivers tributary to the Congo. Five thousand and five dollars ($5,005) were raised. This, with $1,000 subscribed by a lady in Illinois, will build the boat. Dr. Dye and Herbert Smith were on the trip in West Virginia.

2. During the year eleven churches visited have become Living-links. Some of these were assisted in raising the money; others secured the amounts a few weeks later. Some of these churches were visited in company with a missionary; others were visited alone. It is only fair to say that a few of these churches might have become Living-links without our assistance. The churches are as follows: Harristown, Ill.; Charleston, Ill.; Niles, Ohio; Compton Heights, St. Louis, Mo.; King City, Mo.; Plattsburg, Mo.; First Church, Omaha, Neb.; Albia, Iowa; Steubenville, Ohio; Kansas, Ill.; Mt. Pleasant, Johnson County, Indiana. Other churches visited promise to become Living-links next year.

3. Several of our colleges were visited during the year and conferences held with students about missionary work. A few well-equipped young men and women volunteered and are now under appointment by the Board.

4. Several district and state conventions have been attended, where the claims of Foreign Missions have been presented. Literature has been distributed and a number of missionary books sold.

5. The month of May was spent in Texas assisting in the campaign of the Men and Millions Movement.

6. During the year a large number of personal visits have been made. Some of these have resulted in cash gifts to the work or signed pledges for future payments. Some annuity money has been received and annuity pledges made. There is every hope for an increased source of income for the Society along this line.

7. On September 1st we moved to Kansas City, where Western headquarters for the Society will be maintained and a more active work in the Central Western States will be conducted.

THE MEN AND MILLIONS MOVEMENT.

Since the last convention the Society has continued its fellowship in the Men and Millions Movement. The aim of the movement is to enlist a thousand new workers for Christ's service, and to raise more than six millions in five years over and above the regular receipts. Of this amount two and a half millions are for missions and benevolence, and three and a half millions for education. R. A. Long has pledged one million; other pledges of one hundred thousand dollars and less have been made. As a result of the visit of the Men and Millions Movement team to Texas, that State has pledged over four hundred thousand dollars. The fund is growing, and not only the fund, but interest in the movement and all the causes it represents. The challenge that Christ is making to the churches and to each and every individual is the challenge to prayer and deepest consecration. While the movement speaks in large terms of men and money, if it is to succeed it must speak in mightier terms of our relation to Christ.

LITERATURE.

The Missionary Intelligencer has had a steady growth in point of excellency in its contents and also in its subscription list. Its readers have had the benefit of regular reports from the fields, statements as to the difficulties and encouragements of the workers, and helpful contributions on many phases of missionary life. One new book was published, "The Cross in Japan," by F. E. Hagin, and many orders filled for "Epoch Makers of Modern Missions," "A West Pointer in the Land of the Mikado," and "The Life of G. L. Wharton." Students of the theme for this year will be glad to know that a new supply of "The Social Work of Christian Missions," by Alva W. Taylor, is being printed. Two very interesting series of pamphlets were prepared for distribution on "The Fields Occupied by the Foreign Christian Missionary Society," and "The Kinds of Work Being Done by the Foreign Christian Missionary Society." Hundreds of leaflets were printed and sent out.

MISSION STUDY.

Over six thousand missionary books were sold during this past year. Much interest was shown in the study of "The New Era in Foreign Missions." Classes were organized and much helpful and attractive literature sent out. Material for use in the pulpit, at the prayer-meeting service, in Young People's Societies and the Sunday-school was distributed. This year the United Missionary Program has for its theme "The Social Force of Christian Missions," with the invigorating slogan, "Christ for Every Life and All of Life." Literature for all departments of church activity will be available. It is hoped that this united campaign will be the most successful and profitable in which we have ever engaged.

THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETIES.

It is encouraging to note the increased interest of our Endeavorers in the study of missions. A goodly number of societies have had Mission Study classes using the various text-books, and there were many calls for the literature prepared for the "New Era in Asia" program.

Besides the regular contributions to the Damoh Orphanage, the Endeavor Societies have given a special fund toward the outfit and travel-expense of Dr. and Mrs. Barger, who will go to Africa. Much interest has been shown in missionary demonstrations. These little dramatizations have been most instructive and pleasing to the young people. It is hoped that many more societies will use them during this year. We want to be of all possible help to our young people in their plans for missionary education.

THE WAR IN EUROPE.

The war is affecting the work at home and abroad; how long it will be permitted to continue, no one can tell. A time like this calls upon Christian people to engage in the ministry of intercession on behalf of the victims and the authors of this awful scourge, and to put forth extraordinary exertions so that the work of Christ may prosper exceedingly. Being out of the war zone and having no part in the struggle, we are in a position to help the cause of our Redeemer as no other nation is.

THE PRICE OF SUCCESS.

The friends of the work should ever bear in mind that there is nothing so costly as success. As the work grows more workers must be employed, more buildings must be erected, and additional equipment must be provided. Those who will read the reports from the fields will understand the nature and extent and variety of the work for whose support the Society is responsible. As the work grows the expenditure for its maintenance also grows. For this reason those who are giving to the treasury of the Society must continue to give, and give on a larger scale than before. If they will do this the work will be sustained and enlarged. This is as it should be. The Lord is multiplying us and enriching us continually, and he is doing this that we may do more for the furtherance of the interests of the Kingdom. The divine law is that where much is given, there much shall be required.

THE DEAD.

"Who comes to lift the cross instead?
Who takes the standard from the dead?"

Among the number that have passed into the heavenly life are three missionaries—Mrs. Frank Garrett and James Ware, both of China, and Mrs. Julius Cramer, of Copenhagen, Denmark. Mrs. Garrett gave seventeen years to China. She came home full of plans for entering school to prepare for work in Nanking in the new Union Bible College for Women. She looked forward to this work for years and was preparing for it. She loved the Chinese and felt that it was a rare privilege to work for them. A few days before she saw the King in his beauty she wrote: "I feel as never before the despair of a soul without Christ, the Comforter. He has been so immeasurably precious to me. I long for the day when every soul may know the joy of his presence." James Ware entered the service of the Society in 1890, and continued in its service until the end. The executive committee placed upon record its appreciation of his blameless life and of his good work as an evangelist, teacher, and translator. What was said of Barnabas can be said of James Ware, "He was a good man and full of the Holy Spirit and faith." Mrs. Cramer was in the service of the Society for twenty-five years. She died in the faith of Christ. Two business men who were Life Directors died in the year—J. P. Hieronymus, of Atlanta, Illinois, and A. B. Kellogg, of Buffalo, New York. The following ministers of the gospel have gone to their reward: H. N. Allen, B. M. Blount, H. D. Clark, S. D. Dutcher, J. J. Lockhart, W. H. Martin, W. O. Moore, J. S. Shouse, J. H. Smart, B. E. Utz. Some of these men had finished their work; others were in the prime of life and in the midst of their largest usefulness. They all died in faith and the sure and certain hope of eternal life.

THE PRIVILEGE OF PRAYER.

The gracious promise is that if two of you shall agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of the Father who is in heaven. It is the privilege of Christian people to pray the Lord of the harvest to send forth laborers into His harvest; to intercede on behalf of the missionaries, that the Spirit of Jehovah may rest upon them, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of Jehovah; that He would speak peace to the nations to the end that His servants may prosecute their work most effectively; that He would open the hearts of the people, as He opened Lydia's heart, to give heed to the things that are spoken; that He would guide His servants, to the end that they may so live and so speak that multitudes may repent and believe the gospel. This is one way in which every Christian can assist the work. Those who can not go to the field and who do not have much to give may have a real share in the missionary labors of the church if they will give themselves to the mighty ministry of prayer. Those who live in small and obscure places can link their lives to the great forward movements of humanity. The cause of missions would be advanced enormously and beyond our calculation if all Christians would really intercede in prayer for the speedy conversion of the world.

THE GOAL.

The promise of our Lord, confirmed with an oath, is that to Him every knee shall bow, and every tongue shall confess to God. All kings shall fall down before Him; all nations shall serve Him. The church is His one and only agent to bring this to pass. This is the first duty of the church, which He has purchased with His own blood. As Alexander Campbell said, "The church is essentially and necessarily a missionary institution; and until the whole human race has heard the gospel, this will be the church's transcendent and paramount work, duty, privilege, and honor." Every church and every member of every church should have a worthy part in bringing all men everywhere to accept Jesus as the Christ, the Son of the living God. Until all are enlisted in the furtherance of the gospel we can not rightfully claim that we have reproduced primitive apostolic Christianity. God help us to do our part that we may be found among those who shall say, "Unto Him that sitteth on the throne, and unto the Lamb, be the blessing and the honor and the dominion for ever and ever."

"O Father, haste the promised hour
 When at His feet shall lie
 All rule, authority, and power
 Beneath the ample sky;
 When He shall reign from pole to pole
 The Lord of every human soul!"

INTRODUCTION.

The object of this brief review of the year's work is not so much to outline the work being carried on in each station, or to publish to any great extent the reports of individual missionaries, but rather to give the evangelistic message of these reports. Your investments in India have been worth while; there is reaping as well as sowing; the India mission is progressing; it is making converts, and is going to make many more in the near future. "I believe I have seen more signs of growth and progress, more matters to inspire hope in the affairs of the mission this year than ever before, and I believe we are about to see a great awakening and turning to Christ," writes one of our missionaries. Another senior missionary writes, "This has been in many respects the best year of my work in India." So it is with very profound gratitude to God for the blessings of the year that we wish to indicate to you some special things that are a call to thanksgiving and to a larger service in behalf of this land.

The India Mission of the Disciples of Christ.

One can not write of the work of the Foreign Christian Missionary Society in India without making mention of the larger work of which it is a part. First, there needs to be something said about our mission as a whole, that is the work of both the Foreign Christian Missionary Society and the Christian Woman's Board of Missions. These two societies are one in India, known as the India Mission of the Disciples of Christ. During the year one secretary has served the stations of both societies; one auditor has audited the account books of both societies; all the business has been transacted by one body, and all the rules and policies regulating the work and our relations with our co-workers are fast being unified. During the year two lady missionaries of the Foreign Christian Missionary Society have been managing institutions financed by the Christian Woman's Board of Missions, and three missionaries of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions have been employed in evangelistic work in a Foreign Christian Missionary Society station. Before this report goes to press a central treasurer will be receiving and distributing all the funds sent to India by each society. We are glad God has put it into our hearts to practice the doctrine that we as a people are famous for preaching. We look forth also to the growth of this oneness till it will not be necessary to give partial reports of the work of the India mission by publishing one report pertaining to its Foreign Christian Missionary Society part and another pertaining to its Christian Woman's Board of Missions part.

A Great Year in India Missions.

This has been an exceptional year in the history of India missions. Two things mark the work at large in India: first, a large increase in the number of baptisms, and second, a great activity in organization for larger and more effective work. In neither of these respects has our own mission lagged behind. Compared with other years we have had a large number of baptisms, and the year stands out as one of co-operation with other missions working in this area as well as one of re-organization within our own mission.

National Missionary Council.

Following the Edinburgh Conference, Dr. Mott visited India and held conferences in several centers. This resulted in the organization of a National Missionary Council representing all the many mission fields in India and the various kinds of missionary work carried on in them. In addition to this National Council, eight Provincial Councils of Missions were formed. Our mission is strongly represented in the Mid-India Representative Council of Missions, in the area of which the work of our mission is being carried on. From the beginning Dr. Brown, of our mission in Jubbulpore, has been active in the Dr. Mott scheme of organization of all India. He was chosen secretary of the provincial council of this area, and also was appointed a representative from this area to the National Missionary Council. The councils carry on their work through sub-committees. Two of these committees are presided over by representatives of our mission. One of the members of the National Literature Committee is a representative of our mission. This is a field in which our mission can exert a large influence in India. We have no desire to publish these facts, but matters of such far-reaching importance can not be fairly omitted from a statement of our work.

Recension of the Old Testament.

Another general work in which our mission has been privileged to have a large share is the recension of the Hindi Old Testament. A committee of five was chosen to revise the Hindi translation of the Old Testament. Dr. Brown, of Jubbulpore, was chosen recension secretary. This involved a large amount of work and responsibility. Dr. Brown writes: "My work as recension secretary not only demanded that I should consider every point raised by any member of the committee in regard to making a change in the text and make careful comparisons with the original text, but it also meant the duty of making the final copy for the printer and of reading the proof as the book went through the press. This work has taken practically one-fourth of my missionary time since it has been begun. It is with a feeling of great rejoicing that I see the completion of the work." There is a number of languages and dialects in India, but none of them covers a larger area than does the Hindi. This work of placing the Old Testament in a simpler language that people of ordinary intelligence and education can more readily understand is a great work for the Kingdom.

Other Inter-Mission Activities.

A sanatorium is being erected for female tubercular patients. It is intended to serve all the missionary societies of this area. The Mid-India Missionary Association, an organization of twenty societies of this province, officially requested our mission to take the initiative in this work. Neighboring missions intend to send their patients into this institution and to care for them, or pay for their support. This sanatorium is being erected in Pendra Road, and being financed by the Christian Woman's Board of Missions.

In the findings of the Dr. Mott conferences the establishment of a first-class college for India women is urged as one of the great needs of this district. Our mission has decided to supply this need. The Christian Woman's Board of Missions has voted its Burgess Memorial Fund for the purchase of a site and erection of the necessary buildings. The proposition on which this college is being promoted is that it shall be a union institution, in the management and financing of which the missions of this area shall join.

The Summer School for evangelists, in connection with our Bible College, made a forward stride again this year. It, too, is taking on the character of a union summer conference. More than one hundred evangelists of our mission and other missions working about Jubbulpore were in regular attendance, and at some of the special sessions as many as four hundred were present.

Our mission press in Jubbulpore continues to widen its sphere of influence. The literature for the National Christian Endeavor is published and distributed here, also much of that of the All-India Sunday School Union. Each year adds to the number of books published and offered to the public. "The Life of Mohammed," written by O. J. Grainger, and published this year, has met with a large sale. Our weekly paper, The Christian Helper, is one of the best patronized papers among Christians in North India. A monthly paper has also been issued for the Friends' Mission.

There are many other activities that can merely be mentioned. There are the two annual gatherings of Indian Christians, one in Jubbulpore and one in the Chatisgurha district; the annual meetings of the four union missionary organizations, viz., the Educational Union, the Medical Association, the Mid-India Missionary Association, and the Mid-India Representative Council of Missions; the Young Men's Christian Association and Young Women's Christian Association in Jubbulpore, which do a great work among both Christians and non-Christians; the All-India Sunday School Union; the National Christian Endeavor Society; the Woman's Christian Temperance Union; the North India Christian Tract and Book Society; the British and Foreign Bible Society,—all working in this area and depending in a large measure upon the activities of the missionaries and missionary societies. Our mission has fully shared in the labors of all these important organizations by furnishing leaders and committeemen, speakers for public meetings and conferences, graders of Sunday-school examination manuscripts, writers of books in the vernacular for publication, etc.

In the area in which we work it is generally recognized that no mission is more eager and ready to go into co-operative work than our own. We believe in this way we do a large amount of work for the Kingdom, and that in this way we can best further the spirit of Christian union.

From time to time you read of great mass movements and other startling things happening in the India mission fields. Take warning. Get ready to manage and finance large things in your own territory. A co-operating national missionary force means power all along the line. God is in this movement. We thank Him for the active spirit of co-operation at work in our midst. We pray Him to humble us and continue to use us as a mission far beyond the boundaries of the daily routines in our various stations.

The Work in Our Stations.

I believe our missionaries realize that in the mission there must be but one department, and that for the missionary there is but one vocation, and that is evangelism. The missionaries seem to feel that there must be less broadcast sowing and more reaping. I think there can not have been another year when the missionaries were more intent on winning converts than in the year under review. In our two last annual conventions the one anxiety was to see the work so planned as to result in converts within the year. Again, when our missionaries met at the hills for their period of rest and study, they held a series of meetings, assembling twice a week in prayer and study over the question, "Why are we not winning more converts?"

It needs to be remembered that all missionary work is evangelistic. Education removes superstition and makes it possible for the people to understand the Christian religion. Medical service opens the heart to the gospel message. Every other form of missionary activity has a direct or indirect part in the evangelism of this land. In this review of the year's work in our stations we prefer to consider every department of work from the viewpoint of direct evangelism and to note only those things that indicate the method, extent, and result of the teaching and preaching of the gospel message.

EVANGELISM IN MEDICAL WORK.

Damoh.—A hospital and dispensary, in charge of Dr. Mary McGavran and three Indian women assistants.

Harda.—A hospital and dispensary, in charge of Dr. C. C. Drummond and two assistants. In October, 1913, the serious condition of Dr. Drummond's health compelled his going on furlough. Miss Fleming returned in December and took charge of this work.

Mungeli.—In Mungeli and out-stations there are two hospitals and four dispensaries. For more than a year there has been no medical missionary for this large work. The assistant, Hira Lal, who has carried on this heavy work under the supervision of Mr. Grainger, deserves much praise. On two occasions Dr. Mary Longdon went out from Bilaspur and assisted in difficult operations.

The evangelistic work carried on by the medical staff is similar in all the stations. They teach the people in the hospital and at the dispensary, in the homes of the sick and in the streets of the villages. As to the direct evangelistic work at the dispensaries, Miss Fleming writes: "The gospel is preached each morning at the dispensary. When a few patients have gathered there is a service for them, and while they are being treated others come and there is a service for them, and in this way we can sometimes have several services during the work of the morning. The patients, as a rule, listen well, and some of the village people especially seem very much interested. Gospels, tracts, and song-books are always kept in stock, and a large number have been sold during the year. One patient, who was very sick when he came to us and who died in the hospital soon after, talked often of his faith in Christ and of his desire to become a Christian should he get well. Another also talked of his willingness and desire to become a Christian, and though we were disappointed to see him go away without being baptized, yet who knows? The faith of this man as he goes back among his people may count more for the Kingdom than if he had been baptized and become an outcast from his people."

Dr. McGavran writes: "Among our visits to the villages two or three stand out as memorable. One day we went to Bungaon, where Mr. and Mrs. Alexander were in camp. They had told the people for days before that the Doctor Miss Sahib is coming on market day. A chair and table were placed for me in the midst of the crowd, and for three hours we gave our attention to persons wanting medicines for themselves or for their sick ones at home, at times stopping to sing and have a talk by one of the evangelists. Other evangelists were preaching in other parts of the market. We all had books to sell. I sold books while I gave out medicines. A small fee was taken from almost every person receiving medicine. Many a person hearing the preaching bought a book for his son with considerable pride that, although he could not read, yet he had a son in school that could." The people came to buy and sell, and some of them from long distances, too, but they always have time to stop and talk with some one who seems interested in them, and they really show much patience in listening to the preaching. The evangelists take a box of medicines with them when on tour, and the medical missionaries make a habit of visiting villages, especially on market days and at points where they can join the evangelists. Dr. McGavran made regular weekly visits to two villages throughout the cool season.

Mr. Grainger writes, "At our out-station, Barela, the work of our hospital has been fruitful in several baptisms." Again, concerning the hospital at Mungeli he writes: "Our assistant, Hira Lal, has made the hospital one of our great evangelistic influences. Every one who comes into the hospital is thoroughly taught by Hira Lal and his assistants. Quite a number of converts this year have been reached in this way."

The compiler of this review wishes to add another word for the good work done in the hospitals and dispensaries. The first woman he baptized in India was a patient in the Damoh hospital. She was a diseased woman turned out to die. She found eternal life in the Kingdom of God because there is a hospital in Damoh. He saw this woman a few weeks ago. She is a well and happy woman, earning an honest living in the Woman's Home at Kulpahar. She did not recognize him at first, but when he had gone out of the sewing room she came to the missionary in charge and said, "That was the sahib who gave me a bath" (baptized me). Before he had left the home, out of the gratitude of her heart what do you suppose that poor woman did but to leave for him at the bungalow a handkerchief and an embroidered neck bow. On this same visit to Kulpahar he had the joy of baptizing another woman who had been rescued by the Damoh hospital. Love responds to love, and thus the medical staff wins souls.

EVANGELISM IN EDUCATIONAL WORK.

Bilaspur.—A middle and primary school for boys in Bilaspur, and two schools in out-stations. P. A. Sherman in charge of them.

Damoh.—A middle and primary school at the Boys' Orphanage, and a school for low-caste boys in the town and one for girls. Miss Josepha Franklin in charge.

Harda.—A high school and middle school, a large school for girls, and five primary schools. H. A. Eicher and Miss Stella Franklin in charge. About the middle of the year Miss Franklin was transferred to Mungeli. Miss Fleming, on returning from furlough, took charge of the girls' school.

Jubbulpore.—The Bible College, and a school for girls in the out-station, Barela. Dr. G. W. Brown is principal of the Bible College. W. C. Macdougall also taught in the college when not on evangelistic tour, and at periods took the students into the district for practical training in evangelistic work. Miss Mayme Jackson has had charge of the girls' school in Barela, and has taught the wives of the Bible College students and taken them into the town for practical training in zenana work.

Mungeli.—A school for boys and one for girls in Mungeli, and four schools in out-stations. The first part of the year Mr. Grainger had charge of all the work in this large station. In October, Miss Stella Franklin was transferred to Mungeli to take charge of these schools and to work in the homes of the pupils.

In a heathen land secular education is almost as essential to effective evangelism as is religious instruction. It is next to impossible to convince an ignorant man by argument that his faith is false, but his son can be educated away from this faith comparatively easy. Secular education is one of the destructive elements at work in the mission field, and the teaching of the Bible in the schools is a constructive element. Missionaries in charge of school work should not be thought of as educationalists, but as evangelists.

The schools in Harda have done a great evangelistic work in the past year. In this small town of about ten thousand people there are eight Christian schools at work casting the thought of the rising generation. Think what this means! Schools in which the proud Marati boys and girls, the sons of Mohammedans, and the sons of Hindus study the Bible daily year after year; a high school in which the aristocracy of Harda and the district study the Bible daily in both the vernacular and in the English language; schools in the low-caste districts, among a depressed people, where the Government can not find teachers with enough love for humanity to open schools. In all these schools there are daily prayers and contact with Christian teachers, in addition to the daily period of Bible teaching. The Bible teaching is furthermore supplemented with sixteen Sunday schools.

Mr. Eicher, principal of the high school, writes: "This year the examinations in the Bible, given with the annual promotion examinations, were entered into with interest. Some really excellent papers were handed in by Hindu and Mohammedan boys. Almost all received a passing grade, and the papers showed intelligence and real interest in the teachings of Jesus."

The evangelists report instances indicating the influence of the high school on evangelistic work. Among them is the following: "Accompanied by some high school boys, the evangelists upon entering a certain village were taken to the home of an aristocratic Brahman, and here they met with the unusual courtesy of first being received into the Brahman's private quarters and given to drink out of his vessels. Following this courteous reception they were politely seated that they might sing, preach, and sell Christian literature among this class of people that are usually so hard to reach. All this happened because the son of a Brahman had been attending our high school." A single act of this kind means much. Evangelists once received with honor into the homes of the influential Brahman class have won the respect and confidence of the village.

Again, concerning the primary "schools in Harda the missionary in charge writes: "Many of the Hindu boys take great pleasure in committing choice parables and reciting other passages of Scripture. The influence of this teaching is being seen in these boys in the homes from which they come." Concerning the work in the girls' school the missionary has the following to say: "The growing interest being taken in female education is very encouraging. We are now reaching the girls in the three languages spoken in Harda, viz., Hindi, Urdu, and Marati. All are receiving good training in Christian education, especially in the teachings of Christ. A large per cent of the girls are from high-caste families, and the school has a large influence in the community. The girls are also regular in attending Sunday-school."

Miss Jackson, who is engaged in zenana work in Jubbulpore, and who has a splendid opportunity in the homes of the people to observe the influence of education, writes: "Daily I see numbers of girls going to school, and I know that they will learn that the world is big and contains many interesting things besides their clothes, jewelry, and food. Learning the true nature of the world, faith in their idols and sacred trees and objects will lessen. In the mission school they learn faith in the true God. I see in these school girls a great hope for India."

The mission has no set course of religious instruction for its schools. The missionary soon learns by experience what are the best Bible lessons for the particular schools under his charge. The following, written by Miss Josepha Franklin in regard to her work in Damoh, may be taken as an instance of the thoroughness with which the Bible is taught in our schools. She writes: "Particular attention has been given to the Bible work during the year. I myself have taught daily four classes, and once a week I have reviewed each of the classes in which the school-master teaches the Bible lessons. During the year 1913 the school learned the main incidents given in the Old Testament, up to the entrance of the children of Israel into Canaan. As an indication of the thoroughness of this work, it may be noted that in the examination of the International Sunday School Lessons, conducted by the All-India Sunday School Union, the Damoh Sunday-school won a prize shield. In 1914 the Sunday-school lessons have been largely from the Gospel of Luke, the entire Gospel has been read through several times, and the boys have memorized many verses, besides being able to tell the substance of the lessons. Another feature of the study has been the use in the daily prayers of a series of responsive readings on the lessons taught. As a result the boys are able to repeat in the Bible language the answers to several hundred questions taken from the Gospel of Luke. During the year there has been a great growth in the ability of the boys to understand the Bible and to apply its teachings to their own character and conduct." The above applies primarily to the Bible teaching among our Christian boys in the orphanage, but the same lessons adapted to the ability of the pupils have been taught to the non-Christian pupils in our own town schools.

In Jubbulpore, with the exception of a girls' school in the out-station at Barela, the educational work is confined to the Bible College. Here we face the same problem as faces the home church, that of securing candidates for the ministry. In so far as it has been possible to secure graduates, the work of the Bible College has made itself felt throughout the mission. This year the number of students has been less than usual, but the Summer School held in connection with the Bible College has been the best in the history of the institution. The principal of the Bible College writes: "While the evangelists were assembled we had a series of special meetings to consider the difficulties and problems of evangelism in the different stations. Our great theme was, 'How to win people for Christ.' The evangelists on returning to their stations organized similar meetings. They called all the Christians of the station together and heart-searching questions similar to those asked in the Summer School were asked of the different members of the Christian community. I believe, partly as a result of this, the evangelistic spirit was stronger last winter than it has ever been before, and this may help to account for the fact that the number of baptisms from heathenism was larger this year than it has ever been before."

In the Chattisgarh district, which includes both Bilaspur and Mungeli, the schools with one exception are all of the primary grade. Pupils in primary schools leave before they are old enough to become Christians in defiance to their parents; but this much is clear: they learn to read, form a liking for books, hear enough of the Christian religion to interest them in buying and reading the books sold by the evangelists, and possibly the greatest result of all, they form a friendship with the missionary and Christian teachers that will not only make them open in later years to teaching, but opens their homes at present to the evangelists. It is a most common experience for our school pupils to come running after the evangelists and call them to their home to sing and preach.

If we are to judge by the number of converts, the Christian message preached by the evangelists has been little comprehended by the people, but the record of converts in the centers around our schools is going to read differently. It must read differently because the large amount of religious teaching being done in our schools can not fail of fruit. It needs to be said in conclusion that the Bible teaching in our schools is not all sowing for a future harvest. This year records twenty-six baptisms among the pupils of our schools.

EVANGELISM IN THE BENEVOLENT AND INDUSTRIAL INSTITUTIONS.

Damoh.—Boys' Orphanage, industrial shop and farm, in charge of David Rioch.

Jubbulpore.—Printing press, in charge of G. W. Brown.

Mungeli.—Leper asylums, financed by "The Mission to Lepers," and in charge of our missionary in Mungeli.

As to evangelism within the orphanage Mr. Rioch writes: "We had in our orphanage a number of rather large boys who steadily refused to confess Christ. Not only that, but some of them were openly antagonistic to everything savoring of religion. The influence of these boys on the smaller lads was known to be bad. The crisis had come when these boys must be won or sent away. We set ourselves once more to the task of winning them to Christ within 1913. The year was drawing to a close and our task was unfinished; the four oldest and most hardened turned a deaf ear to all we could say. A few days before Christmas, to my great delight, one of these boys gave the reply, 'I want to be baptized on Christmas day.' 'But what about the other boys?' said I; 'go and win them.' Within two days the other three had come. The baptism of these boys made the Christmas of 1913 a very happy one. In all, twenty-three boys were baptized within the year."

The Christian literature published at our mission press has had indeed a large place in the work of the Kingdom. Also a number of orphanage boys have found here an opportunity to learn a good life trade.

It seems almost useless to say that practically every leper that comes into the asylum yields his life in obedience to the one religion that extends to him a helping hand and holds out to him the hope of final cleansing from his loathsome disease in a heaven of eternal joy. Twenty-one lepers were baptized during the year. There are some beautiful characters among the lepers.

EVANGELISM IN THE HOMES OF NON-CHRISTIAN WOMEN.

Harda.—Miss Thompson and two Bible women.

Jubbulpore.—Miss Jackson, two Bible women, and five Bible College students in training.

Miss Jackson writes: "The women are turning from their idols. Here and there I hear women say there is nothing in them, that they never worship idols any more (they even laugh at them), and that they worship only one true God, with the heart. It is our task to teach such women to believe in Jesus, the personal God and Savior."

Miss Thompson writes: "We have never had as good work in the villages as we have had this year, and more books have been sold than usual. Many a time when we have been leaving a village we have been asked to come again, and have been told it has been a long time since we have been there. We have been pressed to stay and to eat with the people, and money has been offered us for bringing them the 'words of wisdom.' This is very encouraging, but we long to see more results in the way of sinners turning to Him who alone can save them."

It is the women that keep alive idol worship and the heathen customs that keep persons from becoming Christians. Before we can give very glad tidings from this department we must have more lady missionaries at work among the women of India.

EVANGELISTIC DEPARTMENT.

Bilaspur.—H. C. Saum, with seven evangelists.

Damoh.—W. B. Alexander, with five evangelists.

Harda.—Seven evangelists, part of the time under the supervision of the medical missionary and part of the time supervised by the principal of the high school.

Jubbulpore.—W. C. Macdougall, with four evangelists and the Bible College students at times.

Mungeli.—O. J. Grainger, with five evangelists.

Every station had baptisms within the year. Every station had more than in the previous year. The total number of baptisms is three times greater than in the previous year. The year records the largest number of converts from heathenism in the history of the mission.

In Mungeli alone there were fifty-seven baptisms from caste. These converts have been almost altogether from villages near our out-stations. Mr. Grainger writes: "We have this year succeeded in getting a foothold and baptizing persons in seven villages where heretofore there were no Christians. Quite a number of our converts have come and settled in Mungeli itself, and are working and earning their living there. These are mostly of the coolie class, who have no land and consequently can easily go from one place to another. Those of our new converts who own land in villages must necessarily stay in their villages and work their land."

"In Pendridih, a village owned entirely by the mission, there have been several converts from among the relatives of our Christians. These have been young men who, after becoming Christians, have married girls from our orphanages and established Christian homes. The largest number of converts has come from our out-station at Bhulan. In Bhulan town there have been one or two converts, while in three villages near by we have obtained a number of converts, several of whom promise to be very influential in bringing others into the church. We have been able to establish a Christian community in a village named Lagra, in a section where heretofore we have had no out-station. As this community enlarges it will be necessary for the mission to establish an out-station there in order that we may place a man there to look after the new converts. The missionary has had to give so much time to instructing inquirers and to work among new converts that very little regular itinerating work has been done. Nevertheless our new converts have been telling of the new religion of the gospel to their friends and relatives, and through them the message is spreading.

Just as the year under review closed, a very interesting and promising movement started in the Jubbulpore territory acquired about two years ago. Mr. Macdougall has been working among the hill-tribes, known as Gonds. A man signified his readiness to become a Christian. He and his wife walked thirty miles to Jubbulpore to be baptized, and then returned to their home in the hills. A few days later Mr. Macdougall went out into this territory to baptize other persons. But there is something else to be told now that seems to cut short, at least for a time, what might have been a very interesting development. Mr. Macdougall was due to go on furlough. He had already overstayed his term by a year, and now his passage was booked and his goods packed. He had to leave on May 7th, and there was no one to send to Jubbulpore to take up this urgent work.

In Bilaspur, Harda, and Damoh the baptisms of the year have been mostly from the Christian community and orphanage wards. Bilaspur is in the same district and among the same class of people as Mungeli, and it will be strange if this year does not see an awakening about the out-stations of Bilaspur also. Harda is unfortunate in not having a missionary to go out into the district evangelistic work. Dr. Drummond had planned to leave the hospital in charge of the assistant and spend the winter in the district with the evangelists, but his health made it necessary for him to go on furlough. Mr. Eicher writes very encouragingly of the Harda field. He says: "In a neighboring mission there has been quite an ingathering from the Balais or weaver caste, and in our section they are showing much interest. At present the work among them seems very hopeful. As to the Damoh district, the work is all that can be expected. The orphanage has always been the big work. There has never been any long period when a missionary has been in the district with the evangelists. All that is needed to get converts here is to open some out-stations and keep a missionary among the people of the district."

AMONG OUR INDIAN BRETHREN.

Our Co-workers.—The time has come when the Christian community reaches an average of three hundred persons per station. The reports of the year contain many expressions of appreciation of the services of our preachers, Bible women, and teachers, and indicate many encouraging things as to the community at large.

During the year M. J. Shah practically had charge of the evangelistic work in the Harda district. Under his enthusiastic leadership a party of twenty-three teachers and high school boys made a tour in the villages during their summer vacation. Hira Lal and assistants, in the absence of a medical missionary, carried on in a creditable manner the large medical work in the Mungeli district. Many others are worthy of special mention. The principal of the Bible College, in speaking of the work of this institution, has the following to say as to our evangelists: "Most encouraging reports come from some of the graduates of the Bible College. They went out mere youths, with a great deal of theoretical knowledge, but very little practical training. Many of them have grown rapidly with the experience which they have gained, and some of them are managing very difficult out-stations and doing the work very successfully." The chairman of the Committee on Work Among Women reported to our recent annual convention, "Several stations report great progress in the spiritual development of the Bible women and in the quality of their work."

Within the last few years the mission has wisely given more attention to the continued training of its co-workers. A three years' study course has been adopted for evangelists, and annual examinations are given. Last year several passed with honor. This, together with the Summer School, is doing much for our evangelists. This year the three years' study course for women was lengthened to a five years' course. It comprises studies in the Bible; social topics, such as the home, village, manners and customs, etc.; sanitation; study of the human body, and the reading of biographies. It is reaching many besides the mission employees.

Self-propagation.—The Christians are growing in the spirit of evangelism. As indicated in what has been said about the evangelistic work in Mungeli, many of the converts have been the relatives of the Christians.

In Damoh the women have been quite enthusiastic in holding afternoon meetings, to which non-Christian women are invited. Sometimes the meeting is at a Christian home, and sometimes the meeting is held by invitation at the home of a non-Christian friend. Several stations report that the Christian women are bringing a number of non-Christian women to the study classes. One of our Damoh Christians brought an ex-orphanage boy for baptism for whom the missionaries had worked for years.

The Indian Missionary Society.—This is the organization of our churches for missionary work. It has a station all its own at Kota, near Bilaspur. This year the society has been facing some of the problems incident to the management of missionary work. Their faith has been rather severely tried, yet the churches have not failed in their offerings, and two evangelists will soon be at work again in Kota, under the supervision and support of the brethren of our churches.

Self-support.—As our Christian community grows in numbers and prosperity, the matter of self-support is being urged upon them more and more. Though none of our churches have as yet paid pastors, yet the other current expenses of the church are borne by the congregations, and three or four annual collections are taken for various phases of missionary work. The mission has adopted a scale of charges for patients in the hospitals and a scale of fees for medical services. These apply alike to Christians and non-Christians, and vary according to the salaries of the patients. A small fee is charged all patients coming to the dispensary for medicine. This year the medical fees amounted to fifteen per cent of the total cost of maintaining the hospitals and dispensaries. In the schools the fees and Government grants amounted to forty-eight per cent of the total expenses of maintaining our schools. The high school in Harda, which is patronized by the more wealthy class, is almost entirely self-supporting. It needs to be said that just at present the Christians are doing more for the self-support of the church by their thrift in their homes than by the amount they are now contributing to the church. Our Christians are doing well. Most of them started in life with nothing at all. Many of them are now acquiring homes and working into good positions. The thrift of our Christians brings with it certain dangers, but probably their prosperity more than any one other thing favorably impresses the non-Christians with Christianity. Thrift is also a necessary forerunner to the day when our churches will support their paid pastors and teachers. I believe one of the great movements of the next ten years will be the growth of our churches in self-propagation and self-support.

In conclusion we wish to say that the year has not been without its difficulties, problems, and failures. There never has been a time when our needs were greater. The work has never been more hampered by a small staff of missionaries. Our missionaries have made many references to these matters in their reports, but we have largely omitted reference to them. We are extremely grateful and encouraged by the special help that has come to us through the Million Dollar Campaign, and the purpose with which we have compiled this brief of the year's work has been to appeal to the great brotherhood of Disciples of Christ to take courage at what is being accomplished in the India mission. We trust you to give us such help as will maké larger things possible.

CHUCHOW.

The work in the Chuchow district has been marked in this past year by the very evident leading of God in the opening of doors and in the preservation of the people in the district during the rebellion. This has been especially manifest in the changed attitude of the people toward the Christian Church. They now look upon the Christian community as very useful and necessary.

The church building has become the center where gather all classes of people, not only for Christian services (at which the building is always filled), but for Red Cross meetings, local reform movements, public lectures, and meetings for special events, such as was held over America's recognition of the Chinese Republic.

The organization of the Chuchow Reform Society in the spring of 1913 brought together the very best people in the city, including the magistrate and members of the city and district councils. They elected Dr. Osgood president, and have heartily supported him in all the reform measures proposed. Through this society the streets of the city are being cleaned daily at the expense of the municipality. Lavatories have been built; land for a public park and children's playground has been set aside and is being developed; a fine macadamized road from the railroad station to the city has taken the place of the former dilapidated street pavement, and a successful temperance campaign among children and adults has been conducted. An excellent series of lectures has been given by missionaries from Nanking and local people; Mr. Hunt has had charge of this bureau.

Perhaps the greatest evidence of the influence gained in the city was shown when they loaned the Confucian temple to the church in which to hold the annual convention of our Chinese churches, which this year met in Chuchow. Some one hundred delegates from our own out-stations and forty delegates from the other stations in our mission gathered here the last of March. The local people attended the sessions freely, and were so impressed by the addresses they heard that they asked for two special sessions for themselves to be addressed by the convention speakers on educational and ethical subjects. The city officials attended in a body.

When the rebellion broke out in July, 1913, the city sent a special request to Dr. Osgood to return at once and aid in meeting the emergencies arising and to organize a local Red Cross branch. Fifty leading men subscribed for life membership in the general Red Cross Society of China, for the establishment of the local branch, and heartily co-operated in all the relief work we did at the Tisdale Hospital. During this troublesome time the mission work was greatly blessed and strengthened by the Tientsin Relief Corps, which co-operated for a time with the local relief corps. Dr. Hsu Hwa Ging and many of his men were active Christians, and did not hesitate to show it before our city leaders.

At the out-stations there was some robbery and looting, which tried the evangelists, but they all stood by their work, giving comfort and encouragement to the people. This naturally has drawn attention to the Spirit of Christ exemplified by these evangelists, and is influencing many to follow Christ.

All during the year these evangelists have gathered monthly with Mr. Hunt, and from these meetings the upbuilding and extension of the work has been directed. Systematic Bible study and organized Sunday-school work have been emphasized; they have visited each other's places, mutually encouraging and counselling. One hundred and one new converts have been baptized, and $300 has been raised for all purposes.

Our veteran evangelist, Shih Kwei-Biao, after having had charge of the evangelistic work in Nantungchow during the absence of Mr. Johnson and family on furlough, has been returned to the Chuchow field, but is doing general evangelistic work in the mission. Ko Lum Bo, who stands at the head of the evangelists in the district, has been made pastor of the Chuchow church; he has been a leader in the local Red Cross and Reform Society movements, and wields a strong influence in the city.

Through the reading-room at the gate of the church Mr. Hunt has been able to come in still closer touch with the better classes of the city; their homes have been freely thrown open to the missionaries.

Owing to the presence of soldiers in the city, occupying all vacant buildings, and owing to shortage of funds, the city failed to open their public schools this spring. This has filled the mission schools to overflowing and given us a better class of pupils. There are 110 in the boys' school, sixty in the girls' school, and sixty more in two independent schools which the church has opened. This has introduced into the Sunday-school over two hundred children who attend regularly. Some thirty of them are members of the church.

One month during the autumn the average attendance at the Sunday-school was 375; the average for the entire autumn was 333. A teachers' training class has been conducted weekly, and special attention has been given to the organization of classes—this latter movement having been encouraged by the work of Mr. Baker while he was here. He organized a class from among shopkeepers and tradesmen, which had an enrollment of eighty, with an average attendance of forty. This reached a class of people whom we had hitherto but little influenced, and a number of them were baptized. Regular classes are also held at the hospital, in the two prisons of the city, and at the East Gate chapel. Wang Yung Tsiu, the superintendent of this work, is one of the strongest Sunday-school workers we have seen in China.

At the Tisdale Hospital there has been the largest number of in-patients in our history here: some 588 for the year. During the epidemic of smallpox in the city this spring the Red Cross branch co-operated in buying vaccine, and 950 people, mostly children, were vaccinated. In a number of families where the disease had already broken out we stopped its spread. There was a total of 5,031 clinical patients, with a total of 10,951 treatments; the private wards have been constantly full, showing the growing confidence of the people in Western medicine and surgery. Thirty have been treated for the breaking off of the opium habit.

In January we invited the leading people of the city to the hospital, and gave diplomas to two of our assistants who had served an apprenticeship of six years. On their own initiative these graduates bore testimony to the power of the gospel in the medical work, and pledged themselves to make their work in medicine distinctly Christian. These men have been placed over departments in the hospital and are doing excellent work.

Mr. Hunt and family left on sick leave for England the last of March. Mr. and Mrs. Dannenberg, who had been loaned to Nanking for some time, have come back to Chuchow to work here permanently. This gives us three families for the Chuchow field. When we have two single ladies to care for the work in the girls' school and among the women, we shall feel that this station is more adequately equipped.

LUCHOWFU.

This year has been one of change. Dr. Butchart's transfer to the Medical College in Nanking last fall left the hospital here inadequately manned. Miss Favors' early furlough left a gap in the women's work. The return of Mr. and Mrs. Brown from furlough, and the splendid addition of Miss Vautrin and Mrs. Buck have strengthened the work. The building of the church, which is not yet completed, marked an advance step in our work. We recognize a true co-worker in Miss Myrtle Warren, whose generosity has made it possible for this urgent and long-standing need for a house of worship to be met. We rejoice in the beginnings of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions in China, and report the purchase of land for the girls' school.

The growth of the church is slow, but we trust permanent. Thirty-one people have been baptized, but death and the transfer of members elsewhere has left us with a net gain for the year of but twenty members. Our entire membership, out-stations included, is ninety-two. Twenty-five of the baptisms took place during the meetings held in May by Mr. Shih Kwei-Biao and Mr. Cheng Li Sen. These meetings were most helpful, Mr. Shih preaching to the outsiders, while Mr. Cheng's message was for the members of the church. The general services of the church have been well attended. There is ground for encouragement in the giving of the church; against the net gain of twenty-eight per cent in membership we find a gain of fifty per cent in contributions.

The Sunday-school has an average attendance of about one hundred. There are nine classes besides the weekly normal class. Outside the Sunday-school, three groups of children are receiving weekly instruction in the Scriptures.

At the East Gate evangelistic meetings are held three evenings a week, with good interest and attendance. The reading-room there is open to guests every afternoon, and a few take advantage of the opportunity to read the papers and magazines.

The aim of the work among the women has been intensive rather than extensive. Fourteen women have been enrolled for regular study each afternoon; other weekly Bible classes have been held for Christians; a weekly class is held for believing women who have not yet joined the church; the Sunday afternoon meetings for heathen women at East Gate and the hospital have kept up in attendance and interest. Two smaller groups of outside women have been preached to weekly. The New Year's meeting was interrupted by the presence of disorderly soldiers in the city, who hindered the women from coming out in the usual large numbers. Two women have been baptized during the year, and several others are asking for baptism. One of our young Christian women is in Nanking taking the training for Bible women's work. The work has suffered from a factional spirit arising from a quarrel between two of our women. The year as a whole does not show satisfying results, but in the various groups now under instruction we are trying to do constructive work.

The out-station work has shown encouraging results in the face of discouraging hindrances. At San Ho the evangelist, who was a mediocre man to begin with, had to be dismissed. Trouble between the two teachers in our school made it advisable to transfer one of them to another place. Cramped quarters have greatly retarded the work. Nevertheless this year has given us the first fruits of our labors in San Ho—seven young men who have obeyed their Lord in baptism. A nine days' meeting was held there in the fall with excellent interest. There is an immense improvement in the attitude of the people toward us.

At Liang-yuen also we were compelled to let the evangelist go. He was a young man of ability, but unable to see the possibilities of service in a small place. No one has been found to take his place. The meetings held by the evangelist in the city have been well attended, and four of the baptisms recorded are from Liang-yuen. This out-station is financed by the Luchowfu church, and they are now shouldering a loan of $200 for further equipment, a school building, and housing for preacher and teacher. Two young men from Liang-yuen have entered the Bible College in Nanking to prepare for the ministry.

The schools in the out-stations are an important factor; the enrollment in the boys' school at San Ho is forty-nine, in Liang-yuen, twenty-three; both schools are so limited in space that they can take no more. This condition will be remedied in both places before the beginning of another school year. All the boys in these schools are from non-Christian homes, but they are responding to the teaching of the gospel. In addition to the study of the Bible required in the curriculum, the older boys are regular in their attendance at prayer-meeting, and helpful in the larger evangelistic meeting. In San Ho, where the prejudice against foreigners has been very strong, the school has been a factor in breaking down that feeling and in making friends for the church. Most of the inquirers have come from the homes of the students. Both of these schools collect the customary tuition from the students.

Some itinerating has been done in the district at large with a view of opening more out-stations. To the east and west the people are no longer hostile to us. To the north, where there is less familiarity with us, there is some tendency to discourteous treatment.

The boys' school in the city enrolled sixty pupils this year. Three boys have been baptized, making five who are members of the church. This by no means represents the Christian influence of the school, however; besides the required Bible work of the year, the students hold their own prayer-meeting, and the Sunday classes of the younger students are taught by the older ones. The boys' department of the Sunday-school is in connection with the boys' school. In other ways the boys are reaching out in social service. During the holiday season a play was given with a blind beggar for its hero, which was of considerable educational value. Lantern slides on the Bible have been used for evenings of instruction, and the boys co-operate in any effort to reach those less fortunate than themselves. The boys are taking a healthy interest in athletics. The standard of scholarship in the school is constantly rising, and the present corps of teachers is doing efficient work. An experiment is being tried in industrial education: a piece of land temporarily available has afforded gardening to fifteen poor boys, who in return for their forenoon's work are given their dinner and are taught in the afternoon. On Saturdays they also receive lessons from a carpenter. The boys are willing and the work seems very much worth while, but we are not able to enlarge it.

The enrollment in the girls' school in Luchowfu is sixty-seven; of these, five are members of the church and six are from Christian homes. But, as with the boys' school, this does not at all describe the Christian atmosphere of the school. The girls meet in a weekly Christian Endeavor meeting, which is most spontaneous. The older girls give valuable assistance in teaching groups of outside children. A number of the girls are very eager for baptism whose parents will not consent. The school is paying for its own building, and this year should blot out its debt. It is a paying institution. The grade of work in the school is subject to the limitations of teachers, but is slowly advancing in efficiency.

The hospital has averaged over 2,500 treatments a month for the past six months. One reason for the increased clinic is that we have been able to secure a Chinese young woman who is a trained nurse and a larger number of women are being reached. The in-patient and out-call work have fallen off, partly on account of the opening of another hospital, which is asking lower rates and advertising vigorously; this has meant a large drop in our financial returns; at the beginning of the year there were twelve students in the hospital; five of these were graduated by Dr. Butchart in the fall; two failed in their examinations, and five remained with us, doing heavy work, as it does not seem wise to add to the force until the coming of a second doctor is assured. During the year the students have covered Hare's "Therapeutics" in class, had a short course on "Gunshot Wounds," and a demonstration course in obstetrics. The drugs and stock have all been invoiced and placed in order; the guest-room has been refurnished, the whole main building whitewashed, and a large woman's ward revarnished. The direction of the medical work is a difficult problem; the financing of an institution the size of this hospital, under new conditions, is not easy. It is a time of change, and it is necessary to come to some clear decision as to what we are to do in our medical work.

The evangelistic work at the hospital has continued along the usual line. There has been daily preaching at the clinic, and Gospel and Christian tracts on sale. Meetings have been held three evenings in the week for the in-patients, students, and helpers. The library has been opened during the clinic hours and in the afternoon. There have been two Bible classes for Christian students in the hospital; there has also been a class for uneducated Christians, and one for those studying the Bible with a view to becoming Christians. Personal work has been done in the wards by the Chinese evangelist and the Bible woman. Tangible results from this work are not as many as we would wish. Seven of the hospital students were baptized during the year, making the whole corps Christian.

NANKING.

Educational.—While Nanking was the storm center of the rebellion of last summer and fall, and while the city suffered the effects of a cruel and wasting campaign, yet the school buildings and residences of the various missions were unmolested, save in the case of one or two day schools. Many of the schools and other mission buildings and grounds afforded a safe retreat for four or five thousand helpless men, women, and children during the siege and sacking of the city.

When fall came it looked as though it might not be possible to open many schools, but about the middle of October they began to resume work. The uncertainty and unrest which continued for some months account for the loss in numbers enrolled.

The Protestant missions in Nanking are closely co-operating in all forms of mission work. There are now four union educational institutions, besides a union school for nurses, in all of which our mission has a part.

The university with its various departments—medical, normal, college, high, middle, and language school for new missionaries—is one of the largest Christian institutions in China. Dr. J. E. Williams, acting president, says in a recent report, "The delightful spirit of union and co-operation seems to grow only deeper and stronger with the growth of the university."

An architect and an engineer came out from America to draw up the plans for the university buildings; the campus will cover about seventy acres; plans for several new buildings have been approved, and we hope soon to start the work. One of them is the new home for the students of the Language School, for which a Baptist lady has given $30,000.

Messrs. Meigs, Settlemyer, Sarvis, Lee, and Drs. Macklin and Butchart are our mission representatives on the University Faculty.

In the Nanking School of Theology the Presbyterian missions, North and South, the Methodist missions, North and South, and our own mission are co-operating. The school is modelled after the Bible Teachers' Training School in New York City. It is not the aim to reduce to the least common denominator our several forms of belief, but rather to build into one whole the richest contribution that each brotherhood in the church can make. The Faculty is at one in its desire to maintain with unchanging loyalty the imperishable essentials of our common faith. We want to make this institution stand for what is true and positive not only in its standards of belief, but also in the working out of its teachings in the lives and characters of its students.

There are two departments, the Seminary, which undertakes to do the grade of work done by theological seminaries of Western lands, and a Bible Training School, whose purpose is the practical training of worthy men for evangelistic work. Each of the communions in the union has a chair of its own, whereby any special teaching desired by their mission may be given their respective students.

For practical Christian work the students are divided into fourteen groups, each group under the leadership of a professor or older student, and each under a regular organization. The reports of their work are encouraging: one group works among the poor, and one from house to house; two groups do Sunday-school work throughout the city; one conducts a Sunday-school for non-Christians in the seminary chapel, which now numbers over two hundred. One band works among the Wu-dialect speaking peoples, another among the scholar class, and another among the English-speaking students. Among the scholar class the door of opportunity is wide open; from two to four hundred men of this class are under weekly instruction in Bible classes.

Our mission has three strong representatives on the Faculty in Messrs. Frank Garrett, Chen Li Seng, and Li Ho Fu.

The year has seen the opening of the Nanking Bible Teachers' Training School for Women. As this school is only for educated women who wish to do special Bible work and be trained for leadership, we can not yet expect a large enrollment. However, there have been eighteen pupils this first year. These come from six different provinces, and represent nine denominations. "The various dialects have furnished more difficulties than the creeds, but after a few weeks all have taken their class work in Mandarin," says Miss Shaw, the principal.

It would be quite impracticable for any one mission to attempt a school of this grade in China, but as a union institution it promises to be of the greatest value to the few who can and desire to do this advance work.

The Union Woman's School, formed by the union of the Presbyterian Woman's School and our Woman's School, had an enrollment of seventy-eight. As each mission had its own building before the union was consummated, and they are two or three miles apart, the school is divided into two departments and the two centers used, one for each grade. Miss Kelly has charge of the South Gate department; four of her pupils have accepted Christ this past year.

Besides our work in these four union schools, our mission has a Girls' Boarding School, three day schools for girls, and six day and night schools for boys in the city; also two girls' and three boys' day schools in out-stations.

The enrollment in the Girls' Boarding School has been 123; the falling off from 150 last year was due to the rebellion and its consequences; in times of peace the responsibility of such a large family of girls in China is a very heavy one, but when the Government is unstable and soldiers roam the streets, it is greatly increased. Nevertheless the work in the school has gone on well; the older girls have nobly shared in the responsibilities which have of necessity fallen upon them.

In September, just after the looting of the city, meetings were held in the assembly room; later this developed into an afternoon Sunday-school in the church for women and children; there are at present twenty classes, all taught by the older girls in the school. It has been a joy to see their enthusiasm in this work. They also go out frequently to assist in evangelistic meetings in the homes and chapels. Thirteen of the girls in the school were baptized during the year.

One of the city day schools for girls, which opened so propitiously last year, was looted by the soldiers, and has not yet been reopened. The three other day schools have ninety-two pupils enrolled. Four pupils from the South Gate School have been baptized; another girl there who desired to be baptized has been taken from school and confined in her home by her people, who are determined to prevent it.

The three day and night schools for boys at the South Gate are in complete charge of two of our Christian young men. The mission allows them $13.50 a month, and gives them the use of the building, and they hire the other teachers needed and pay the running expenses of the school. This is the sixth year of this work, and the boys have built up good schools; they now have a hundred pupils, and fees amount to about twenty-four dollars a month.

Evangelistic.—The center of our evangelistic work in Nanking has been at the South Gate, but in addition to this very efficient work has been done at the Drum Tower and Hsia Gwan by missionaries who, although engaged primarily in school work, have taken time to do a great deal of evangelistic work.

The work in the out-stations, Tan Tsuen, Go Tan Dzih, and Pu Kou, has been flourishing and is promising greater results at no distant future.

The terrible calamity which befell the people in the summer when Chang Hsuen entered the gates and plundered and looted the city gave us an opportunity to show the humanitarian side of the gospel we preach. Distressed natives flocked to the foreigners' homes and compounds for protection. It was wonderful to see the amount of confidence they placed in us. The extensive relief work we were enabled to carry on later through the offerings of the Red Cross Society and through gifts from friends at home and on the field has opened to us the homes of many who never before cared to know about Christianity. From those who were thus helped we have drawn a great class of inquirers, some of whom have already received baptism.

At the South Gate alone more than three hundred old ladies over sixty years old received rice for nearly four months during the winter; 180 women were given sewing to do for about the same length of time. Besides this, Miss Lyon helped a great many at the Drum Tower, and work was given to the men through the aid of Mr. Dannenberg and others.

No direct evangelistic appeal was made to these people at the time they were receiving help from us; they were invited to the regular services, but we did not make them feel that the sustenance they received was dependent on their becoming Christians. In the spring, after the greater part of the work was over, our mission evangelist, Mr. Shih, held a meeting of eight days; at the end of that time there were more than 150 ready and eager to enter the inquirers' classes. Many of these are still studying, and some will be baptized in a few days.

We are hoping to have a permanent chapel at Hsia Gwan where more efficient evangelistic work can be done.

In the South City property has already been purchased for an institutional church; as soon as we have an evangelist here on the field to give his whole time to this work we may expect great things from our work. As it is, the Lord has blessed us greatly, and we continue to give thanks for being used by Him to direct the work which is so great in its present state and so full of promise.

Medical.—The hospital work at the Drum Tower was continued during the spring of 1913 and the early summer. During the latter part of the summer the work was turned over to the Red Cross Society and was largely in charge of Dr. Brown, of the university. Fifteen hundred wounded soldiers were cared for during those terrible months; the Drum Tower church was used as an overflow ward, so that it was possible to care for as many as four hundred at one time.

During the days of the looting the hospital grounds were used as a place of refuge for men, women, and children.

After the Red Cross work was finished Dr. Macklin continued the regular work until February, 1914, when the hospital plant was turned over to the University of Nanking, to be conducted by the Medical Department.

The South Gate Dispensary was also used as a Red Cross hospital and as a place of refuge for women and children. Since last February two assistants have been giving all their time there; daily clinics have drawn increasing numbers to receive treatment.

NANTUNGCHOW.

The Nantungchow district is one of the greatest unevangelized mission fields east of Tibet. This field, with its millions of people, should be an inspiration to our home churches, as it is nearer to them than any other station in China—nearer even than Shanghai. It lies at the very gateway of China, for the ships from all over the world must sail by Tsung-Ming Island, which stands like a sentinel at the mouth of the Yangtse River, and turn into a tributary, the Whangpoo River, before Shanghai is reached, some twelve miles to the south. There is a plan on foot to open Nantungchow as a port, where the ocean steamers may unload their cargo for shipment up the Yangtse without the expense and unnecessary trouble of going down the Whangpoo and back again. If this very feasible plan is carried out, it will bring our field into the center of things commercially.

In order to get some idea of our responsibility and opportunity, it must be borne in mind that ours is the only mission that has any work in this crowded area of 6,000 square miles, with the exception of one little out-station. There are a dozen cities in this region, any one of which would be considered large enough for a residence station were it situated in a less densely populated district. With one exception these cities are located on canals, which makes them so easy of access that with the residence stations as strategic points they can be worked as out-stations.

The Minister of Commerce, Mr. Chang Chien, is a resident of Nantungchow, and sees such great possibilities in this district that he is putting forth his best efforts to develop it. He has converted temples into elementary schools all over the district, and has a college at Nantungchow, as well as normal schools for men and women, where teachers are trained for country schools. In connection with the men's normal school there is an agricultural experiment station, zoological gardens, library, museum, hospital, and medical school. He has a school for poor children, where a simple meal is served to them at noon. Near the city he has an industrial home and orphanage, in which 1,500 foundlings have been received. Many of these children have been adopted into homes, and those remaining are being taught by trained kindergartners.

Mr. Chang has put a Christian man in the position of chief of police over the whole district, and has asked him to reconstruct the municipal system on a basis as nearly Western as conditions will permit. This man has shown himself very friendly and eager for information and advice from the missionaries.

The work during the year has been marked by a number of changes in the personnel of the station: Dr. and Mrs. Poland returned to America in May; Mr. and Mrs. Johnson came back from their furlough in the fall, and Mr. Plopper was assigned to the Tungchow work in September.

During the year sixteen were added to the church by baptism, and it has been gratifying to observe the steady growth in grace and usefulness being made by some of the members, old and new.

The weekly prayer-meeting and Bible study class, Sunday-school, and Christian Endeavor are usually well attended. At the Sunday-school there is an average attendance of about sixty-five, mainly adults. Quarterly meetings are held for the transaction of church business, though the church is not fully organized. The first steps in that direction have been taken. It was recently decided to undertake the support of the evangelistic work in one of the towns within easy reach of the city, the brethren agreeing to travel to and fro and conduct the services voluntarily. For self-support, philanthropic, and other purposes the sum of $123.92 was raised during the year.

Evangelistic work has been carried on at four points: at the South, the East, and the West Street chapels, and in the hospital chapel. An average of eleven evangelistic meetings, including three for women, are held each week. We have received valuable voluntary help in this work from seven or eight of the members, who desire to witness for Christ in this way. At the various meetings we usually have large and attentive audiences. We rejoice in the changed attitude of the people: the old-time proud indifference to the gospel and superstitious fear of the foreigner has been succeeded by a genuine interest in the one and growing confidence in the other. As a result of the above work we have a number of inquirers under instruction who will shortly join the church.

Seven country trips were made during the year, covering about two months' travel. During these trips several thousand Scripture portions and tracts were sold and distributed, and the gospel preached scores of times on the streets of not less than thirty towns.

SHANGHAI.

The work in Shanghai has suffered a great loss in the death, in December, of Mr. James Ware, who opened the work there in 1890 and carried the burden of it through these years.

Mr. Ware went to America on sick leave in the early summer of 1913, leaving his work in charge of Mr. Barcus, who was relieved of much of the responsibility by the Chinese Church Council, which had been organized by Mr. Ware before his departure.

After Mr. Ware's return, in August, until the time of his death, in December, he was able to have a great deal of oversight of the work. He attended the monthly Chinese council meetings, held in his home, and directed and advised the Chinese helpers in their plans. Every Sunday afternoon, up until the Lord's Day previous to his death, he met and observed the Lord's Supper with his faithful native helpers in his own room.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw returned to China in September and took over the work at Miller Road Institute. The school there has done good work, having over one hundred boys in attendance. The church services on Sunday morning have been crowded, and the work is altogether in a prosperous condition.

At China New Year special services were held at the Yangtzepoo chapel for one week through the greater part of each day, and in the evening large crowds heard the gospel.

The Yangtzepoo Sunday-school is flourishing. There are now eight classes, five men's and boys' and three girls'. Two of the members go out every Sunday distributing tracts and inviting the people to attend.

Miss Tonkin has conducted a class two evenings a week for her teachers and Bible woman, thus helping them to prepare themselves for more efficient service.

The girls' school at Yangtzepoo is still increasing in numbers—both of boarders and day pupils.

During the year six women and girls were baptized, and there are some eight or more inquirers.

Mrs. Ware has charge of the girls' day school at Kwenming Road, which has prospered and done good work. The women's meetings there, which had to be closed during Mr. Ware's illness, have been resumed.

Owing to the lack of workers, the work on Tsung-Ming Island has had to be neglected. Several times Christian and other residents of that district have asked that chapels be opened and the gospel preached. As the money is now in hand for a chapel there, Mr. Barcus is planning to make a trip to select a building site.

WUHU.

Our work in Wuhu is carried on in four different parts of the city: first, we have a lecture hall and reading-room on Long Street, the main business street of the city, where we have been carrying on work for a number of years; second, a rented chapel nearer the East Gate of the city, which has been opened for several months; third, the girls' school near the East Gate, and fourth, the union Boys' School outside the city.

The property on Long Street is now being used for the development of the institutional side of our work. We have there a large reading-room, which has become so well known that the building is inadequate to accommodate the number who come, the average attendance being about fifty. To these rooms come the men who desire to keep abreast of the times, and when we have money enough to equip and furnish our reading-rooms as they should be, we shall be able to reach a class of intelligent people who are not being touched.

In the Long Street lecture room there have been held during the year several courses of lectures, given both by Chinese and foreigners. We find this department of work to be perhaps the most fruitful of all our efforts. To these lectures we invite the leading and influential men of the city, who are always most willing to come. We need to enlarge greatly on the institutional side of our church work if we are to give the help the people so much need at this time.

A new feature of the work this year was a summer school, which opened with an enrollment of seventy. This school was designed to reach the boys from the Government schools who wished to study during the summer vacation. The work of the schools was seriously interrupted by the rebellion, which prevented those who lived at a distance from attending, but this condition was, of course, only temporary, and the school will be a permanent part of our work.

At the beginning of the Chinese New Year we rented a preaching chapel not far from the East Gate of the city; here we have our regular preaching and prayer-meeting services for the church members, besides evangelistic meetings for the outsiders. The attendance is always good both at the regular and the special meetings. Shih Kwei-Biao held a short meeting there in the spring; Li Yoh Han, who is giving his full time to work among the Christians and inquirers in the various churches, also held a few days' meeting, which resulted in great good. Aside from these, all the preaching has been done by our faithful and efficient evangelist, Hsu Sin Djen.

We have a reading-room in connection with our chapel here; while it is much smaller than the one at Chang Gai, it is very well attended.

The girls' school at the East Gate has had a splendid year, both in the attendance and the grade of work done. Many requests come in for us to take pupils to board, but this is impossible under present conditions. However, the day school is preparing the way for the boarding school by making an established name and place for itself. One of the great difficulties with the day school in China lies in the extreme irregularity of attendance and the gradual dropping off toward the end of the term. (For instance, a school not far from ours began the term with fifty pupils and ended with seventeen.) In our school, however, while the enrollment was only twenty-five, not a single pupil dropped out during the term, and the average daily attendance was about ninety per cent—facts which show that the school is being put on a solid basis.

At the China New Year time classes were opened for women; these classes met daily for two hours a day, and there were seven women who attended with a fair degree of regularity.

Until the renting of the chapel near the East Gate we had held separate services for the women and girls in the school building, as the Long Street place was too far for them to attend there. But now the services are held in one place, which is a great step toward unifying our work.

The Union Middle and High Schools have had a very prosperous year. We have been crowded, and could have had many more students, but owing to lack of room we had to turn a number away.

The Industrial Department, which was opened three years ago as an experiment, has more than justified itself. The purpose of the department is to enable boys who can not pay full board and tuition to work their way through. The boys make wicker chairs, tables, settees, etc., and there is such a demand for these goods from both Chinese and foreigners that it is impossible to keep pace with the orders. There were fifteen boys in this department this year.

We are passing through a transitional period in China; it is increasingly difficult to carry on all lines of work, but more especially school work. The young men are only beginning to learn that a Republican form of government does not mean lawlessness, and many have not yet learned that lesson. We have tried to co-operate with the Chinese of the city in carrying on our school work, and we have three men of high repute who act as advisers in the difficult problems which arise from time to time.

The work at our out-station, Wuweichow, has been overseen largely by Miss Dale, who has spent on an average half of her time there. We have been most fortunate in our opportunity to rent as the center of our work a part of the largest residence in the city. The house was built some years ago by the Liu family, who are very rich and influential in that district. The unsettled conditions making it inadvisable for them to live in Wuweichow, one of the sons, who is a personal friend of Mr. Paul's, rented part of the place to us for a nominal sum. In this building we have a large reading-room and library, a boys' and a girls' school, living apartments for the teachers in the two schools, a preaching chapel for women that will seat about three hundred, and rooms for the foreigners to live in when they are there.

The girls' school, which had only eight pupils last year, has now increased to over twenty, much of the suspicion with which we were regarded when we opened the school having been overcome by the first term's work. The boys' school was opened in March, and this, too, has an attendance of over twenty.

Several meetings have been held in Wuweichow during the year; in October Miss Dale, assisted by Mrs. Paul and Miss Morgan (of the International Missionary Alliance), held a three weeks' meeting for women. The average daily attendance was over one hundred, and on Sunday there were more than two or three times that number.

Mr. Hsu has held several meetings for men during the year, and Mr. Li Yoh Han spent a week there in daily meetings and classes with the inquirers, several of whom are ready for baptism.

The friendliness of the Liu family to us and our work, and their willingness practically to give us the use of their home, have done much to break down the prejudice against us among the conservative people, and have made it possible for us to enter some of the best homes there. Mr. Liu, who rented the place to us, has expressed to Mr. Paul his entire willingness to co-operate with us in plans for work in the city. The attitude of the people there now is exceedingly friendly and receptive; all who have been to Wuweichow have come back greatly impressed with the opportunity before us there. Mr. Paul's work on the dyke has greatly strengthened our influence, and the people speak of him constantly.

Mr. Paul has continued to act as treasurer of the mission, as secretary of the Conference Bible Study Committee, a union committee representing all churches at work in China, and as chairman and treasurer of the Famine Committee. The governor of the province has written him several times, asking that he give some time to the work of dyke-building and repairing; he has been unable to do this, however, because there was no one to take his place in the school here, and so this valuable opportunity was lost. He has found time, however, to oversee in a general way the building of eight miles of new dyke and the repairing of other dykes. The Famine Committee this year, instead of giving money outright for the building of the dykes, loaned it to the Government at seven per cent; this plan is a great improvement over the former one, as it throws the responsibility entirely on the Chinese, making them realize as they did not do before that the work is their own. If the dykes do not break, hundreds of thousands of acres of good rice land will have been reclaimed, and many lives saved. But more even than this, the work on the dyke puts before the people in a way they can not fail to recognize the practical side of the teachings and ideals of the Master.

INTRODUCTORY.

This year has seemed very short, but it has been full of blessings. Therefore, with thankful hearts for the service which we have been able to render, and for the tender way the Father has been teaching us, we begin this report.

GENERAL SURVEY.

The death of many of the strong elder statesmen, and of the Empress Dowager, a true queen-mother to her people; the several changes in the Cabinet; the great naval and Buddhist scandals; the famine in North Japan; the Sakurajima disaster in the West; the student strikes at the Kyoto Imperial University and other Government schools, have all made this year one of great unrest in Japan. Taxes are burdensome, yet luxury prevails in the large cities. The cost of living advances, but so also does the standard of living.

The coming of Count Okuma to the Premiership is most encouraging to all who love righteousness. Though a Buddhist himself, he is most heartily in sympathy with Christian ideals. Other leaders of the nation, too, are realizing that religion and morality can not be divorced, and that Christianity is the religion of sound morals.

Baron Shibusawa, on his recent trip to Korea, took as his only study book a New Testament, in which he received daily instruction. Several prominent men in various Commencement addresses startled their audiences by their emphasis upon the nation's need of Christianity. The Minister of Education himself told a kindergarten training class they must teach Christian morals. The Department of Education called Miss Claggett, a Baptist missionary, to save girls of the famine district from being sold into prostitution. In opening the Evangelistic Building, Taisho Exhibition, in Tokyo, the mayor, Baron Sakatani, said: "This building is poor in comparison with others, but it is the most valuable building on the grounds. The others propagate material things, but this the enduring things of life." This Taisho Exhibition was to Japan what a World's Fair is to America; thousands from all over the Empire were there daily. The individual reports of our Tokyo missionaries show how advantage was taken of this opportunity for Christian work. Each mission operating in Tokyo was given a specified time at this exposition.

Other influences at work for Christ in Japan are the presentation of "Paradise Lost," "Pilgrim's Progress," and "Quo Vadis" at the "movies," and dramatization of Tolstoy's "Resurrection," by Mr. Doi, an earnest Christian. Every night for weeks in the cities great throngs paid for the privilege of seeing and hearing these wonderful messages. Surely as these throngs saw the conquest of sin by Christ many must have desired this influence in their own lives. In fact, some of the Japanese pastors have already had inquirers who first heard Christianity at the moving picture shows.

The woman question in Japan is alive to-day—not yet demanding votes, however, but only clean homes, as evidenced by some recent petitions to Parliament by women to call concubinage by its true name, adultery, and so make it a crime.

A burning question, which our people in the United States are asked to support liberally, is the promotion of a union Christian university for men, and also one for women, in Tokyo, which is the fifth largest city in the world.

Preparations are already on foot for the World's Sunday-school Convention in Tokyo in 1916. Prominent among others, Premier Okuma, Barons Sakatani and Shibusawa are seeking to make this a great national event.

OUR MISSION.

Our own Japanese convention was the best yet. Self-support was the question uppermost. Pastors Hosokai and Hasegawa were appointed to visit all the churches to get the consensus of opinion of the lay members as a basis of operation for the future. For the first time in our history a Japanese general evangelist was employed. He visited all the stations, helping to unify and encourage all the work. There are 155 baptisms reported this year. But as ever, both our missionary and Japanese force of men is wholly inadequate for the task before us. Thirty years ago our pioneers begged for fifteen missionary families; we have just nine. We were glad to welcome into our missionary family this year Mr. and Mrs. Oliphant, of Colorado; Miss Brown, of Texas, and three new babies born on the field—Lois Robinson, Robert McCall, and L. D. Oliphant, Jr.

Visitors.—Our hearts have been cheered the past year by the visits of the following people from other lands: Mrs. A. L. Shelton and two children; Dr. E. I. Osgood; Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Kershner; Dr. and Mrs. V. T. Lindsay; Dean Walter Williams, of Missouri University; Mr. and Mrs. Bryant; Miss Frances Irene Banta; Mr. Saunders; Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Buck; Mr. and Mrs. Shaw; Mr. McKay; E. H. Kellar; Mr. Howard Long; Miss Sylvia Siegfried; Miss Ruth Higginbottom; Miss Neta M. Read; Miss Annie H. Gould; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon, nephew, and children; Mr. and Mrs. Ogden and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Jury. We are anticipating gladly the arrival of the commission from the Foreign Christian Missionary Society. These visits are productive of much good on both sides of the water.

We on the field, who have back of us our splendid Living-link churches in the homeland, feel that our fellowship in the work grows more and more sacred with the years. "Co-workers together with God" are we. Then do not let the words of the Savior, "The fields are already white to the harvest," become a trite saying only, but with us "Pray ye the Lord of the harvest that He thrust forth laborers into His harvest."

AKITA.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McCall report as follows:

"Meetings.—The custom in Japan has been for three nights' meetings as against one or more weeks' meetings as in the United States, but the Akita people are appreciating and asking for the longer meetings. In July, Evangelist Goto, a godly man, held a one week's meeting resulting in twenty additions to the church. Among those reclaimed was a man who had not attended church nor read his Bible for nearly twenty years. His repentance was so sincere that now he is a zealous church officer and Sunday-school teacher, trying to make up for his lost time.

"In the early autumn Mr. Ishikawa, president of our Boys' School, did some splendid work, preaching and teaching Christ from the standpoint of a teacher. He spoke in many of the Government schools of Akita district, and many teachers and students came to the churches to hear his strong, earnest gospel message. Wherever he went non-Christian as well as Christian men welcomed him, ate with him, and often talked till midnight with him on religious and educational subjects.

"The park meetings, held at cherry blossom time, were a success, as usual. Many Bibles, Scripture portions, and Christian books were sold. The poor laborer bought a five-sen Testament; his wealthier neighbor bought half a dozen Christian books, including a commentary or a biography. The gospel was preached to large crowds every day. This is our fifth year of open-air meetings at this gala season. This year the Buddhist priests raised their flag, too, and talked to the people each day. But with our organ, our hymns, and the testimony of many lay Christians who came to help, besides our message of life splendidly presented by several wide-awake evangelists, we had crowds after the Buddhists had closed for the day. As a result of the various evangelistic activities of the year, the total number of baptisms was forty-two.

"New Work and Workers.—During the year we have had two new men to join the force here. Mr. Kondo, who is old in years and experience, but young and fresh in spirit, has begun work at Shinjo. By supporting the Sunday-school and preaching place from his own meager allowance, he is teaching the other Christians to love the church and to sacrifice for it. Mr. Moriyama, a fine, enthusiastic young preacher, has begun a work among the railroad men. In the stations, engine and repair shops, or anywhere he can find men with a few minutes' leisure, he conducts meetings and sells Bibles. In large stations he has regular engagements; in smaller places he arranges dates by telephone. He has free use of the railroad and the telephone service. His meetings number at least sixty a month, and the attendance ranges from eight to fifty.

"Deaths.—With the coming of new workers and the baptism of new Christians we must record the promotion into the higher life of our older Christians; especially to be noted among these are Mr. and Mrs. Noto, of the Tsuchizaki congregation. For over twenty-five years Mr. Noto opened the church every Wednesday and Sunday night. Often he prayed alone for the conversion of his town and people. Winter or summer, rain or shine, on Lord's Day morning he walked five miles to Akita that he might, with his brethren, celebrate the Lord's death. Sometimes he came alone; more often some of the younger Christian men came with him. He had been very sick some weeks before Christmas, and at that time he made this request of us: 'Please pray that I may not be taken until after Christmas; you are all so busy with the children.' He was unable to be downstairs for the Christmas exercises, but one whom he had led to Christ and into the ministry prayed that the songs of the children wafted to his upper room might bless his soul. Mr. Noto's prayer was answered; his summons came, as he had asked, on New Year's day. Buddhist relatives, knowing his wife's temptation to turn to idols, thought that she would now return to her old religion. Not so; her faith deepened. Instead of praying to stocks and stones, she constantly repeated, 'Our Father, who art in heaven.' For many years she had been a semi-invalid, and one night she called to her son and his wife and said: 'He is calling me; can't you hear? I must go to him.' After only six weeks of separation these two aged saints were again united in the presence of their Lord. So during the year we have been privileged to see men and women born into the Kingdom, and saints graduated into the higher life with God."

Miss Rose Armbruster writes as follows:

"Illness in the family of one Bible woman, and the marriage of another one left me practically alone almost the whole of the mission year. So, in addition to my already heavy load, the duties of these two were added. Miss Saito, the Bible woman who married, is now the wife of one of our good ministers, and so is still active and successful in the Lord's work.

"I made one evangelistic trip to Tsurugaoka and Sakata, staying three and four days respectively, having meetings for women and children during the day, and also having meetings for all classes at night. To the country people an hour's meeting means nothing. They stay from 6 P. M. till almost midnight. The Sunday-schools, Christian Endeavor Society, and the woman's work in Akita City all show a lively growth. Four boys and three girls, each about fourteen years of age, were baptized from the two city Sunday-schools in my charge. The Sunday-school at Narayama raised money themselves and re-papered the chapel. They also have four dollars raised toward paying for the installation of gas lights. Besides this, along with our other Akita Sunday-schools, they made contributions for the poor and for famine relief work. I was re-elected president of the Akita City Sunday-school Association.

"The earthquake in March knocked the plaster off the walls of home, chapel, and kindergarten, but the work did not suffer; it rather gave our people an opportunity to show Christian sympathy in a practical way by contributing to the relief of the unfortunate.

"Serving on four mission committees, as chairman of three of them, necessitated several trips to Tokyo and one to Osaka, and thus much valuable time was taken future. For the first time in our history a Japanese general evangelist was employed. He visited all the stations, helping to unify and encourage all the work. By supporting the Sunday-school and preaching place from his own meager allowance, he is teaching the other Christians to love the church and to sacrifice for it. Mr. Moriyama, a fine, enthusiastic young preacher, has begun a work among the railroad men. In the stations, engine and repair shops, or anywhere he can find men with a few minutes' leisure, he conducts meetings and sells Bibles. In large stations he has regular engagements; in smaller places he arranges dates by telephone. He has free use of the railroad and the telephone service. His meetings number at least sixty a month, and the attendance ranges from eight to fifty.

"Deaths.—With the coming of new workers and the baptism of new Christians we must record the promotion into the higher life of our older Christians; especially to be noted among these are Mr. and Mrs. Noto, of the Tsuchizaki congregation. For over twenty-five years Mr. Noto opened the church every Wednesday and Sunday night. Often he prayed alone for the conversion of his town and people. Winter or summer, rain or shine, on Lord's Day morning he walked five miles to Akita that he might, with his brethren, celebrate the Lord's death. Sometimes he came alone; more often some of the younger Christian men came with him. He had been very sick some weeks before Christmas, and at that time he made this request of us: 'Please pray that I may not be taken until after Christmas; you are all so busy with the children.' He was unable to be downstairs for the Christmas exercises, but one whom he had led to Christ and into the ministry prayed that the songs of the children wafted to his upper room might bless his soul. Mr. Noto's prayer was answered; his summons came, as he had asked, on New Year's day. Buddhist relatives, knowing his wife's temptation to turn to idols, thought that she would now return to her old religion. Not so; her faith deepened. Instead of praying to stocks and stones, she constantly repeated, 'Our Father, who art in heaven.' For many years she had been a semi-invalid, and one night she called to her son and his wife and said: 'He is calling me; can't you hear? I must go to him.' After only six weeks of separation these two aged saints were again united in the presence of their Lord. So during the year we have been privileged to see men and women born into the Kingdom, and saints graduated into the higher life with God."

Miss Rose Armbruster writes as follows:

"Illness in the family of one Bible woman, and the marriage of another one left me practically alone almost the whole of the mission year. So, in addition to my already heavy load, the duties of these two were added. Miss Saito, the Bible woman who married, is now the wife of one of our good ministers, and so is still active and successful in the Lord's work.

"I made one evangelistic trip to Tsurugaoka and Sakata, staying three and four days respectively, having meetings for women and children during the day, and also having meetings for all classes at night. To the country people an hour's meeting means nothing. They stay from 6 P. M. till almost midnight. The Sunday-schools, Christian Endeavor Society, and the woman's work in Akita City all show a lively growth. Four boys and three girls, each about fourteen years of age, were baptized from the two city Sunday-schools in my charge. The Sunday-school at Narayama raised money themselves and re-papered the chapel. They also have four dollars raised toward paying for the installation of gas lights. Besides this, along with our other Akita Sunday-schools, they made contributions for the poor and for famine relief work. I was re-elected president of the Akita City Sunday-school Association.

"The earthquake in March knocked the plaster off the walls of home, chapel, and kindergarten, but the work did not suffer; it rather gave our people an opportunity to show Christian sympathy in a practical way by contributing to the relief of the unfortunate.

"Serving on four mission committees, as chairman of three of them, necessitated several trips to Tokyo and one to Osaka, and thus much valuable time was taken from evangelistic work. But this, too, is a part of the King's business. One trip was made into the famine district, assisting in relief work; and at the time of the awful earthquake, financial assistance was given to the Red Cross workers. Friends who sent money for these two purposes can never realize what a great blessing it was. Not the least of the year's joys has been the number of visitors who have been in our isolated Akita homes."

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Oliphant report that, although they are to be permanently located in Akita City, they are spending their first year in Tokyo, in language study, preparatory to future usefulness. As a rest from language study, and in order to be helping even a little bit in the work, Mr. Oliphant has been teaching an English Bible class.

Miss Gretchen Garst reports for the Akita Kindergarten, for the school year ending March 25, 1914:

"The school year started off most happily with thirty-one children enrolled from the previous year. Thirty-seven children entered during the year, thus making a total enrollment of sixty-eight, though the enrollment at any one time was not so large as that. The average attendance was only forty-two, a fact which emphasizes the need of impressing upon both mothers and children the importance of regularity. The Sunday-school had an average attendance about the same as the kindergarten; and mothers' meetings, including Mrs. McCall's cooking class, were conducted as usual.

"The books show $141.75 received in tuition, and gifts from friends in America and here amounting to $25.25, exclusive of a special piano fund of $85. In order to get a piano that is made for this climate and that will stand the hard wear that a school piano gets, we must have $200. We hope that the fund will soon make this possible, for a piano is one of our greatest needs.

"The figures for the year are comparatively low, but there are elements which make it a marked period. It was out of the ordinary that I, a new missionary, came directly to my work and had the responsibility of the kindergarten from the very start. I studied regularly, however, and was able to enter the second-year class of the Language School. Leaving the kindergarten without the presence of a foreign head was something of an experiment, but I am happy to say it has fulfilled my highest hopes. The teachers have worked in unity of spirit and have kept the kindergarten up splendidly. Each girl has done her part most creditably, but special mention is due to Miss Yoshi Sado, the head kindergartner. Her father died in January, and when the plans of the family began to take shape, it was thought that she should return to her mother. Had she done so, my work at the Language School would have ended with the winter term and I could not have finished with my class. She put aside the strongest traditions of her country and not only planned to stay until the close of the school this summer, but is planning to be here until the end of the present school year. In that way we shall have a year of real work together, and I can learn more of the details of the kindergarten than I have been able to grasp thus far. Miss Sado's consecrated willingness to undertake the task, and having once undertaken it, her determination to stick to it, made it possible for me to have this year in the Language School. Only time can show what a valuable preparation it has been.

"What we can put on paper is really such a small part of what we see and do. The joy of the children in the daily activities of the kindergarten, the gratitude of the mothers for everything that we do, the increasing cordiality of friends as acquaintance broadens, and the general attitude of good-will, shown by a lengthy report of the Christmas exercises in a daily paper of Akita City—all crown the efforts of those who have worked for the kindergarten, and promise much for the future if only we do our best."

SENDAI.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and Miss Asbury report:

"Two of our women evangelists have married and removed from the district this year, so we have only one left. Of our six men evangelists, two were very ill during the last quarter of the year, and the work suffered much on this account, more especially because Mr. Robinson was called away so many times on committee work. Our beloved brother, Mr. Suto, the Sendai pastor, is lingering between life and death as I write this report. But notwithstanding these adverse conditions there are causes for rejoicing. There has been a twenty-five per cent increase in Sunday-school enrollment, so that now we have 1,158 pupils enrolled in our fifteen Sunday-schools. There have been thirty-seven additions to the churches in this district during the year. Besides the usual touring among the churches, Mr. Robinson has had an English Bible class at Fukushima on Sunday mornings, and another one in his home on Saturday afternoons. He has also assisted in the management of the Sendai Christian Union Orphanage.

"The Sendai mission force was greatly strengthened this year by the transfer of Miss Jessie J. Asbury from Akita to Sendai, when she returned from furlough. She has lived with her Bible woman in a native house, and has been getting acquainted with the city and country work. She has made four trips to the out-stations, sometimes having to teach the Sunday-schools alone.

"Besides making evangelistic calls on the Christians and inquirers in Sendai, Mrs. Robinson and Miss Asbury have had three different women's meetings, namely, a monthly meeting for all the women of the church, a semi-monthly meeting for unbelievers, and a weekly meeting for girl students. Mrs. Robinson and Miss Asbury have also assisted in the local Sunday-school work and in the church music."

The opportunities in the Sendai district are truly great. The work is scattered over three prefectures, embracing a population of more than two and a half millions. Besides Sendai, which has a population of 100,000, there are four cities in this territory averaging 35,000 each. To one of this four, namely, Fukushima, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Young will go in September of this year. Twenty-six miles from Fukushima by rail is Yonezawa, another one of the four, where there is not one missionary of any communion. We ought to put somebody there. Although there are ten Protestant bodies at work in this great field besides ourselves, investigation has shown that, as most of them are confined to school work, more than fifty per cent of the population have as yet had no adequate opportunity to hear the gospel. The field is ripe as never before; pray ye the Lord of the harvest to send forth reapers.

TOKYO.

Mr. and Mrs. Hagin report:

"In making a report one is conscious of the limitations of human knowledge. Men lay emphasis upon arithmetic and upon the spectacular elements, which probably enter very little into Heaven's impartial estimate of our spiritual labors for Him who reigneth in righteousness.

"Baptisms.—The total number of baptisms to the close of the mission year is thirty-five, with fifteen since then. The total of $312.27 contributed by the churches is nearly double that of last year. Things are encouraging.

"The current year, in addition to our regular work, we have had charge of the work left by Mr. and Mrs. Davey.

"Koishikawa.—The work in the Koishikawa church is progressing. The attendance is good. Mr. Davey's Bible class at the Oriental College, and Mrs. Davey's Bible class at the church have been taught by Mr. Hagin. The two Bible women have industriously kept up the three Sunday-schools and Mrs. Davey's women's work. Several of the reported baptisms are from this work. Mr. Davey's work at Mito City is perhaps the best sustained of the Tokyo out-stations. Here Mr. Hayakawa and his bride have labored in true humility, faith, and love.

"Mrs. Hagin and her Bible woman, Miss Murase, have made evangelistic calls in 120 homes in Hongo Ku. Thus many women have received their only spiritual light. Most of the superintendence of six Sunday-schools has been by Mrs. Hagin.

"The Sunday-school at Akibono Cho, where Mr. Imamura labors, has been self-supporting from the first. Two artists painted large pictures for use at Christmas time for this school.

"Shizuoka.—When Mr. Nishioka died at Shizuoka, there were twelve resident Christians left in the church. Nearly a year elapsed before another pastor was found. But seven of the scattered flock have returned, and there have been two baptisms.

"Kofu.—This place, which seemed very sleepy and inactive, is waking up, and reports eleven baptisms.

"Toride.—Mr. Teranishi has preached the gospel earnestly here in his weekly visits.

"Kominato, Amatsu, and Maebara.—Towns ranging from two to eight thousand have no messenger of the Kingdom except Mr. Ebihara, who makes monthly trips to these stations.

"The Church Paper.—Mr. Hasegawa, pastor of the Koishikawa church, has devoted considerable time to publishing our church paper, The Bible Way, besides making several evangelistic trips.

"New Work.—Mr. Hagin has had especial joy in opening work on the island of Hachijo, both because of God's wonderful leading and His blessing upon it. Last January Mr. Nagai, of Los Angeles, formerly Mr. Guy's secretary, called at the Hagin home and urged a visit to the island. Pastor Takagi, of Chiba, was also asked to take up this work. As a result of the visits in February and in June, seven persons have been baptized, and others will be ready for baptism in the autumn. In the island's population of ten thousand there is but one Christian, not a member of our church. The governor of the island gave Mr. Hagin a certificate of welcome to establish Christianity there, as no other missionary or Japanese had concerned himself with those people. It seems that God has given each missionary a little empire where harvests are waiting, and also where there are weak elements and discordant subjects who can only be perfected by the help of God's Holy Spirit. The dear Lord have mercy on us, and give us grace to feed the sheep and lambs so precious to the Great Shepherd."

Miss Kate V. Johnson reports:

"The name Sendagi has been dropped, and this section of Hongo is now called Komagome Cho. Mr. S. Yoshida is pastor of the church here. The regular Lord's Day and prayer-meeting services have been held. In addition to this, Mr. Yoshida has preached in schools, other churches, and homes. He said to Dr. and Mrs. Lindsay, 'My aim is not to build up a big church, nor even a self-supporting church, but I do want to see Christ formed in these people.' Our Sunday-school is conducted by three of my girls. Another one teaches a kindergarten Sunday-school.

"The woman's meeting met regularly in my home, except during the months of Miss Yamura's serious illness. Was her illness a hindrance to the work? Rather it was an opportunity for others to prove their love by their works. They were so loving and comforting that they denied themselves to give to her and her brother, who is also a victim of tuberculosis. Was her twelve years of training in a Christian home in vain? She came out of idolatry into the light of His love. Her Bible was her joy and comfort during her long illness, and just before she died she saw a vision of things unseen by mortals. Her face beamed with joy as she said: 'O heaven, my home; I am going home! Tell Miss Johnson and the girls, "All is well."'

"Several friends sent money to the girls that they might buy themselves something for Christmas. They used it all for the sick and for famine sufferers.

"The best thing of the year is the earnest, prayerful attitude of our Christians toward all evangelistic efforts. Their work at the exposition gave them as much joy as it gave those who listened to the gospel for the first time. I received permission from the station-master to distribute tracts to the immense throngs that arrived at and departed from Uyeno Railroad Station. About eight thousand tracts and Scripture portions, with a personal invitation to attend the gospel meetings at the exposition, were given out. The station porters and the Young Women's Christian Association ladies, who were there at the request of the Government to look after homeless girls arriving in Tokyo, assisted in distributing tracts.

"The prison-gate rescue work, which is in charge of Mr. Hara, grows more interesting every year. Our Christians sent an offering of five yen ($2.50) to help him.

"There are fourteen girls in my home at present.

"I have had charge of Miss Rioch's day school of 230 pupils and the Matsugai Cho kindergarten during Miss Rioch's absence on furlough. Mrs. Lee, a school-teacher from San Diego, who had never thought it necessary to work for Japan while there was so much to be done in America, attended the Commencement exercises, and was deeply impressed with the work of the teachers and pupils, and also with the character of Mr. Yoshida, who addressed them that day. Mrs. Lee has another viewpoint now, and since she has returned to San Diego she has a story to tell that will interest all who hear of the work that Miss Rioch is doing in Japan."

Miss Lavenia Oldham reports:

"Our mission year closes with its multiplicity of joys and sorrows. It seems my own work, crippled by the resignations of Mr. Marayama, our much-esteemed evangelist, and of Mrs. Shimura, who has for several years—ever since her graduation—been my Bible woman. She was one of my own girls, and for the past twelve years has been in my home. She has been faithful and true to her Christian duty in the work of the mission. She leaves to join her husband in Los Angeles.

"Death, too, has come with his sickle and cut down two who were near and dear to me. My dear old aunt, a second mother to me, and Miss Wirick, a neighbor, friend, and co-laborer on the mission field, have been called home. It was my sad privilege to be with Miss Wirick during her last illness. Night and day I ministered to her necessities, and I was the only one of our people who was present when she breathed her last. For twenty-one years we have been warm friends, and nothing ever occurred to mar our love for each other.

"During the year we held one protracted meeting at our Ushigome church, which roused among those who attended it a deeper interest in things spiritual, and some were led to Christ. The church is planning to become self-supporting soon. Our women's meetings in our home were well attended, and all seemed to enjoy hearing the gospel.

"I went to Hachioji, an out-station, many times. Mr. Tatebi is the evangelist in charge. At our women's meetings there fifty or more women were always present and listened with deep interest to the gospel.

"Miss Rioch's second kindergarten, which is at Shimototsuka Machi, has been in my care. Twenty-five children were in regular attendance, and at the close of the school year there were ten graduates. We held meetings for the mothers, of whom ten or twelve were usually present.

"My day school had about thirty children in attendance. As there was no hope for its growth without more financial help, I requested that it be closed and a preaching place opened in a more promising part of the city. I have eight girls in training in my home. For the past three years these have been supported by me from my own salary, except for one and a half scholarships and an emergency grant by the mission. This leaves their future unprovided for. Who will help me to care for these girls? I need help badly. These children are bright, intelligent, and are growing into useful Christian womanhood.

"Pray for us that we may be steadfast and true in the Lord's work."

TAKINOGAWA.

Margaret K. Long Girls' School.—This year has been the best in the history of this institution in attendance, progress, and the character and amount of the work done. We have over one-third more students than last year, and we hope to double our enrollment before this year shall have closed. Our school now has thirty-one graduates in Japan, China, Korea, Canada, and the United States.

We are still in the suburbs of Tokyo, which is rapidly building out our way. Soon we will be within five minutes' walk of the street-car. This puts us in close touch with the city and should bring us many new students. The future of our school is secure if we are but faithful in these days of small things.

Miss Lediard returned from Canada last autumn, after a strenuous furlough at home, greatly renewed in strength, faith, and courage. She at once took her place in the school as a teacher of music and English; she also teaches a class in the Life of Christ in the Bible College, and a fine Sunday-school class of high school girls at the church. The monthly meeting of women teachers and wives of men teachers is in her charge. Her kindly, efficient help along all lines of church and Sunday-school work makes her services invaluable.

Miss Parker began her work in the Home Economics Department last year in rooms temporarily fitted up in the dormitory. This department has proved very attractive, bringing in several new students. Because of small rooms and poor accommodations, we have not pushed this work as we shall do after our handsome new building is completed and dedicated in October. Besides her special work in this department, Miss Parker has assisted in the English teaching, continued her study of Japanese, and helped in our evangelistic work.

Miss Winifred Brown came to us last October from Bonham, Texas, to take charge of our music department. Her coming has fulfilled a long desire of our hearts. She knows her subject thoroughly, and is a whole-hearted, consecrated worker. Like all new missionaries, she is given her first two years for uninterrupted language study.

Much of the success of the work is due to the faithfulness of our Japanese teachers. Without their co-operation and loyalty we could do very little. Mr. Y. Hirai has been the mainstay of this school for five years. He bears a very heavy part in the management and control of the school, in which he is a teacher of the Bible. He is also pastor of the Takinogawa church.

Miss Bertha Clawson has had the general oversight of the school, has taught in the Bible department, assisted in the English work, and directed the evangelistic activities. She has been appointed on the Board of Trustees of the Florence Crittenden Home, as Miss Wirick's successor. In the early fall she made one evangelistic trip through the northern districts, which she enjoyed greatly. There is need for more such trips.

This has been a record year thus far in the evangelistic work of the school and of the Takinogawa station. All the graduates from the beginning of the school, excepting one, are Christians. As the school grows in numbers possibly this standard can not be maintained, but the ideal is that every girl who leaves the school shall go out a Christian, and all the Christian teachers work to that end. Sixteen girls have been baptized this year. Most of those who have not yet taken a decided stand for Christ are enrolled as inquirers. One of the male teachers, a graduate of the Imperial University, who has taught in both of our schools for six years, was baptized this year, and is an elder in the church. His growth in the Christian life is beautiful. Three of our faithful women teachers are carefully but surely groping their way out of darkness into the light. Our non-Christian men teachers are still halting in their decisions; the way is so long for feet that have wandered in dark places so many years. We pray for faith and strength and courage. The Young People's Social Christian Endeavor and Young Women's Christian Temperance Union Societies are very active in good works. The Wednesday evening women's meeting, held in the school library, for the wives and daughters of farmers, merchants, and tradespeople in our neighborhood, resulted in five baptisms this year, a good roll of inquirers, and $8.20 raised for church and charitable purposes. This work is a part of the training for our girls in the Bible College. They do most of the calling and, with their teachers, are responsible for all the meetings. This does much towards building up the church. Our chief joy in this is to watch the spiritual and practical growth of these women. It is much easier to make Christians than to hold and develop them.

Our five Sunday-schools, operated wholly by the teachers and girls of the school, are a great joy. They form another branch of our training for women evangelists. One Sunday-school, held in the school library, for the dormitory girls and day girls whose families permit them to attend, resulted in the leading to Christ of many of the younger girls by their teacher, Miss Toyono Kawamura. The other four schools are held in four villages in close proximity to us. In all these schools the Bible College and high school girls, who teach in them, put into practice the methods they learn in the weekly teachers' training class. These Sunday-schools have opened many beautiful homes to us where the gospel now has free access. Many of the children who attend these Sunday-schools are seriously considering the claims of Christ on their lives.

Miss Clawson has served on the Promotion Committee of the Union Christian College for Japanese Women. This proposed college is one of the greatest onward steps in the history of Japanese mission work. Such a college is soon to be begun in Madras, India, and such a one is already begun in Nanking, China, where it proves to be a mighty factor in evangelistic work. This proposed Union Christian College for Japanese Women will be launched in April of 1916. As soon as the funds are forthcoming, twenty acres of land will be bought as a site. It is proposed to raise one million dollars for this enterprise. In China our mission has a great part in the union work, and in Japan we confidently expect to be one of the first missions in launching this enterprise. We ask the churches at home to keep this work in their thoughts and prayers.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. A. Young report their work as follows:

"Although members of the Sendai station, we have been living for two years in Tokyo, giving Mr. Young opportunity for attending the Japanese Language School. Since September, 1913, Mrs. Young has had charge of the Takinogawa kindergarten and the women's work connected with it; has also assisted in teaching English in the Boys' School, and has had charge of one of the Sunday-schools in connection with the work done by the girls in the Bible school.

"Mr. Young has attended daily the Japanese Language School and has given practically his full time to that work. However, he has had charge of an English Bible class, which meets every Sunday morning in the Boys' School building. From time to time during the year he has also delivered a series of lectures on practical theology to the students of the Bible College. From September, 1914, we expect to be located at Fukushima."

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McCoy have been on the field only seven months of the past mission year. They reached Japan for their second term of service on October 24th of last year. Mr. McCoy reports: "The year and a half spent at home proved a great blessing in renewed physical energy, a broader acquaintance with the home churches, and in the opportunity for further study and preparation for our work. We came back gladly, and were given a joyful welcome by our fellow missionary workers and Japanese brethren. It was with a feeling of having reached home that we entered the campus of Drake Bible College and took up our regular round of school duties again. We found all departments of the work in a hopeful condition, and the succeeding months have witnessed a healthful growth in religious fervor and spiritual interests."

Drake Bible College has had a regular attendance of thirteen students during the year, which is better than for several years past. These young men came from our various districts, and while in school, aside from their regular studies, took an active part in the work of the churches and Sunday-schools of Tokyo and its suburbs. Each student has some regular Sunday appointment, and besides that assists in the regular Saturday night evangelistic meetings at Oji, an out-station near the school, and in all special meetings. Professors Ishikawa and Otsuka also frequently assist in the regular and special preaching services of our Tokyo and Takenogawa churches.

One feature of the work of the year that proved of great benefit to the students and teachers of the Bible College was the special evangelistic campaign held near the entrance to the Taisho Exposition ground in Tokyo. All the evangelists, preachers, and missionaries of the Church of Christ, both independent and mission workers, joined whole-heartedly in this work. The week of association together of fifty workers proved to be a mighty inspiration to all, and the results—264 inquirers, four immediate baptisms, and one despondent man kept from murder—were convincing evidence that the gospel is the power of God unto salvation. The teachers and students of the Bible College bore their share of the work and, therefore, were strengthened in faith and zeal.

Three young men will be graduated from the Bible College this summer—two from the regular course and one from the special. The latter is a Korean, one of the young men baptized by Mr. Rains on his visit to Korea three years ago. The two regular course students have been in the school for four years. One will go to the north to work in the Akita district; the other will have charge of a preaching place in Tokyo.

The other departments of the school—the Middle School and English night school—have had only a slight increase in attendance over former years; but the regular work has gone on as usual. The interest in religious matters has shown a decided increase. This seeking after some vital spiritual force seems characteristic of the nation at this time. The Middle School Young Men's Christian Association has had a prosperous year; the best students of the school have been active in its work. Seven students and two teachers were baptized. There were twenty-four graduates from the Middle School in March.

Outside the regular Faculty of the Boys' School, there have been several special lecturers and teachers eminent in scholarship and achievement. Mr. T. A. Young conducted a weekly class in church polity and the practical work of the minister. Dr. Kosaki, of the Congregational church, lectured on his experience in building up an independent and self-supporting congregation. Dr. Takagi, of the Methodist College; President Motoda, of the Episcopal University, and Rev. Tomonaga, pastor of a large, independent church in Tokyo, also delivered very instructive lectures. Honorable S. Ebara, M. P., and the Rev. Messrs. Uemura and Kashiwai were called at different times to address the whole student body. These meetings resulted in much good. The interest in religious matters was greatly increased, and several baptisms have resulted.

In closing, Mr. McCoy says: "We look toward the new year with great hope and faith. The new building for our Bible College is almost completed. It will greatly add to the efficiency of our school and increase the attendance. We expect to inaugurate daily chapel exercises, which will become one of the vital religious influences of the school. This new building will also house the Takenogawa church.

"The Mothers' Club and Girls' Club, under the direction of Mrs. McCoy, have had a prosperous year. In fact, we have great cause for thankfulness and encouragement over every phase of religious activity in connection with the schools. There have been in all forty baptisms this year. God has blessed the little we have been able to do; He has made use even of vessels of clay."

OSAKA.

Mr. and Mrs. Erskine report:

"Our time since returning to Japan and locating in Osaka one year ago has been spent in preparation and waiting. 'Waiting is long,' says a Japanese proverb, and we feel this all too truly. The work in the Tennoji church is slow. There are no additions this year—enough in itself to discourage the most hopeful. The prayer-meeting continues to be a meeting of workers only. The Sunday morning attendance is improving somewhat. Were it not that this church has passed through a severe crisis, one would be so discouraged he would wish to remove its candlestick. But we believe there is a day when the church will revive. The pastor, Mr. Sawaki, being physically weak, is unable to do as much as the congregation needs to have done. During his long and severe illness Mr. Erskine had full responsibility for the services and did most of the preaching. Always he assists Mr. Sawaki in the regular services of the church and in pastoral calling. Mr. Erskine's English Bible class, meeting before the evening service, helps to feed that meeting. He also has a most encouraging Bible class of normal school teachers and students.

"The women's work at Tennoji church is its most encouraging feature. Mrs. Erskine is directing the women in spirituality and practical church work. A true Aid Society is slowly being built up. It meets regularly once a month. Mrs. Erskine and Mrs. Sawaki reserve Tuesdays for evangelistic calling on the Aid Society women. We had hoped to get the institute night school started, but circumstances prevented.

"The Tennoji kindergarten has gone along well. We had to change assistant teachers once on account of illness. The head teacher continues at her post faithfully, and is doing excellent work. She is a woman of experience and mature judgment; this gives the kindergarten its good reputation. The kindergarten is on our own lot, where the children have plenty of room to play. We were pleased to see this especially commended in the Osaka Journal of Health. Ours is the first Christian kindergarten within the great city of Osaka. The attendance averages forty—as many as we have equipment for until our building is completed. The tuition is fifty cents a month. Twelve children were graduated this year, and most of them entered the first grade of the Normal Model School. Soon after that the Normal School teacher visited the kindergarten and complimented Mrs. Sawaki on graduating such excellent pupils. He felt she had done him a real service.

"Mrs. Erskine spent Friday afternoons calling with one of the teachers in the homes of the kindergarten pupils. The teachers have one calling day besides this. Several very successful mothers' meetings were held during the year, besides the Christmas entertainment. The talks by pastors of independent churches and by physicians were well received. These teachers have also been busy in the Tennoji church Sunday-school work, and assist in the Shimpoin Cho and Tanabi missions.

"Besides her work in the school and kindergarten, Mrs. Erskine is school-teacher to her own children. Many guests from abroad have been joyfully entertained in our home. An American physician in Japan said, 'The missionary mother is a four-in-one woman: home-keeper, mother, schoolteacher, and missionary, which is more than most women ought to stand.'

"In addition to his work at the Tennoji church, Mr. Erskine made one trip to the out-stations, and has had the heavy work of mission secretary. This has taken a great deal of time—at least three days a week of solid work at the typewriter, in correspondence and in copying official letters. He is also a member of the Land and Building Committee, helping to plan and build the Madden home, the Economic and Music Building for the Girls' School, the Bible College for the Boys' School, as well as the oversight of mission property repairs. All this has left a minimum of time for direct evangelistic work.

"Besides the pressing mission duties, he has worked over two Bible study courses and completed one university correspondence course, for which he received his certificate. This work suggested several articles, which have been published in the Japan Evangelist and in the American Psychological Review. He also revised his play, 'The Japanese Wedding,' which was given at The World in Cincinnati, and published by the Foreign Christian Missionary Society. His mornings as much as possible have been given to language study, an eight-hundred-page classical, sociological novel having been read in Japanese. Two Japanese sermons have been published in our church paper. While to his great disappointment he can not point to one soul led to Christ directly by him, this year has been his busiest in Japan and has been fruitful in many ways.

"The three Erskine children seek as much as their little minds and hearts can to do the things Jesus would have them do, as one of them said, 'So that the little Japanese children will learn to love Jesus through the Jesus children.'"

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Madden report:

"In Osaka City evangelistic services in the Kizukawa factory district at the night street markets twice a week were well attended, but the church meetings at the same place were small.

"One evangelistic trip with Mr. Hosokai was made to the out-stations, with good results. The country work is crippled by our inability to find a man for that work. The Sunday-schools and women's classes at the five out-stations, however, have been kept flourishing by the earnest work of the Bible women, of whom Miss Iwama deserves special praise. Meetings were begun for the neighborhood people in the Madden home in January by Mr. Kosokai, and a promising class of inquirers has developed. The Sunday-school in this home, with no advertising whatever, averages twenty. There has been a very helpful monthly prayer and business meeting for workers. Self-support has especially been taught.

"New Work.—In March a kindergarten was opened in the Kizukawa preaching place, a tiny native house. A small tuition is charged, and the second week we were crowded with fifty children, who have been most regular attendants. The first month refusals were a daily occurrence. It was pitiful the way parents and grandparents of the little tots came daily to beg us to take 'just this one more;' but there is no playground at all, and scarcely standing room for the ones already admitted. Two mothers' meetings, attended by forty women, and a picnic, also well attended by mothers, were held for this kindergarten.

"New Workers.—This new kindergarten brought into the Osaka work Mrs. Matsumoto, who was educated and worked as a Bible woman in Sendai. She is now a widow with one child. In addition to the kindergarten work, with its necessary calling and mothers' meetings, she has taught in the Kizukawa Sunday-school and had charge of the one in the Madden home. Miss Ohashi, one of the Kizukawa Christians, is the assistant in this kindergarten. Miss Imanishi, one of the Bible women, helped the first month.

"Interruptions.—Both the Osaka pastors have been ill during the year. Never before have our own family affairs demanded so much time. Mrs. Madden's long illness last winter, and again in April; Mr. Madden's case of lacquer poisoning, just at the busy Christmas time; Ted's illness in April, and Mr. Madden's necessary trip to Oregon to get the three older boys settled in school, and the departure of two of these boys (the eldest already there), all seemed a great hindrance to evangelistic work planned. Yet in some measure these very trials brought out the sympathy of our Japanese friends as we never knew it before.

"Mrs. Madden visited each of the out-stations once this year, and the nearer ones several times. With Miss Iwama's help, the translation into Japanese of a book of fifty-two Sunday stories was begun.

"Hindrances.—Always in Osaka we suffer from lack of workers, both native and missionary. Surely the brethren do not realize how pitifully small is our force in that city of nearly two million, with as many more in close proximity to it. We could easily place ten workers where we now have two. Pray for Osaka, the proud, idolatrous, materialistic Chicago of Japan."

STATIONS AND MISSIONARIES.

Bolenge.—A. F. Hensey, Mrs. A. F. Hensey, E. R. Moon, Mrs. E. R. Moon, Miss Edna V. Eck; evangelists, 68; teachers, 16; helpers, 15.

Longa.—E. A. Johnston, Mrs. E. A. Johnston, C. P. Hedges, Mrs. C. P. Hedges, H. C. Hobgood; Dr. W. A. Frymire; evangelists, 28; teachers, 4; helpers, 2.

Lotumbe.—Herbert Smith, Mrs. Herbert Smith; evangelists, 40; teachers, 9; helpers, 3.

Monieka.—Dr. L. F. Jaggard, Mrs. L. F. Jaggard, W. R. Holder, Miss Edith L. Apperson; evangelists, 20; helpers, 81.

The past year has been another great year in the history of the African mission. The Lord has greatly blessed our work, not only in the adding of 1,034 souls to the church, but also in the spiritual growth of the older members. Our blessings, however, have been mingled with tears, for the Lord has called from our midst some of the oldest members of the native church and one of our own beloved missionaries, R. Ray Eldred. A more noble, consecrated, and efficient missionary has never come to the Congo work. The total membership of the native church has reached 3,736. Their offerings during the year amounted to $1,181.81. Our force has been strengthened by the coming of Mrs. Hedges, Miss Apperson, Mr. and Mrs. Johnston, and Dr. Frymire, all consecrated and well equipped for their work. At this time we are rejoicing because of the good news of the appointment of Dr. and Mrs. Barger to the African mission. We ask for your continued prayer and support that we may be able to occupy the great field which God has given us.

BOLENGE.

Evangelistic.—The advance up the Ngiri River, taking the gospel to the Ba-Loi and the Ibinza, with the advance toward the Nkölö in the interior, and the holding of the many outposts planted in former years—these are the outstanding features of the year's evangelistic activity.

There have been 424 baptisms, 105 of whom are from the Ba-Loi, and sixty-three from the Ibinza. It is still the seed-sowing time among the Nkölö. The district evangelists, Bökenge, Is'olumbu, Bitumba, and Kasongo, have done excellent work, and the pastoral gift is being developed among many others.

As the year closes, quite a marked revival of the evangelistic spirit in the church has rejoiced our hearts, and we are glad to report that at present the staff of evangelists is of a higher character than it has ever been. The recent months have been noted because of the large number of polygamists who have given up their wives and brought their amulets to the mission. The out-station at Bojia has also been blessed by a revival, so that the Bible school there rivals the mother school at the station.

The Church.—The native church now numbers 1,716, but quite a number are now not resident either at Bolenge or any of the out-stations, as so many of them are in the employment of the trading companies. Their work takes them so far from the mission that we can not shepherd them at all. Thus far most of them have been faithful; but they are young, and such employment is full of temptations.

The first of January the officers were increased to five elders and seventeen deacons. One elder and seven deacons are in the evangelistic service, while two other deacons live at out-stations; so the officers now represent the whole church.

The offerings toward self-support, excluding that given by the missionaries, amount to 3,303.30 francs, or about $660.66.

Mr. Moon and Mr. Hensey have preached alternately at the services, and have made four trips to the Ubangi, on one of which the voyage was extended two days up the Ngiri, and the young church at Ngondo visited. This is the second largest out-station. A trip of twelve days was also made into the interior.

Mrs. Hensey and Mrs. Moon have conducted special meetings for the women, and Miss Eck has a Junior Christian Endeavor on Sunday afternoons for the little folks, which is an exceedingly popular service. From fifty to one hundred attend each time.

The Station.—Not much building has been attempted during the year, as Mr. Moon has had to be away with the steamer much of the time. The veranda on Mr. Moon's dwelling has been completed, and two other buildings re-roofed with "ndeke," as well as several smaller buildings. A native house of eleven rooms has been built for the accommodation of visiting Christians and inquirers, another of five rooms for sick people, and a temporary carpenter shop is partly built. About twenty thousand brick have been made, but are not yet burned. Brick pillars have been put under the single ladies' home, Mr. Hensey's dwelling repaired, and the sheep house rebuilt.

Educational.—The day school has been conducted by Mrs. Hensey, with a good attendance and rather unusual interest. Since her return Miss Eck has started her kindergarten again, and the little ones are very interested. But perhaps the best thing has been the starting of the women's school in April. This is held late in the afternoon, when their work is done, and about seventy-five women are eagerly seeking to learn to read and write. As this school is new, we can not say how long this interest will last, but it starts out with enthusiasm.

Mrs. Hensey also conducts a daily teachers' class, as well as giving some work in French.

The boys' school has been again under the charge of Mbolokola, and many have made good progress. The boys, in addition to their school work, do quite a lot of work around the station. About a hundred different boys have been enrolled during the year.

The orphanage work has been combined and rather overshadowed by the work among the refugee women. A recent decision of the Government permitting all wives of polygamists to leave their husbands and come to the missions has resulted in about thirty of them coming to Bolenge. They work a little every day for their food, and come to school twice; they also have sewing lessons.

Medical.—As for another year no doctor has been on the station, the other missionaries, with the help of native assistants, have carried on the dispensary work. Some 9,000 treatments have been given. The medical work has taken a good deal of time from other parts of the work, but it is a ministry which grows more and more necessary.

Dr. and Mrs. Barger are expected to arrive at Bolenge about the beginning of next year, and they will be gladly welcomed to this needy work.

Printing.—This has been the banner year for the printing work. A fourth edition of the Lonkundo Hymn-book, of 1,000 copies; a third edition of the Primer, 500 copies; a second edition of the Reader, 500 copies; also 1,000 copies of the little French-Lonkundo Primer which Mr. Eldred had nearly completed when he was called up higher, have been printed, besides marriage certificates, Christian Endeavor topic cards, etc., as well as the Lonkundo-English part of the Vocabulary, making in all about 292,000 pages printed during the year, and about 3,650 books and booklets bound. In this department we have passed the day of small things. This department has been again in charge of Mr. Hensey.

All the workers have been in good health, and we are grateful to the Father.

S. S. "OREGON."

The S. S. Oregon has made the usual long trips to Stanley Pool this year, bringing up the supplies for our mission and for our neighbors, the Congo Balolo Mission. The first one of these trips was made by Dr. Jaggard; since then the steamer has been in the charge of E. R. Moon. Besides these trips for cargo, the Oregon has made a few short evangelistic trips. One of these was into a new field, up the Ngiri River. We found this stream so narrow and crooked that we could only get up about a day and a half. On these evangelistic trips there were seventy-nine baptisms. The steamer department now has a good shop partly completed. During the year we received for carrying cargo $1,531.08. Some of this amount has been spent in equipping our new shop, and some as partial payment for the new deck which we find it necessary to put on the Oregon, our first deck being of yellow pine, which will not stand this climate. Our new deck is to be of teak wood, which will last for many years. Five hundred dollars of the amount earned was spent for a small, steel boat about thirty feet long. This boat is taken with the Oregon to serve as a lighter, or a life-boat in case of accident.

LONGA.

During the first five months of this year we have no records. Mr. Eldred had sent out the evangelists, and was on an itineration trip through part of Longa's back country. He went on far above Lotumbe, and passed into the Land Beyond. During his absence Basele John and Darius Ngoe were in charge. A great effort has been put forth during the last seven months to emphasize efficiency. This is the key to the future plans in all our departments. To train the evangelists and teachers is the great aim, as well as to teach the school children and inquirers.

The Church.—The closing weeks of the year showed a deeper spirit of reverence in services. An earnest desire to know God's will and to do it seems to be growing. The additions and also the offerings have fallen off this year. We have had forty-six baptisms, and eighteen by letter; those who have left us for the home above, who have left by letter, or who have gone into sin, exceed our accessions by thirty-one.

The evangelists have done four quarters of seed-sowing, and in all the outposts save one there seems to be great prospects. This station has not been visited by the missionary for almost two years. Messrs. Hedges and Johnston made one itineration of thirty days through the interior outposts, visiting all but one of Longa's evangelists in their respective stations. Many are working in difficult fields, and some were enduring real persecutions for the gospel's sake. The missionaries were successful in winning the friendship of several antagonistic chiefs, which will perceptibly reduce the trials of the native evangelists.

Besides the many who are taught regularly at the out-stations, the Longa Bible School has an average attendance of 175. Mrs. Johnston has a new primary class with an enrollment of fifteen; she gratefully acknowledges the receipt of helpful primary picture rolls from friends at home. The Christian Endeavor is well attended and is a true training school for the Christians. Mr. Hedges has a class of twenty officers of the church and evangelists in training, who meet three nights weekly in his home to study Moninger's "Lessons in Teacher Training."

The women of the church meet weekly for Bible study and a prayer service with Mrs. Hedges. Even while alone they were faithful, but they were rejoiced to have the leadership of the "White Mamas" during the latter months of the year.

The native offering for the year was $78.21. Since the introduction of the envelope system six months ago the offerings have been on a constant increase.

Educational.—Darius Ngoe has been the mainstay of the school. Mr. Eldred left him in charge, and he has continued so throughout the year. He has five native assistants, all of whom are now profiting by Mrs. Johnston's special training, and we hope that soon they will become very efficient workers. Mrs. Hedges has had, since December, the evangelists under her care in primary training, and they are doing very creditable work. Lately Mr. Johnston has taken charge of the class in French. During the year over 150 boys and young men have attended regularly, and we have a large class of station workmen who attend afternoons.

Medical Work.—Medical work is probably the name for the thing we do here at Longa. It is work, and there is medicine mixed with it more often than not. "Impatients" would better designate the folk who come to us oftentimes before we are fairly awake, and occasionally "Bofale! Bofa!" is heard at midnight hours. Some are truly "cases," but hardly from a physician's standpoint. Not being such, naturally we can not get that viewpoint. We need some things badly at Longa, but none worse, perhaps none so much, as that doctor who is preparing for Africa. (Find him for us!) However, we have ministered to or medicated large numbers of folk during these first seven months in Congoland. From itch to icterus runs the list of ailments, from bugs to babies. A dose of castor oil may satisfy the mind and save the missionary's face while doing some little good, and it is easily administered; yet many a case is beyond our powers, although we manage intuitively to diagnose a goodly number. Best of all have been the six additions to African citizenship whose primary adjustments to their new sphere we have helped to make. The pathetic aspect of the black man's ignorance and sinfulness appeared vividly in the death of one of them. Poor little man with starved body and little vitality, his baby cry—louder than the shouts of war or the songs of contented labor—calls loudly for the help of Him who came "even as a little child!"

Building.—The building has been at a standstill this year. There has been a kiln of 30,000 bricks burned. A goodly supply of lumber has been gotten out of the forest and shaped up into usable material.

Refugee Women's Work.—Many women, wives of polygamous husbands, have come in seeking refuge. Some who came in last year have become Christians and have married Christian men. At the close of the year there are eight here for refuge, and all are enrolled in the inquirers' class.

LOTUMBE.

There has been much changing of forces at Lotumbe this year. For the first month and a half Messrs. Holder and Hobgood were in charge. Then Mr. Holder was transferred to Monieka, and Mr. Hobgood was temporarily transferred to Longa. During the next four months Mr. and Mrs. Hedges were stationed at Lotumbe. They did some splendid work on the station, and also instituted a more adequate system of church offerings which has resulted in greatly increased offerings from the natives. Mr. Eldred also rendered invaluable assistance to the Lotumbe work, and it was while on an itinerary in the Lotumbe field that his tragic death occurred.

When Dr. Frymire came out in October, he was sent to Lotumbe with Mr. Hobgood, who now returned to his own station. Dr. Frymire plunged into the work immediately, and has already saved several lives by his skill, and greatly increased the joy of others. We thank God for the coming of this skillful physician and true companion and friend.

Near the close of the year Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith returned, after an absence of seventeen months. This was occasion of great joy in Lotumbe, for they established the work there and the people think of them as peculiarly their own teachers, and as such they love them.

The Church.—This has been another year of large growth in the church. There have been 388 baptisms. The church now numbers 922. This is a growth of thirty-six per cent for the year. Of these perhaps 350 live in or near Lotumbe. Many Christians have moved in from heathen villages and built homes at Lotumbe. This gives them the advantages of church and school, and saves them from the terrible temptations of heathen surroundings. The number of deaths has been large. Others have fallen into evil. Many have sought work down river. Most of these are in the care of our other churches. The Sunday-school has about three hundred regular attendants.

Church Offerings.—There is much rejoicing over the substantial increase in the offerings during the year. More of the members have given regularly, and they have given more in proportion. The envelope system was introduced—modified, of course, to suit local conditions. In the place of envelopes a small cloth bag was given to each member. A number was placed on each bag, so that each member could use his bag over and over again. Each month those contributing were reported in the church. This has helped to keep the interest up. The total offering for the year from the native church was $234.60 as against $92 the year before. We hope that, as the system is perfected, the results will again increase.

Evangelistic Efforts.—The field which we are trying to evangelize from Lotumbe stretches for three hundred miles along the Momboya River and from fifteen to seventy-five miles on each side. We have evangelists in about thirty villages. It would require at least one hundred more to cover the field. Most of the evangelists are doing more real evangelistic work than formerly. Some of them go regularly on long itineraries, preaching the gospel in season and out of season. Iyete, Bongale, and Tumba, where we have large outposts, are too far from Lotumbe for the inquirers to come for baptism. There are now about three hundred in these three fields awaiting baptism. When the S. S. West Virginia arrives these distant outposts can be better looked after.

Educational Activities.—This side of the work has been emphasized to the limit of the time and strength of the missionaries. The situation demands such a course. Here in this land practically nothing is done for education outside of the missions. There is probably not one per cent of the people who have the slightest knowledge of reading and writing. Hence if the native Christians are to get inspiration from the Word of God, educational activities must be encouraged.

The schools in the Lotumbe territory have been supplied mostly by home-trained teachers. In the main these have done very well. The schools are making good progress. At the station the school is divided into different sections to meet the needs of the scholars and teachers. One section of men and women meet at 6 A. M., another section for girls at 9 A. M., another for boys at 10.30, and again in the afternoon a general school is in session. The women and girls deserve special mention from the fact that previously they have not paid attention to school work as they are now doing. There are over 150 in the Lotumbe schools, and in one section at least fifty know how to read.

Itineraries.—Two itineraries have been made. The first was made by Mr. Eldred and Mr. Hobgood. They first went from Longa to Lotumbe, a distance of about 140 miles. From Lotumbe they passed overland to Tumba. About 140 miles of this journey lay through a territory where we have no evangelists. The Catholics have several teachers along this path, but most of the people are still open to the truth. Services were held in most every village, Mr. Eldred and one of the natives usually speaking. This path leads through the borders of the great Ekonda tribe. Lotumbe has a large work to do for these people.

At Tumba a multitude of Christians came to meet their white men, especially

Mr. Eldred, whom they called "Our Elder." After his sad death they said he died for them. At so great a price are they learning the Father's abounding love.

At Tumba 178 were baptized. On the way home Mr. Hobgood stopped at the large outpost of Iyete; thirteen were baptized there. This whole journey covered about 675 miles.

At Christmas time Dr. Frymire, Mr. Hobgood, and Mr. Holder visited and taught in some of the towns lying between Lotumbe and Monieka. These itineraries have enabled us to preach the gospel to many, and to plan more wisely for the placing of workers.

Girls' Work.—For ten months of the year, during the absence of a lady missionary, the mission girls lived with Ekota Mboyo, a Christian woman in the village. Since February four new girls have been added to the orphanage. The girls are doing very well in school. Three are reading well, and one is assistant teacher in the girls' school.

More women attend the women's meetings this year, and more are taking a greater interest in the school work. While the women's and girls' work has not reached the standard we would wish, still there are many things to encourage us, and we are planning and looking forward to greater things in the future.

Medical Report.—The medical work of Lotumbe is in its infancy. The first permanently located physician began his work October 16, 1913, but due recognition is paid the heroic efforts of non-medical missionaries and non-resident doctors who labored here in attempts to alleviate physical suffering.

During the six and one-half months of which this is a report there have been very many applications for medicine and comparatively few requests for medical instruction and advice.

The medical work has been and will be for some time admittedly unscientific and unsatisfactory, and for the following reasons:

On the part of the physician—Inexperience in the practice of medicine; inability to understand and instruct in the native language; inability to translate into medical thought the interpretations of the other missionaries, and the inability to give treatments, perform surgical operations, and make scientific laboratory diagnoses with medicines, supplies, and apparatus that he does not possess.

On the part of the patients—Their wrong conception of medicine, including no conception of therapeutics; their erroneous idea of themselves as infallible diagnosticians; their refusal or inability to follow advice and instructions; their fatalism, and their prevarication.

In spite of these hindrances it is hoped that some little good has been accomplished, and that more and more will be as they are removed.

Summarizing the work of the period: There have been 13,500 treatments given; ten operations performed under general anesthesia, and 108 minor operations done. The total receipts for medicine and treatment were $90.35. Two medical (native) assistants are used in the work, and although probably the best the community affords, are highly inefficient as yet. Much hope is placed in their future development. The death rate of the village has been one and eight-tenths per cent; the birth rate, one per cent, making a loss of eight-tenths per cent in life.

The department aims for the new year are: Greater efficiency on the part of the physician and assistants; a class in hygiene, in which is taught personal and community sanitation; a pure water supply for the village; the elimination of all patients except those in actual need, and better care for these; the requiring of a fee from every patient, and in general to assist in making Lotumbe a healthy place morally, spiritually, physically.

MONIEKA.

In the beginning of the year Mr. Holder joined the Monieka force, and later, in October, Miss Apperson came to help in the work.

Station.—The work on the station consisted of the building of the veranda and bath-room for Dr. Jaggard's house, and a cook house and storeroom 20 x 12 feet. A two-room cottage for Miss Apperson has been sufficiently completed so that she can occupy it. Two workmen's houses have been built, each containing eleven rooms; also a shed for storing lumber and workshop combined, 75 x 25 feet. A small tool room, a small temporary dispensary, and also a temporary hospital have been erected. A large tabernacle, 80 x 60, built entirely of native material, has been erected. This has answered for both school and church services. This has necessitated the making of about 8,000 ndele mats for roofing.

Most of the time three, and part of the time four crews of sawyers have been working at lumber and have sawn about 2,800 planks and boards twelve feet long and averaging eight inches in width.

Dr. Jaggard made one trip to Leopoldville with the Oregon.

Church.—All of the regular services of the church have been maintained. There have been seven services weekly, and at times of evangelistic gatherings, many more. There have been added by baptism 176 during the year. Several have been disciplined, many returned, and others partially indifferent, but very few that can be counted as hopelessly lost. Ten have entered into the life that is beyond. The offering of the native church for the year is $208.74, only a little over that of last year, but the signs are a little better for an increase this year.

The Sunday-school has averaged 273 as against less than 200 last year.

Evangelistic.—As most of the time the missionaries have been at work on the station, only one real itinerating trip has been made. Mr. Holder and Dr. Jaggard were gone eleven days, visiting the out-stations between Monieka and Lotumbe. Mr. Holder has passed through this territory three times on his way to and from Lotumbe.

The work at thirteen out-stations has been carried on very acceptably by the twenty evangelists located there, and in many places a rather strong nucleus for a future church is being built up. At these places services are held each morning and evening.

School.—Most of the year an afternoon school for workmen has been conducted. All of the missionaries have had charge of classes. Some very remarkable progress has been made by some, and all have shown interest and attention. It is the aim to have all the evangelists to be able to read and write, and special efforts are being put forth to this end. Part of the year two native teachers have assisted in this school.

Since the coming of Miss Apperson a morning school for small children has been instituted, and has proved a marked success. Especially the little boys have been interested. Mrs. Jaggard assisted in this school in the beginning.

Women's Work.—Regular Sunday services have been held for the women, at which the lady missionaries have talked. Some of the meetings have been in charge of the most efficient Christian women. There has been an average attendance of about fifty at these meetings. A good percentage of the candidates for baptism have been women, and about twenty-five young single women have lived in Monieka under the protection of the church and Christian settlement. Three young women have been employed by the lady missionaries and taught needle work.

Medical.—In a medical way the services of the doctor have been much in demand by the traders of the companies. Nine major and several minor operations have been performed. Some 14,020 treatments have been given. Twice Dr. Frymire has ably assisted in the operating. The receipts in this department have amounted to $387.71.

Thankful for health and help during the past year, we begin the new year with brighter and better prospects.

SCANDINAVIA.

DENMARK.

This year has been one of special blessing in the work in Denmark. There has been an increase in numbers and in the offerings for home and foreign missions. Everything is moving on splendidly in the churches. The Lord has blessed the church in Copenhagen. The churches which have been separated for years have this year entered into good fellowship. While they are still working as separate organizations, they have had some good union meetings, and are now planning for union revival meetings for the coming winter. It is expected this will prove to be of great value for the future work in Denmark. It would be a great advantage if a traveling evangelist could be obtained so that the provinces and the country could be reached with the primitive gospel.

SWEDEN.

There has not been much gain in the work in Sweden. Inward strife has done much harm. The workers have tried to settle the difficulties, but without much success. There is a good Sunday-school at Limhamn, and they continue to keep up the meetings. A man has been engaged who lives in Landskrona. He travels around and distributes tracts and does some preaching. A good man is still needed for the work in Sweden.

CUBA.

STATIONS AND MISSIONARIES.

Out-stations: Union, Jovellanos.

It is difficult for a correct view of the work in Cuba for the past year to be given. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burner have been on the field just eight months, and have had an active part in the work only four months. It was with deep regret that they saw the former forces leave the island two months ago. At this time the entire responsibility of the mission fell on them.

The membership is not large and some of these are unfaithful, yet they rejoice to say that a goodly number are as gold tried by fire. When the missionaries see the sin and temptation about them, and see from what the native Christians themselves have come, they give thanks anew to the Father for the conquering power of His gospel.

Matanzas.—The work is experiencing very little growth, though I believe it is attracting the attention of a substantial class of people. With our slight knowledge of the language and short acquaintance with the people and their customs, we can not hope for awhile for much increase. Notwithstanding this, however, the Sunday-school is gaining, and larger audiences attend the services. There have been two baptisms during the year. During the last month the native Christians have made repairs on the church property amounting to about seventy-five dollars, which expense they bore themselves.

Jovellanos.—Jacob Gonzalez is the evangelist at this out-station. The work is gradually increasing and becoming more solid. He has a good Sunday-school and Children's Society, also a good attendance at his regular services, and has had one baptism. He has opened work in Mostacilla and baptized nine there. He has also visited other points and distributed literature, but has not conducted services yet. Jovellanos is much in need of a house of worship.

Union.—Julio Fuentes, evangelist, has charge of the work at this place. The work is experiencing a good, healthy growth. Union is our most promising point. The Sunday-school is strong and regular, the church services are well attended, and there have been five baptisms. The new church and home are in process of erection, and will admirably meet a great need. Mr. Fuentes conducts Sunday-school and regular services at Manguita, and has had one baptism at that point. The people of Manguita are of a good class and are impressed with the work. They want and sorely need a resident worker. They have a building fund, and hope in a year or two to have a church home. There are fifteen candidates, well instructed, who desire baptism, but because of no natural place and the lack of funds to construct a baptistry, they have been compelled to wait.

There are hundreds of towns which should be entered right now. Delay of a few months means an opportunity lost perhaps forever, so far as our plea is concerned. Educational work is sorely needed in Cuba, and it is felt that until there is an educational work there that our mission can never become a great force. On every side there is a plea for more workers. We have not experienced a great deal of the work, but in this short time we feel that the Father's blessings have been most abundantly showered upon us, for which we give Him grateful thanks and humbly pray that we may be vessels of real usefulness in Cuba.

LAOAG.

Evangelistic Work.—The usual progress has been well sustained. The baptisms reported for the year number 221. Eight evangelists have been on the pay-roll, and others of their own volition have labored in the gospel. Several Bible women have been employed. The missionaries have been much on the road. Thus, in one way and another, the entire field has been reached.

The brethren have displayed a good interest in their bi-annual conventions. Some show much earnestness in the matter, going many miles at no small inconvenience in order to be present. One young man walked forty miles to the last convention. Another journeyed thirty miles in the same way. The life-enriching fellowship of these gatherings is as real as it is in the great home conventions. But the best thing about them is that they are leading the brethren into independence and self-government. Through the convention offerings they are learning greater liberality. In this way they have given $52.45 during the year, using the money for evangelism and to help in chapel building. They look upon this as their missionary work.

In no department have things been more encouraging than in the Bible school and young people's work. The importance of such work increases our gratification. By her efforts in this connection, Miss Siegfried set in motion much more than she knew. Out of her Sunday afternoon class many others have come. In Laoag the average attendance, which is constantly increasing, is now about 800. The young people are untiring in the work of teaching. One young woman teaches four classes every Sunday, regularly reaching more than 150 scholars. A girl of fourteen has three classes, with a total attendance of more than a hundred. Other congregations have taken up with the idea. Thus throughout the district more than 2,000 are under instruction every Lord's Day.

There are three Endeavor Societies. This is another monument to Miss Siegfried. The young people want to be efficient in Christian service. They gladly do anything they are able.

During the year two chapels have been dedicated. Others are being built at Solsona and Nagpartian. The latter is to replace an old building and is the third chapel erected in that town. Two other congregations are making preparations to build.

The needs and opportunities of the field are very many. While the day of extension has not passed, the work should become increasingly intensive. What is done should be done thoroughly. Thus no present need is more urgent than that of teaching. Christian education, both in the broad sense and in that which relates purely to the church and the spiritual life, is grievously needed. We sorely need better trained evangelists. More teaching should be given prior to baptism. The brethren should be instructed in the things which agree with, and the things which differ from, a pure and ideal Christian life. It is hard faithfully to portray the woeful conditions consequent upon inadequate preparation of preachers and insufficient instruction of converts. The Vigan Bible College should eventually meet the situation. But it is a gradual process and involves a period of years. Four Ilocos Norte students are now at the college. Four others are receiving special instruction at Laoag. So also are two young women and four of the nurses. An "institute" was held for one week in March, with an enrollment of fifty-five. This shows the interest of the brethren and their desire to learn more. Twenty-two girls were sent to the institute held during April in Vigan.

Amongst the many open gates none is more apparent than that of dormitory work amongst the Laoag High School students. All missions devote much attention to this form of work. The results of the Vigan dormitory have been most gratifying. There is no better way of securing a leverage on the best material in the country. With a dormitory in Laoag we can conduct a protracted meeting for ten months every year and preach daily to the young men who in a few years will be the leaders in the land, and upon whom depends the character of the new nation which is now in the making. We ought to do something for the girls also. As we survey the situation in its entirety we can say: So little done; so much to do. The harvest is upon us. We need more reapers.

The Medical Work.—The medical work of the Laoag Station has gone forward during the past year with unabated interest. The Sallie Long Read Memorial Hospital was at last finished at an actual cost of $8,379.15, including the lot upon which it stands and an adjoining lot of sufficient dimensions for the physician's residence. Four nurses have been in training constantly during the year. According to arrangements, the two junior girls were sent to Dr. Lemmon in June, and two sophomores received from Dr. Kline about the same time. Since the close of the fiscal year, a graduate nurse from the Philippine General Hospital in Manila has been employed at a salary of twenty-five dollars a month. She becomes our head nurse and will greatly assist, not only in the training of the younger nurses and the general work of the hospital, but also in the extension of the work of the nurses in the native homes.

There were admitted to the hospital during the year ending April 30th, one hundred and ninety-three in-patients. That this number is rapidly increasing, however, is evidenced by the fact that the month of July has had more entries than any three previous months in the history of the hospital. The number of major surgical operations during the year was fifty-one, and of minor operations there were six hundred and twenty-nine.

The dispensary work has been as usual the scene of our largest activities. We have had three helpers all the time in this work, one of whom has the degrees of both "Ministering Dentist" and "Ministering Surgeon." As "Ministering Surgeon" he works entirely under our direction, and his work is included in our reports. As "Ministering Dentist," with the exception of the extraction of teeth, he works for himself on his own responsibility, and his dental work is not included in these reports. The total number of dispensary treatments for the year amounted to eighteen thousand, three hundred and fifty-seven. Eighty-seven visits were made to outside villages, and there were three hundred and fifty-two professional visits made to the homes of the sick in the city of Laoag.

The income from the hospital and dispensary work has just about maintained its own in previous years, amounting in all to $3,631.14. The expenses, however, have materially increased on account of the nurses' training work undertaken on a more definite and extensive scale. The close of the year therefore found us in debt something over $600. We rejoice, however, to report that the Philippine Assembly, at its last session, knowing of the work we are doing, included us in their list of institutions needing public assistance and voted us $3,000 for the purpose of helping care for the poor. The amount is now coming in regular monthly installments, though none of it had been received at the time of the closing of our books for the fiscal year.

Numerous gifts have been received, both from friends here and in the Station, to apply toward the furnishing and equipment of the hospital, for all of which we are very grateful. The outlook and outcome of the medical work was never more promising than at present. Hundreds of tracts and Gospels are being distributed, a daily service is held with the patients, and the Father's blessing seems to be upon our work continually, for all of which we thank God and take courage.

VIGAN.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hanna write:

"We rejoice and give thanks to God that we are able to report a year of development and growth in the Vigan Station. With the exception of about four weeks, which period covers an operation on Mrs. Hanna and her recovery, we have been on duty all the time. Our growing family demands the constant attention of Mrs. Hanna. Aside from having conducted a kindergarten for the children of the mission, and having given daily lessons to Gordon, Mrs. Hanna has kept the financial accounts of the Station.

"The results of the evangelistic work have not been as large as in some former years, but it is probable that the permanent results will be larger. One hundred and ninety-eight souls have been chronicled, and a net gain of one hundred and eighty. The new movements in the Islands are responsible for many removals, so out of a total of more than thirteen hundred baptisms the churches report only about seven hundred as faithful members. There are many more, but they have gone into new territory, and once in a while we hear of some one at work in a new place. Our self-supporting churches do not maintain a pastor, but they carry on the regular work of the church without any financial aid and only occasional visits from evangelists and missionaries. One church is helping a boy through Bible College; others have boarded a preacher or Bible woman for a time. There have been two new churches established among the Ilocanos and three congregations among the Itnegs, but the latter are unable to care for themselves and hold a meeting alone. The hearts of the brethren in Albuquerque, New Mexico, should be cheered by this news of the turning of the pagans to the Lord. No new chapels have been built during the year, but steps toward several have been taken. The semi-annual conventions are proving to be very helpful to the churches, and independence and resourcefulness are being developed.

"Our native force has consisted of six evangelists, three Bible women (two served only a few months), and three students from the Bible College. Some of the best work has been done by a brother who supported himself in part by tailoring and received no help from the mission. The papal opposition to the gospel work has been constant and unscrupulous, but our helper is the Lord. The method of paying children to go to catechetical schools and pledging them not to go to any Protestant meetings or read any literature makes it difficult to get hold of children, but our Sunday-school work developed in spite of it. The young women manifested great interest in their annual Bible institute, more than fifty being in classes, and a permanent school for them is sorely needed.

"The Press.—The press has employed five and sometimes six men in its rooms. The regular weekly issues of the Dalan ti Cappia have been made and about three hundred new subscribers have been added to our list, making the number now over 2,350. The Philippine Christian has been issued monthly, and many words of appreciation have been received from the readers. Many thousands of tracts have been issued, and forms for our mission work and the hospitals have been supplied. Our job department has been kept busy. The annual of the Vigan High School was issued from our press. We have established a book department which promises to be well patronized."

Dormitory at Bible College.—On April 10, 1913, a reinforced concrete building, which cost over $10,000, was completed for the use of the dormitory and Bible College. The new building was immediately occupied by forty-five young women who attended a Bible institute over which Miss Siegfried presided. A few days after the close of this institute the sessions of the government schools and the Bible College began.

The total enrollment in the dormitory for the 1913-1914 school session was forty. This number includes the Bible College students who lived in the dormitory, but does not include a number of day boarders. The number of boarders was not as great as had been expected. A disastrous storm, which wrought fearful damage in the district from which we chiefly draw our constituency, prevented several young men from continuing their studies. Unfortunately also several left school during the year, most of them to enter the government service.

However, 1913-1914 ranks as one of the best years in the history of the Vigan dormitory. Never before have we had a body of students of so high rank in the high school, or of so much influence among their fellows. One of our most forceful young men was president and valedictorian of the senior class in the high school. He had been with us three and a half years, but though a strong Protestant, he did not surrender to Christ until after the completion of his high school course. Ten young men were baptized into Christ during the year, and at the close of the school session only three of the inmates were not members of the church, and one of these was the young man mentioned above, who was baptized a few weeks later.

A new departure has been made in the Bible College. Formerly classes were only held for students in the government schools, but beginning with June 14, 1913, full courses were begun for those giving their whole time to preparing themselves for Christian work. The course outlined covers four sessions of six months each. The student spends six months of the year in college and six months in the field.

The total enrollment for 1913 was fifteen. Of this number two were nurses in the hospital who were only able to take a small amount of work. Only eight completed the first year's course. During the six months from December 11, 1913, to June 15, 1914, these eight young people were actively at work as teachers and preachers in five different provinces and had excellent results.

As soon as the public schools closed, a Bible institute for young women was opened. This continued for a month and had an attendance of fifty-five. In point of attendance this is the best in the history of our Ilocano work. After the girls' institute the dormitory was thrown open for the use of young men attending a teachers' institute in connection with the public schools, and nearly thirty of them spent from four to seven weeks with us. Since April 10, 1913, there have only been a few days when our building has not been occupied by a company of young men or young women.

In conclusion, the principal of the Bible College and the matron of the dormitory (Mr. and Mrs. McCallum) wish to express their gratitude for a comfortable home which has just been completed on the college grounds, and which they are sure will have a beneficial effect on their health and will increase their usefulness.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Kline report:

"Hospital.—For the year ending April 30, 1914, there were admitted to the beds two hundred and twenty-two patients. We had one hundred and twenty-six major operations. This number embraced quite a variety of surgery. No record was kept of the minor operations, the same being entered as surgical treatments. We had three hundred and seventy-seven visits to the sick in Vigan.

"Many visits have been scheduled for distant towns, but you can imagine the difficulties encountered in running a one-man hospital. In spite of this, however, sixty-four such trips were made. There were altogether ten thousand, three hundred and eighty treatments for the year. These embrace minor surgery, surgical redressings, and consultations. We fill our own prescriptions. Luckily we have had neither plague nor cholera.

"Religious services are held twice a day in the hospital. We have seven in the school of nurses, four second year and three first year. Two have been transferred here from Manila to continue their training, and two of the Vigan Hospital nurses in like manner have been sent to Laoag.

"We wish to thank our kind friends in America who were so generous to us during the past year. May God bless their efforts, and may the eyes of others be opened to the sad spectacle of these people!

"We need an equipment to push our work better. The government stands ready to help us make it self-supporting as soon as we do our part. Our present quarters are extremely dangerous. I am writing this report in bed, the result of the fact that our place is literally surrounded by a swamp during the rainy season.

"The work in the hospital has been made possible by the assistance of Manuel Macatiag, my native helper. He received his training under Doctor Burdette in Manila. He is supported by two ladies of the Central Christian Church, Houston, Texas, which church is also our Living-link. There is a fine opportunity here for a woman doctor to do work among the women and children. What to do with the tubercular is an ever-present problem. Tuberculosis is a frightful disease with these people."

APARRI.

This station, which at writing can only boast of a missionary doctor and family under appointment, has done well during the year. Three evangelists have been employed through the year, another for two months, and two Bible College students for five months. The total number of additions has been one hundred and seventy-eight. Liberal contributions were made by the church in Aparri for the improvement of their building. The churches nearly all took two offerings for chapel building and evangelistic work.

W. H. Hanna made a five weeks' visit among the churches in the month of March, going into Nueva Vizcaya. The people were found walking in the fear of the Lord, and souls are being added to them. One new chapel was concluded, and materials for two others were gathered. Three more are projected.

The news that a doctor is to be located in Aparri has filled all hearts with great joy. A project and promise of years' standing is on the eve of fulfillment. The Cagayan Valley has claimed quite a few of our members from the two Ilocos provinces, and if they can only be set to work several new churches will be established during the year.

MANILA.

Dr. and Mrs. W. N. Lemmon write:

"The year of 1913-1914 has closed with advances in the work. During the early months of the year notice was received that Miss Mary Chiles, of Independence, Mo., was giving funds to purchase the much-needed hospital. The money was expended in buying 2,444 square meters of land and a large Spanish house. The house was remodeled to suit our needs, requiring eight months to bring system out of chaos. Hope is revived, and grateful acknowledgments are given to Miss Chiles. May God bless her and the institution she has erected!

"During the last Philippines convention the directors of three hospitals arranged a course of instruction correlating our institutions, increasing the efficiency of nurses and assistants, an exchange being made each year. The first class begun three and a half years ago will graduate soon. We are fortunate in securing the free services of four doctors who assist us in instructing the nurses. After moving into the new quarters definite religious work was begun. Each morning a chapel service is held at which all who can, attend. The singing is heard by those who can not attend, and they are beginning to investigate the cause. Several have made the confession in the past three months. Recently two Chinamen, one of whom I have labored with for two years, confessed their faith in the Lord; heretofore they would not listen. Besides the morning service, the communion is observed each Lord's Day. A Sunday-school class is taught by one of the evangelists to children from the streets. This was begun upon their request and grows steadily. Two midweek classes are taught, one by Brother Kershner, the other by myself. In all eleven religious services are held each week and the Spirit is being manifested in the lives of our force. In the wards Bibles and tracts are given to all who can read; those who can not are told the 'Good News.'

"The year, with all its interruptions, closes with the following: 238 operations, 13 of which were major; 22 visits to outside towns and villages; 404 visits in the city; 147 in-patients, and a total of nine thousand, two hundred and seventy-six persons consulted and treated.

"All of which is submitted in the name of the Master and for his Kingdom."

ENGLAND.

The following report is submitted in behalf of the work of the past year in England, carried on under the auspices of the Foreign Christian Missionary Society:

I. Executive Report.

The year does not show quite such good results financially as during some previous years; but while the amounts raised for local expense, building funds, and Home Missions show a decrease, the gifts for Foreign Missions show an increase over the previous year of thirty-five per cent. There has been a net decrease in membership, after having recorded an increase during the two previous years. No regular evangelist was employed, and only two or three of the churches had a series of services. The heaviest losses for the past year have taken place in those churches which had the largest number of accessions in recent years by means of evangelistic services. It is difficult to hold those who come into the church at such times without having been in touch with the church previously. A considerable quantity of literature has been circulated, and the Christian Monthly, edited by the general secretary, has been circulated fairly widely. We have taken our place, either as individuals or as representatives of our churches, in all of the various movements looking toward Christian union, such as the proposed World Conference on Faith and Order (we were the first people in this country to appoint a commission), the Free Church Enquiry Commission, the Swanwick Free Church Fellowship, etc. We have greatly appreciated the visits of certain American brethren during the year, including Peter Ainslie (twice), A. E. Cory, M. M. Ammunson, C. J. Robertson, and others. It is with gratitude we register our appreciation of the help rendered to the work by the Foreign Christian Missionary Society, and we desire to prove ourselves worthy, so far as we are able, of the love and confidence of our brethren.

II. The Work in the Various Churches.

The following summary of the present conditions and the future prospects of the work in the various fields has been gleaned from local reports which have been supplied:

At Birkenhead appreciation is expressed that Richard Dobson has become pastor, having returned to England after several years' absence in America. They have added a small amount to their building fund and hope in the course of time to have a new church. At Cheltenham Robert Reith served the church for a short period as evangelist upon his return from a brief pastorate in America, and afterward continued as pastor. There have been frequent additions to the church, and the financial position has improved. Thomas Coleman, one of the members of the Chester Church, served as temporary pastor during part of the year to tide over a critical period. Previous to this there had been a division in the church through reactionary influences and another cause was started. Unfortunately the breach remains unhealed, and the church is also now without a pastor. Much good work is being done, however. The Fulham Church, London, S. W., still retains the services of Eli Brearley, who is in the thirteenth year of his pastorate. They have had a better financial year than for some time, and the auxiliaries of the church are in good condition. Appreciation is expressed for the series of evangelistic services conducted by C. J. Robertson, of Illinois. At Gloucester E. H. Spring still ministers where he has been for nearly a quarter of a century. The report states that the church is at peace and full of hope. The Hornsey Church, London, N., where Leslie W. Morgan is just beginning his tenth year, has lost heavily in membership by removals during the past year, and the financial burdens have been somewhat heavy. Repayments to the Building Loan Society of the building debt require the church to raise five hundred dollars a year. This obligation has been met, and from year to year the building debt has been reduced. Chas. Traxler, of Akron, Ohio, formerly at Hornsey, who made the new building possible, kindly continues to render valuable financial assistance. Thomas Symons still does the work at Ingleton. There is no great prospect for growth in this little village, but the few members are faithful and do a good work among the children. At Lancaster they were without a pastor during the greater part of the year, but are now served by Wm. Price, who left England some years ago for Eureka, serving also for some years as pastor at Peoria, Ill. The church is rejoicing in this new relationship and is progressing. In the report from Empire Street, Liverpool, where Thomas Carr leads the work, special mention is made of their Christian Endeavor and Sunday-school and Temperance Society. They are doing a good work amongst a working class population. At Potter Street, Liverpool, W. H. Archer conducts a work amongst the "down and out," and can relate many interesting experiences of their redemption. Upper Parliament Street, Liverpool, has had frequent changes in the pastorate during the past few years. G. E. Ireland served for a short period during this year, but had to return to America on account of his health. The church is now hopeful of the future, with Albert Hales as pastor, an Englishman, who has resided in America for some years, who has promised to remain with them for at least three years. Arthur Price, the founder of the church at Neston, continues to serve as pastor. Special mention is made in their report of the emphasis placed on Bible study and of the methods used for deepening the spiritual life. By the self-sacrifice of pastor and members, they are paying off the indebtedness of their church with considerable rapidity. The church at Saltney has no pastor and has not had for several years. They seem better able perhaps than any other of our churches to go on with such help as they are able to get from neighboring churches. They have almost completed the payment of their building debt, and the next step planned is a new Sunday-school building. The joint pastorate at Southampton was concluded in July of last year, and F. Phillips became sole pastor. Additions to the church have been frequent and regular. A new heating apparatus has been installed, and the church debt reduced by two hundred and fifty dollars. A new missionary interest is reported, and meetings for Bible study and prayer are well attended. T. S. Buckingham has started a new church at Woolston, Southampton, and a fairly good company of members has been gathered together, including twenty-three who were transferred from the Southampton Church. G. W. Buckner continues to serve the Southport Church. The auxiliaries are reported as faithful and efficient, and hope is expressed concerning the future. There are indications of a deeper devotion on the part of the members. Wimbledon Park, London, S. W., still has the services of Henry Stafford, who acts as honorary pastor in the time in which he can spare from business. They support their own work entirely, and are gradually adding to their building fund. They have a number of members who are efficient in conducting services, and assistance is occasionally given from our other churches in London.

ANNUITY FUND.

The rapid growth of the Annuity Fund of the Foreign Christian Missionary Society is a striking testimony to the favor with which the plan is regarded by the intelligent men and women who are friends of Foreign Missions.

The Plan.

The Society receives gifts of $100 or more and binds itself by a bond to pay the donors, so long as they shall live, a fair rate of interest. The interest depends upon the age of the donor, and is paid semi-annually. There is no expense for repairs or taxes. At the last the money goes for the advancement of the gospel in all the earth.

Great Advantages.

The advantages of the Annuity Plan to the Foreign Society are obvious.

We repeat a few advantages to the donors:

1. Certainty of Income.—In the judgment of many of our best business men, the character and standing of the Foreign Society makes its bond as safe a guarantee as Government bonds. The interest paid is larger.

2. Permanence.—Most investments are liable to expire within a few years, or to change in value. Reinvestments are often perplexing, and safe and satisfactory ones are difficult to secure. All uncertainties and perplexities of this kind are avoided by the Annuity Plan. The interest is promptly paid when due.

3. Money Does Good.—Money placed in the Annuity Fund begins its usefulness at once, and it goes on repeating itself in blessings for all the years to come.

4. Avoid Cost and Delay.—After death there is no cost or delay of settlement of this part of an estate. You have enjoyed a life income, and the money is now the property of the Foreign Society to carry on the Lord's work. There is no expense or litigation in the settlement of the estate.

As An Investment.

The plan commends itself not only to those who are actually depending upon the income which they receive, but it is also an attractive investment for those who have abundant means, and who desire to make safe and permanent investments. Well-to-do people, having looked about for new investments, have in a number of cases decided to invest several thousand dollars in this way. All such investors can rejoice in knowing that the money will go to objects which are dear to all Christian hearts.

The whole amount raised from the first is $556,484.13.

For further information, correspond with

F. M. RAINS, Secretary, Box 884, Cincinnati, Ohio.

BEQUESTS.

In thirty-seven years the Foreign Christian Missionary Society has received from bequests the sum of $163,023.38. Some of the larger societies receive that much every year. Bequests amounting to a million or more have been made. One amounted to five million. More people possessed of money or property should be arranging to give a part or all to the Lord's work. They may need their means now in their business or to support themselves. On this account they may not be able to give now as generously as they desire. But they should take such steps as are necessary that their estates may go on doing good for all time to come. Mrs. Tubman bequeathed $30,000 to the Foreign Society; Albert Allen, $10,000; Dr. Gerould, $9,000; Timothy Coop, $5,000; Mrs. Lathrop Cooley, $5,000; others have given smaller amounts. These bequests have been of untold value to the Society in its work.

Christian people often leave their property to those who have an abundance of their own. God can hardly look with favor on such a bestowment, with the present great need of the world. Many invest in earthly monuments. The best and most lasting monument is not of granite or marble, but of perpetuated good deeds. Some people make no provision whatever for their property before death, thus leaving a great power for good unused and undirected by themselves.

A thousand millions of people are yet without the gospel. God has intrusted to us the evangelization of the world. As Jesus Christ becomes a blessing to us, we must pass the blessing on. What is necessary for one man is necessary for a world of men. Money is the medium for carrying the message. Money will do more now for the spread of the gospel in heathen lands than ever before. Never before has the opportunity been so great, or the responsibility so heavy. Why not execute your will so that the money will go on preaching the gospel through the future years? How shall Christ's stewards, to whom much has been given, render a good account of their stewardship? How shall they make their memory precious and fragrant long after they have passed from earth? Monuments of wood and stone crumble to dust; but the Kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, into which we build, shall endure to the glory and honor of his name when time shall be no more.

FORM OF BEQUEST.

I also give and bequeath to the Foreign Christian Missionary Society, a corporation existing under the laws of the State of Ohio, the sum of $.....

for the purposes of the Society, as specified in the Act of Incorporation. And I hereby direct my executor (or executors) to pay said sum to the Treasurer of said Society, taking his receipt therefor, within months of my decease.

I also give, bequeath, and devise to the Foreign Christian Missionary Society one certain lot of land with the building thereon standing (here describe the premises with exactness and particularity) to be held and possessed by the said Society, their successors and assigns forever, for the purposes specified in the Act of Incorporation.

All the rest and residue of my estate, of whatever form or character, I give, devise, and bequeath to

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand this day of, 191..

Signed.....

(Here sign your name in the presence of three witnesses. None of the witnesses should be interested in the will.)
